George F. Morris Shot to Death Jennie B. Spaulding

Story of the Crime by Eye Witnesses—Career of the Dead Woman a Checkered One—Morris Tried to Commit Suicide at Police Station—He Has a Wife and Daughter at Laconia, N. H., to Whom He Will Give His Money if Made to Pay Death Penalty

BECAUSE HE ALLOWED A DRUNKEN WOMAN TO EMBRACE HIM IN A SALOON, MRS. JENNIE SPAULDING UPBRAIDED GEORGE F. MORRIS, WITH WHOM SHE HAD LIVED FOR MORE THAN A YEAR, AND MORRIS, HIS ANGER INCREASED BECAUSE OF HIS NERVOUS CONDITION DUE TO A PROTRACTED SPREE, SHOT JENNIE SPAULDING DEAD.

THE SHOOTING OCCURRED AT THE NORTHERN DEPOT AT ABOUT 5.20 O'CLOCK YESTERDAY AFTERNOON AND WHILE THE DEPOT WAS CROWDED WITH PASSENGERS. A WOMAN WHO WAS NEAR MRS. SPAULDING WHEN THE FATAL SHOTS WERE FIRED HAD A NARROW ESCAPE AND FAINTED ON A TRUCK ON THE PLATFORM AFTER LEAVING THE WAITING ROOM.

WHILE HIS VICTIM WAS BREATHING HER LAST ON THE WAITING ROOM FLOOR MORRIS TURNED THE REVOLVER UPON HIMSELF, BUT THE FIFTH CHAMBER WAS EMPTY. HE FIRED FOUR SHOTS INTO THE WOMAN'S BODY.

IN A CELL AT THE POLICE STATION LAST EVENING MORRIS, ON THE VERGE OF COLLAPSE, BIT HIMSELF SAVAGELY ON THE WRIST AND HAD ALMOST SEVERED AN ARTERY BEFORE BEING DETECTED. MORRIS' HAND WAS DRESSED AND AN OFFICER TOOK UP HIS POSITION AT THE CELL DOOR IN ORDER TO PREVENT FURTHER ATTEMPT, ON THE PART OF MORRIS, AT SELF DESTRUCTION.

MORRIS AND THE WOMAN WHOM HE MURDERED HAD LIVED TOGETHER IN NORTH CHELMSFORD AND HAD RETURNED FROM A VISIT TO CONEY ISLAND WHERE THEY HAD BEEN HAVING A GAY TIME. MORRIS HAD MORE THAN $1700 IN HIS POSSESSION WHEN THE PAIR LEFT NORTH CHELMSFORD FOR CONEY ISLAND AND WHEN SEARCHED AT THE POLICE STATION LAST EVENING $1062 WAS FOUND IN HIS POSSESSION...WHEN ASKED WHERE HE GOT SO MUCH MONEY HE SAID HE DIDN'T KNOW. A PERSONAL FRIEND OF MORRIS' STATED LAST EVENING THAT THE LATTER HAD BEEN LEFT ABOUT $2000 BY A RELATIVE WHO DIED A FEW MONTHS AGO.

THE EXCITEMENT AT THE RAILROAD STATION WHEN THE SHOOTING OCCURRED WAS SUCH AS TO BE REMEMBERED BY THOSE WHO WITNESSED IT FOR THE REST OF THEIR NATURAL LIVES. MORRIS WAS ARRESTED BY LIEUTENANT JAMES E. WEBSTER, WHO GRABBED HIM ABOUT THE NECK FROM BEHIND, AND CHOKED HIM UNTIL HE DROPPED TO HIS KNEES ON THE FLOOR, DROPPING THE REVOLVER AS HE WENT DOWN. OFFICER PETER CAWLEY WENT TO LIEUTENANT WEBSTER'S ASSISTANCE. MORRIS WAS HANDCUFFED AND TAKEN TO THE STATION. HE WAS IN A DAZED CONDITION AND DID NOT SEEM TO REALIZE WHAT HAD TAKEN PLACE.

AS THE OFFICER'S GRASP TIGHTENED ON HIS WINDPIPE, MORRIS DROPPED THE REVOLVER AND LAWYER WRIGHT OF BOSTON PICKED IT UP AS IT FELL AND BROUGHT IT TO THE SUN OFFICE.

MORRIS BEGGED THE OFFICERS TO SHOOT HIM. HE SAID HE WANTED TO DIE, BUT HE DID NOT MANIFEST ANY GREAT DEGREE OF EXCITEMENT.

THE SHOOTING

MURDER SCENE IN NORTH STATION.

Morris is 47 years old and Jennie Spaulding was in her 29th year. It was in a saloon in South street that the kissing which made Mrs. Spaulding jealous occurred. When the couple entered they were ushered into a room where parties were drinking, and one of them, a young woman partially intoxicated, threw her arms about Morris' neck and kissed him. She sat on his knee and said, several times, to Jennie Spaulding: "You're not jealous, are you?" Mrs. Spauldin did not show her jealousy there, but she took Morris to task, severely, on the way to the depot, and Morris said she exasperated him so that he lost his temper and his head as well. He said they had arranged to go to Maynard, but because of what happened in the saloon she refused to go. A woman who was in their company in the saloon said that Jennie Spaulding asked Morris why he didn't put his money in the bank instead of carrying it about in his pocket. He made an evasive answer and she said: "I suppose you are in readiness to go back to your wife and children in Laconia, N. H. Small loss, go ahead."

On the way to the railroad station from the saloon in South street, Morris and Jennie Spaulding called at Parker's lunch room in Middlesex street. The young lady who waited on them was seen by a representative of The Sun this forenoon. She said they were in the habit of taking their meals there when in Lowell and she knew them both.

REFUSED TO GO TO MAYNARD.

"They did not have any argument here," she said. "They seemed to be on friendly terms, but Jennie did say she would not go to Maynard with Morris." After they left the restaurant however, they engaged in loud words and when they arrived at the depot he went into the men's toilet room and when he returned he opened fire on his victim.

SHOT FROM BEHIND WOMAN.

She was sitting on the second settee in front of the Conway Transfer office with her back to the office and to the door through which Morris entered. He walked up behind her, leaned over, said something and fired two shots. She got up, ran across the room to within a few feet of the telephone desk where the operator, Miss McKittrick was sitting. Eugene S. Hylan was sitting on a settee near the telephone desk and Jennie Spaulding, with outstretched hands, said: "For God sake save me!" With these words she sank to the floor and Mr. Hylan, upon turning around, looked into the muzzle of Morris' revolver. Mr. Hylan went out of the depot for the purpose of summoning an officer, but Lieut. Webster was coming in one door when Mr. Hylan was going out another.

The lieutenant grabbed Morris and put him down. In the meantime Dr. C. Bbret Pool had been summoned and arrived in the depot just as the arrest was being made. The doctor examined the woman who was lying with her head near the middle entrance to Middlesex street. He left of her pulse and turning to the officer, said: "She has only a few more seconds to live," and even as he spoke the last flutter of the heart was felt and the life went out from Jennie Spaulding's body. The ambulance arrived and the body was removed to St. John's hospital where the ambulance driver was told that the woman was dead. The body was then taken to the warerooms of Undertaker Young on Prescott street.

EYE WITNESS

TELLS STORY OF THE TRAGEDY.

The story of the tragedy is told very plainly by Miss McKittrick, the telephone operator. She told the following story to a representative of The Sun today: "I did not see the woman when she entered the waiting room but I saw the man when he approached her from behind. He leaned over as if to speak to her and then two reports rang out. She came toward my desk screaming for help. Mr. Hylan was sitting on a settee near the desk and she sank on her knees in front of him. Morris pointed the revolver at Mr. Hylan and the latter went out to summon an officer.

TURNED REVOLVER ON HIMSELF.

"The woman was then stretched upon the floor and Morris, leaning over her, fired two more shots into her body. Then he stood up and turned the revolver upon himself but it didn't go off. I heard it snap four times. While Morris was endeavoring to shoot himself, Lieut. Webster stepped up behind him, grabbed him and put him down. The revolver fell from Morris' grasp as he went down beneath the superior strength of the officer.

"Officer Peter Cawley went to Lieut. Webster's assistance and Morris was handcuffed. There were not more than five people in the waiting room when the arrest was made. I never saw people leave a room so quickly. I did not see any one jumping over benches to get at the man who did the shooting. I was the nearest to him, I think, when the arrest was made."

"Why didn't you leave the room?" asked the reporter.

"I don't know why I didn't leave the room. I don't know why I didn't leave. The thought didn't occur to me; I saw others running, but I remained in my seat. One experience of the kind, however, is enough for me."

MRS. JENNIE SPAULDING, THE MURDERED WOMAN.

OF JENNIE McNAUGHTON TELLS OF HER CAREER.

John F. Spaulding, the divorced husband of the victim of yesterday's shooting, was seen by a representative of The Sun in Mr. Spaulding's cosy home in Howard street last night. Mr. Spaulding is a fine looking man and has the reputation of being unusually good natured. People who know him and knew what he had t ocontend with while living at North Chelmsford, say he stood more than the great majority of men would stand.

"You heard of the tragedy at the depot, I presume?" said the reporter to Mr. Spaulding.

"Yes; poor girl; it was a sad ending or a ruined life. Hold her when I left her, after I had suffered her as long as I could, that she would come to a bad end, and I was not surprised to hear what happened.

"Poor girl, she was her own worst enemy, and while she caused me a great deal of pain she had my forgiveness. I LIVED WITH HER ELEVEN YEARS. TWO YEARS WERE BLESSED WITH HAPPINESS AND THE OTHER NINE WERE HELL ON EARTH. ONLY GOD AND MYSELF KNOW WHAT I SUFFERED.

"We were married in Westford. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Rowley. Her maiden names was Jennie McNaughton and she was twenty-two years old when I married her. She was fair to look upon and smart as a whip. She came to this country with her parents from Scotland. She was then a mere child and the family settled in Tyngsboro where she and her sisters were reared.

"Jennie was employed in Graniteville mill when I first met her. I built a home in Canal street, North Chelmsford, and for two years we were both very happy. Time and time again I took her back after she had been on a spree with low associates. I think her first escapade after she was married was in Westford. I did everything I could think of to call her back to the right way and as often did she promise to reform. Her father came to live with us and died at my house. On his dying bed he told Jennie she was not using me right and begged of her to do better. She promised him that she would, but she grew worse instead of better.

"I could see the end in view and I was almost broken-hearted. Night after night until midnight and after I had worked on our little home and when I had made it cosy I discovered a thorn in my flesh, the thorn was Jennie. After protracted sprees I nursed her back to health and she would be all right for a few weeks and then away she would go.

"There is a limit to human endurance and patience ceased to be a virtue. I could no longer live with her, and I came to Lowell. I lived at the Richardson hotel for nineteen months. She called there several times but I refused to see her. I engaged Judge Fisher to get a divorce for me and I succeeded in getting it. That was in the fall of 1903. I had married her in 1889. I did not want to turn her out of house and home when I left her and because of that fact I gave her the house that I had built in North Chelmsford.

SHE FEARED MURDER

Victim Intended to Have Morris Arrested

Had Consulted Lawyer in Relation to It But Failed to Carry Out Intention—Morris is Held Without Bail on Charge of Murder—"Maggie Burke" Got Two Months in Jail and Made Scene in Police Court

Had Jennie Spaulding gone to her lawyer yesterday as she intended to do when last she saw him, on last Friday, she would have been alive today, while in all probability her slayer would have been before police court this morning on a charge of threatening her life and would have been placed under bonds to keep the peace.

But unfortunately the poor woman possessed the weaker mind of the two and after consulting her attorney she returned to the man of whom she had become afraid and listening to his threats or pleadings was induced to accompany him yesterday with the tragic result as is elsewhere reported.

On last Friday Mrs. Morris or Spaulding visited the office of a well known local attorney and informed him that she desired to have her marriage formally annulled and would probably swear out a warrant against him for threatening.

She stated that when she married Morris she did not know that he had a wife living. They were married in Lawrence by Duncan Woof, a justice of the peace. Afterward she found out that not only was Morris married but he made frequent references to his wife.

She stated that she owned some property in North Chelmsford over which she and Morris had had frequent disputes. At one time she said that Morris insisted that she order out the tenant who was living in the house at the time that they might go there to live and then later did not want to live there. She asked her counsel if it would be all right for her to go there and live and he promised to look up the title of the house and ascertain just how the deed read as she said that it was given to her by her former husband at the time that the divorce proceedings took place.

But she stated further that Morris had threatened to kill her and she made inquiries as to whether he could get possession of the property in the event of anything happening to her. The lawyer advised her to institute court proceedings for threatening at once and also to have her marriage formally annulled on account of its illegality. She was agreeable to the proposition to have the marriage annulled but on the matter of having Morris arrested right away for threatening she hesitated and upon leaving the office stated that she would return on Monday or Tuesday. Yesterday the lawyer recalled her first visit and expected her in all day. When at night he learned of the tragedy he made known the fact of her visit last week.

Superintendent Moffatt is satisfied upon hearing all the facts leading up to the tragedy and a few subsequent thereto, that Morris premeditated the murder but intended to shoot himself immediately after killing the woman. The revolver with which he shot her was not recently purchased but was one that he bought in Boston when he drew his money from three banks in that city where it had been on deposit. At that time he purchased the revolver and since then has been carrying both money and revolver around with him. In the lapse of time he forgot that there were only four bullets in the revolver as hence yesterday after firing four shots at his wife turned the revolver to his own head expecting to kill himself with the final bullet. He also stated to Superintendent Moffatt that he had previously contemplated suicide.

MORRIS ARRAIGNED IN COURT.

Not since the appearance of the Vaughn brothers in police court has there been such a large attendance in police court as that which took up every available inch of room in the dreary court room this morning when it was expected that George F. Morris would be arraigned for murder and Maggie Burke, alias Feuntis, for drunkenness, the latter being the woman who was with Morris and the Spaulding woman in the South street barroom. Shortly after the prisoners filed into the court the woman was brought up and after they had been taken down Morris was led up by Officer Duncan. He walked unsteadily and appeared to be undergoining great mental suffering. Upon entering the cage he sank into a seat and buried his head in his hands, in which position he remained until called to listen to the reading of the complaint. His left wrist was bandaged as the result of his unsuccessful suicidal attempt to open the artery of his wrist in his cell last night. He was pale and his eyes rolled about, giving an indication of severe mental strain. His hands trembled as they rested on the rail. He shook his head back and forth slightly as the clerk read the lengthy complaint and as Clerk Trull pronounced the ominous words "did kill and murder," bowed his head.

When asked to plead he said "Not guilty," in almost a whisper, and the clerk, not hearing him, repeated the question. He answered again, slightly louder the second time. He was then fully committed until next Wednesday, when he will have a preliminary hearing. He was then returned to a cell to await removal to jail, where he will be confined until next Wednesday.

When asked down stairs if he cared to choose counsel, he replied that he desired no counsel, but counsel undoubtedly will be assigned by the court.

MRS. FEUNTIS SENTENCED.

The woman who figures so prominently in the case was charged with drunkenness and it was her second offence. She was arrested about 12.45 o'clock this morning by Officer Ellis Breault at the corner of Middlesex street and King street. At that time she said that she lived in King street, but this morning said that her name was not Maggie Burke, as she is sometimes known, but Maggie J. Martin Feuntis. She said she was married to a travelling salesman in Manchester, N. H., but that he was not around here now. She claimed to room in Central street but did not know the number. She stated that she had not been working for some time past and had been on a spree. She did not know of the murder until this morning, and when

THE FUMIGATOR

Spencer Brown Tells About His Work

How would you like to be the fumigator?

This has been a very hard summer for the man who fumigates officially. His name is Spencer Brown and he has been connected with the health department for the last 12 years.

Mr. Brown has had some close calls while fumigating houses and while he is not overburdened with flesh he says that his health is good. He is subject to headaches, but that is due entirely to the fumes of the disinfectants that he uses. A person unaccustomed to the work could not stand what Mr. Brown stands.

This forenoon he gathered his guns and the rest of his fumigating apparatus including a generator and fumigated a house in Meadowcroft street, where a person had died of consumption. Although he exercised what he considered necessary caution he was almost overcome and when he returned to the health department stables he was not feeling inclined to do much talking. He had remained too long in the room where he was fumigating.

When he first started in the business of fumigating Mr. Brown had some pretty close calls and while he no longer fears for himself he is constantly in dread that persons in a house that he is fumigating may suffer.

"You have to keep your mind on your work all the time," said Mr. Brown. "You cannot afford to depend on anybody's word. I have known people in tenement houses whose apartments were being fumigated to tell us that the upstairs tenement was vacant. I always investigate, however, and by so doing we save lots of trouble. I have in mind a case of an old lady who was in an attic room and the people on the lower floor told me there wasn't anybody living up stairs.

"I went up stairs and found the old lady. If I had proceeded to fumigate that house I would have killed her. There are a great many things to guard against. When I enter a room I first turn the window fasteners so that I can throw the window up at short notice. In order to open the window while the fumes of the disinfectant are in the room we have to crawl on our hands and knees. I found it pretty hard when I first started but I don't mind it now. I have had some pretty close calls and have run up against some pretty funny people, yet, I rather enjoy it. It is more or less interesting and there is a certain fascination about it that I can't explain. The process of fumigation for different diseases is about the same. It may differ a little but not much. We have everything that is supposed to be up-to-date for our line of work and I think we do a pretty good job.

"Despite the fact that there is lots of opportunity for accident to persons while fumigating dwelling houses yet the city has never bee called upon to settle any bills on that account. We have been very fortunate. Once in a while we have found the pet cat knocked out under the stove or some secluded spot where she stretched herself and escaped our notice. The apparatus we use is very simple, consisting of a lot of tin cans and a generator, I venture to say, however, that the job is not one everybody would relish."

FOUND FUSE CAP

Michael Grosse Feared Plot to Kill Him

Did some uncouth, unfriendly spirit in Providence, R. I., intend to blow up our musical citizen Michael Grosse? It would appear so from what Michael discovered yesterday, when he opened one of his hurdy-gurdys and found a stick of dynamite. He rushed down to the police station with the stick, and loudly announced that an attempt had been made on his life, because stored within one of his musical boxes was an infernal machine, and he produced the supposed stick of dynamite.

The inspector's room was crowded at the time and the way everyone ducked would do credit to any bunch of professional dodgers. When things quieted down and the terror stricken officers had been reassured that things were not so bad as at first supposed, an investigation was made and it was found that the dynamite was a fuse cap, not so fatal as a stick of dynamite.

It seems that early in the summer Mr. Grosse rented one of his machines to a Providence party. This morning the machine was returned to Mr. Grosse, and when opened the fuse cap was discovered. How it came or for what purpose it was put there nobody seems to know, but the cap now rests quietly over in Derby & Morse's store on Middle street.

ALMOST A PANIC

State Street in Wild Frenzy Over Copper

SUM OF $7,500,000 INVOLVED

Agreement Said to Have Been Violated

BOSTON, Aug. 9—A mystery which for a fortnight has enveloped transactions in Copper Range was exploded, yesterday afternoon, when the American Loan & Trust company, by refusing to transfer certain shares of Copper Range, made public the fact that a corner in that stock, based on pledges to hold 70,000 shares off the market, existed, and the claim is made that the agreement had been broken by the members of the pool holding the stock.

That pool was made up of A. C. Burrage, of the Standard Oil group, and the bitter enemy of Standard Oil, Thomas W. Lawson. Against Lawson and Burrage suits for millions may be brought.

Mr. Lawson last night admitted that those pledges had been broken. He denied, however, that he had broken them, and, strange as it may seem to those who have read his strictures upon Standard Oil folk, he defended Mr. Burrage, too, placing the blame for the apparent breach of faith upon bankers and brokers who held Mr. Burrage's stock as collateral and as margins, those interests exercising their right "to loan the stock as every broker does every day."

There are those who differ with Mr. Lawson—as a matter of fact the "street" yesterday accused the author of Frenzied Finance of treachery, but be that as it may, the culmination of the Copper Range deal found State street very much excited with the prospect of a panic, because of certain houses having sold many thousand more shares than they could deliver without the Lawson-Burrage stock. Failures were imminent if the Lawson-Burrage stock could not be legally transferred. Hurridly the governing committee of the stock exchange was called together to summon and hear both sides of the case and decide. Its decision was that the sellers of the stock were within their rights and the corner and the chances of panic were past.

The scenes that succeeded this decision on the stock exchange and in the corridors where speculators are wont to gather have seldom been equalled, and among the large number of bankers who assembled was Mr. Lawson, whom the "street" held responsible for the entanglement.

To remove the condition thus abruptly brought on by the alleged violation of the agreement between Burrage and Lawson and those in control of Copper Range, Paine, Webber & Co., the governing board went into executive session, and after examining several interested financiers, declared that the stock might be delivered.

In the mean time, on the exchange, fluctuations upon the stock had played a merry jig, and even after the session had closed there was an active cash market for Copper Range.

BOARD OF POLICE.

Common victualler: Mary Keyes, 27 and 29 Robeson street, and Margaret Shaw, 28 Carter street.

BARNEY OLDFIELD

Nearly Killed in an Auto Race

DETROIT, Aug. 9.—Barney Oldfield had an almost miraculous escape from death yesterday at the automobile races at Grosse Pointe track, when Dan Wurgis' machine came into collision with Oldfield's car in the three-quarter stretch, during the first mile of the five-mile event.

Oldfield and his car went through the fence into the infield and Oldfield received a badly lacerated scalp and a severely bruised right arm.

Wurgis' car also went off the track on the outside but did not upset.

Oldfield, Webb Jay, Charles Burman and Dan Wurgis were the entries in the five-mile open, and Jay jumped into the lead at the start, with Oldfield second.

At the three-quarter stretch Wurgis was following Oldfield close to the pole, and Burman was in the middle of the track.

Oldfield's engine suddenly began working badly. When Wurgis discovered that Oldfield's car was slowing down, he was so close that he could not turn out sharply without running into Burman. He shot between Oldfield and Burnham, but did not clear the rear of Barney's car.

There was a crash, and a cloud of dust. Oldfield's machine swerved, and then tore through the fence. The car went 60 feet into the field, and Oldfield was thrown out and rendered unconscious.

Wurgis' car backed almost completely around, and backed off the outside of the track, down into the stable inclosure, where Wurgis stopped it without injury to either the car or himself.

Oldfield lay unconscious in the infield when a dozen horrified spectators reached his side. He was carried to an ambulance, which had been provided in case of accident, and taken to Harper hospital, where it was said last night that, barring unforeseen developments, he will be out in a few days.

TOO MUCH DUST

VARNUM AVENUE FOLK WANT THE STREET WATERED.

Very popular with resident seemingly.

The superintendent of streets is not very popular with residents in Varnum avenue because of the fact that the dust is mountains high and a watering cart is a stranger in the place. The Varnum avenue sewer is the cause of it all. Before work was started on the sewer the street car sprinkler used to do the trick, but the sewer blocked the tracks and now, excepting when it rains, there is nothing to lay the dust.

The taxpayers who are kicking say that there is room enough for a watering cart to pass the sewer and they think Mr. Morse ought to send one up at least once a day. They expect that they will be taxed for street watering and they threaten to kick good and hard when the bills come in. They claim that a watering cart goes back and forth through Riverside street every day and they wonder why they are being discriminated against. There is some talk of appointing a committee to wait on Mr. Morse.

ROYAL ARCANAM.

NEW YORK GRAND COUNCIL OBJECTED TO NEW RATES.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 9.—The New York state grand council of the Royal Arcanum, at a special session here today, passed a resolution instructing its 15 delegates to the coming meeting of the supreme council at Put-in-Bay, Ohio, on Aug. 30, to cast their ballots to rescind the action of the supreme council, which in session at Atlantic City, in May, ordered the rates increased on October 1.

The resolution is practically the same as that passed by the councils of Massachusetts and other states.

TURNED TURTLE

NEW MOTOR BOAT "DEN" MET WITH ACCIDENT.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 9.—While tearing through the water at the rate of 40 miles an hour, the new motor boat "Den," owned and built by young Charles Herreshoff, met with an accident which almost cost the life of Herreshoff's machinist, Frederick Bates. One of the rudder chains parted and the frail craft shot to starboard and turned turtle. Herreshoff and Bates were rescued by men in the launch Alice, which was following the "Den," but Bates was almost exhausted in his efforts to keep afloat. He could not swim and if the Alice had been a moment or two later in reaching the scene of the accident, he doubtless would have been drowned. Young Herreshoff was picked up little the worse for the ducking. The boat was on another speed trial and showed tremendous speed and it is believed she would have beaten her former record. The "Den" righted herself and was towed ashore only slightly damaged.

KILLED A WOMAN

Because She Had Jilted Him

Was Murdered by James Mitchell

GRAFTON, Vt., Aug. 9.—Illicit love of a man for a woman led to a murder in this peaceful little village yesterday afternoon, and the assassin sought escape by hiding, only to fire a bullet into his own head when he realized that a horde of angry townspeople were determined to take him dead or alive and might even lynch him. Lennie May Rankin, 24 years old, was the victim, and the murderer is James Mitchell, 28 years of age. Both belong in Waterbury, Ct., where the murdered woman has a husband living, from whom she was seeking a divorce.

The woman died instantly, but Mitchell is expected to live, as the bullet he fired at himself did not reach the brain; but tore its way across the frontal bone, probably destroying the sight of both eyes. The affair happened about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the woman's brother on Townsend street, where she lived and where Mitchell has been stopping since his arrival in Grafton a week ago. He is a veteran of the Cuban war, a machinist, and his brother is married to a sister of the murdered woman.

At the upper end of the village is a hotel known as the Grafton Inn. This spring when the hotel opened for summer business Mrs. Lennie May Rankin went there to work. Her brother, Dana Murgatroy, lives here with his wife and stepdaughter, a comely young woman named Annie Cope, who worked at the Grafton Inn with Lennie Rankin, both being table girls.

Yesterday morning Lennie declared she would not work any longer at the inn and went to Mr. Rickett for her pay. He urged her not to give up her place, but she persisted. It is surmised she intended to get away from the village to avoid Mitchell. After leaving her work at the hotel Mrs. Rankin spent her time in the parlor of the Murgatroy home, and Mitchell clung to her like a dog to its master.

After dinner Mrs. Murgatory sat in the dining room sewing, while Mitchell and Mrs. Rankin were in the front room, not 10 feet away, the door partly open. Suddenly Lennie cried out, "Don't, don't," and the sound of a pistol shot rang through the house. Mrs. Murgatory rushed toward the front door, when she heard another shot. She ran across the street to the house of M. C. Redfield, crying out, "Lennie is shot, Lennie is shot." Then she fell in a faint on the steps.

Mr. Redfield had been sitting on his piazza and also had heard the shots. He ran to the scene of the murder. Mitchell was not visible, but in her chair, with crimson stains running down her face, was the murdered woman. Mr. Redfield hurried for Constable Rickett at the hotel and the two men shouted for some people on the street to join them and went to the house.

Leaving one of the party to watch the body, Constable Rickett hastened to the hotel for his revolver, and told one of his men to go down the street and ask every man who owned a pistol to come at once to the Murgatory house. A party of 20 to 30 gathered, and, after a thorough search of the house, went to the barn, where the crack of a revolver was heard in the loft, and as the men rushed in, a thin stream of blood was seen trickling down through the floor. Hidden deep in the hay was the murderer, a jagged wound extending across his forehead and a smoking pistol, which threatened every minute to get fire to the hay, in his hand.

He was taken to the office of the town clerk, and Dr. F. L. Gilbert, the only physician in the village, summoned. He gave the opinion that Mitchell had chance for recovery, although a slim one.

FAINT AT ALTAR.

GROOM AND BRIDESMAID CAUSED SCENE IN CHURCH.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 9.—At a wedding ceremony in St. Ann's church, yesterday morning, both groom and bridesmaid fell in a dead faint at the altar just as the priest was pronouncing the bridal couple husband and wife. They quickly recovered and the bridal ceremonies and festivities were carried out as if nothing had happened.

Michael Murphy and Miss Mary Casey were the couple, and Kate Casey was the bridesmaid. Intense excitement prevailed when the couple fainted, the spectators thinking that death had invaded the church at the happiest of moments.

A BREAD FAMINE

Is Threatened Because of the "Kosher" Bakers' Strike

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—With five thousand striking Jewish bakers in Greater New York this morning the city faces the greatest bread famine in its history. At midnight delegations from Brooklyn, East New York and Harlem, visited strike headquarters in Clinton street on the East side, and notified leader Samuel Kurtz that none of the Jewish shops in these districts would be open today.

Information has also been received that German local No. 1 and locals 40 and 305 in New York are ready to go on a sympathetic strike that may affect a number of the largest bakeries in the city. The Jewish bakers of Jersey City and Newark have announced that they will no longer furnish the boss bakers with kosher bread with which to supply the clamoring thousand on the East side, who until the present time have been the greatest sufferers from the strike.

The New Jersey bakers are said to have held meetings last night at which committeemen from the strikers were assured that they would walk out of the shops today if it could be shown that their employers were selling bread on the New York side of the river.

Driven to desperation by the increaser prices of bread and rolls the poor inhabitants of the East side were in a sullen mood and hundreds of women and children crowded the streets in the vicinity of strike headquarters offering encouragement to the men, who declare that they will starve before they will go back to work under the old arrangement of the sixteen hour day.

Rioting among the bakers continued throughout the east side during the early part of the night, necessitating an extra patrol of 225 uniformed policemen in addition to all the plain clothes men that could be spared from uptown precincts. One man was placed in front of every bakery below Twelfth street and east of the Bowery, besides the regular duty men.

Clashes occurred at nearly all the bakeries where an effort was made to employ non-union men. Various committees were sent from the continuous meeting in Clinton street to non-union men to induce them not to go to work. One of the committees, finding the doors of the bakery of Isaac Baron, at 196 Madison street, barricaded, made an onslaught on the place, and were clubbing the men found at work when the police arrived upon the scene.

The police, with drawn sticks, charged the crowd and arrested the leaders before any one had been seriously hurt. A crowd of at least 500 women and children—all of them strike sympathizers—crowded about the police and begged them not to arrest the strikers.

OPEN WAR

MAYOR OF MT. VERNON MAY ASK FOR TROOPS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Open war is threatened in Mount Vernon because of the persistence of the Interborough Water company in carrying out its intention to shut off the water of all consumers who refused to pay their bills. Conditions reached a critical stage yesterday when Mayor Brush instructed the commissioner of public works to refuse the company permits to disconnect the water of any consumer. Orders were also issued by the mayor to the police to see that the employes did not open the streets to shut off water cocks.

Last night the entire police force of Mount Vernon was on active duty to carry out the mayor's orders. Employes of the water company were equally determined that the instructions of their superiors should be obeyed, and the two parties marched up and down the pavements keeping a close watch on each other.

Mayor Brush declared last night that if the police of Mount Vernon were insufficient to prevent the turning off of the water he would call upon Governor Higgins to send several companies of the National Guard to aid the police in maintaining order.

Corporation Counsel Sherman has not yet been located, although every effort was made to reach him yesterday by telegraph. As soon as he can be communicated with another injunction will be sued for. In the meantime Mayor Brush declares that the water supply of Mount Vernon shall not be shut off and intimates there will be blood shed, as he has instructed the police to resist to their utmost any disconnection of water mains.

$15,000. LOSS

FIRE IN BIG MILLING COMPANY'S STOREHOUSE.

MONTREAL, Aug. 8.—A fire started at noon today in the storehouse of the Lake of the Woods Milling company at Ville St. Louis, a suburb of this city. A telephone message received here this afternoon stated that the fire was under control and placed the loss at $150,000.

GUESTS OF PRESIDENT.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 8.—Francis B. Loomis, assistant secretary of state, was a guest of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt at luncheon today. Another luncheon guest was Dr. Jacob H. Hollander of Baltimore, who came here to talk over with the president the results of his inquiries as special commissioner to Santo Domingo.

BANK CLOSED

IT OWES THE DEPOSITORS ABOUT $2,000,000.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 8.—The Denver Savings bank closed its doors today. Several hundred depositors were gathered about the doors waiting to draw their money when the doors were closed. The bank owes depositors about $2,000,000.

FOUND DEAD

MAN WAS PROBABLY KILLED BY A WIRE CUTTER.

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 8.—Joseph Whitford, an old man employed as a special watchman by the Northern Pacific railroad since the beginning of the telegraphers' strike, met a mysterious death last night, and everything indicates that he was murdered. It was at first thought he was killed by being run over by a suburban car, but developments today show that he was either dead or unconscious when the car struck him, and was placed on the track by his murderers. He had been employed to watch the telegraph and telephone wires of the Northern Pacific. Near the scene of his death one of the wires, passing under a railroad viaduct, had been cut, and it is surmised that he caught the perpetrators in the act and was killed for it. Some distance from the electric track a big pool of blood was found, and there was evidence that from that spot he had been dragged to the car tracks. The motorman says the old man's face was upturned and was covered with blood before the car struck him.

THE BOSTON MARKET.

BOSTON, Aug. 8.—The feature of the Boston stock market in the early trading today was the advance in Shoe Machinery common to 90, an advance of six points.

Copper Range was active, but remained steady around 69.

Mass. Gas was in good demand, the common advancing near the opening half to 47¾.

LAWYER BARRED

Sensation in Police Scandal Case

BROCKTON, Aug. 9.—The admission of Mrs. Jennie Sherman, on the witness stand yesterday, that she had been threatened by Mrs. Arthur P. Alden with being sent back to Sherborn if she did not testify and help Stella Elliott, was the climax of the second day's hearing before Mayor Keith on charges alleging immoral conduct brought against Police Inspector C. E. Harris.

A sensational incident of the hearing was a tilt between E. F. O'Neil, counsel for the Elliott girl, and City Solicitor Dowd, for the prosecution, in which Mayor Keith took the part of the city solicitor and refused to allow Mr. O'Neil to take any part in the case. The incident arose through a suggestion made by Mr. O'Neil to the city solicitor.

"I told you to keep out of this," reorted Mr. Dowd so distinctly as to be heard all over the chamber, "you are here only as a guest."

Mr. O'Neil attempted to address the mayor, but was refused recognition, and finally taking up his papers from Mr. Dowd's table, retired to a chair and watched the proceedings.

Jennie Sherman rehearsed the times she said she saw Stella in the company of Harris. She testified to conferences at the home of Mrs. A. P. Alden, when the case was in preparation. Then Mr. Fletcher asked this question:

"Didn't Mrs. Alden tell you if you did not testify and help Stella that she would have you sent back to Sherborn?"

There was a long wait; then the witnessed answered, "Yes, sir."

"She frightened you, didn't she"

"She did the first night she told me."

She testified further that Mrs. Alden went to her home in Whitman twice to see her, and also told witness' sister that she would have her sent back to Sherborn.

Octavia Gilbert testified as to times she saw Stella and Harris together, and that Harris at one time tried to make a "date" with her. Witness testified that Harris was in uniform when she saw him in the railroad station with Stella.

Ira McNeil, night man for the Edison Electric Illuminating company, testified to Harris and Stella coming to the station and being let into his office there about 10.30 o'clock. He went out on his route immediately after.

Frank E. Wall, Eugene Wall and James Burke testified to Harris putting handcuffs on Stella in Hackett's restaurant in fun, in October or November, 1903, and R. O. Hatch and O. B. Andrews testified to hearing Harris make threats against D. E. Anderson, who is alleged to have followed Harris and a girl to the Charles street school house.

Charles Wah, a Chinese laundryman on Belmont street, has been summoned to testify in behalf of Inspector Harris as to the character of Stella Elliott.

MAY GIVE $100,000

State to Aid Fever Stricken District

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 8.—Some probability exists that there will soon be considerable relaxation of the yellow fever quarantine restrictions in Louisiana Governor Blanchard is urging President Souchon of the state board of health to take steps toward that end and Dr. Souchon's energy in the matter is already beginning to show results, his intimation of litigation in St. Landry having so modified the quarantine in that parish that it is to be opened to all freight forwarded in fumigated cars.

Lieut. Gov. Sanders and Speaker of the House Snyder, men of large influence in the two branches of the legislature, have announced hearty support of the proposition for state aid to the extent of $100,000 in the present emergency. The appearance of many cases in St. Mary and St. Charles parishes has intensified state interest in the fight here and assures practically unanimous support of the governor in borrowing the money now.

Heretofore the Marine Hospital surgeons as a rule have appeared in civilian dress. Now, however, that they have assumed official control of the situation, all the members of the corps on duty are to wear their uniforms which will carry authority wherever the wearers go.

The general situation is considered to have shown considerable improvement. Although new foci are appearing here and there, it is still looked upon as being held within bounds and Dr. White he regards this as showing practical results from the more perfect organization recently formed.

TWO CASES

FEVER MAKES ITS APPEARANCE AT BON AMI, LA.

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 8.—State Health Officer Taber has been advised that there are two cases of yellow fever at Bon Ami, La. The telegram also stated that one of the suspects was dead. The two men were Italian refugees from New Orleans. A demand has been made from the Texas border for troops to act as guards but the request has been declined by both Dr. Tabor and the governor.

ONE DEAD

FIVE CASES OF YELLOW FEVER IN MEXICO.

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Aug. 8.—The superior board of health officials report but five cases of yellow fever in the Republic, four at Vera Cruz and one at Coatzacoalcos. One patient died at Vera Cruz Wednesday and another case was found on the same day. All five cases are thoroughly isolated.

The fight against the mosquito continues at all points. Daily reports are received from places where the disease is likely to manifest itself.

SCARE IS OVER.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 8.—The yellow fever scare in Montgomery is now entirely passed and the board of health announced today that there is no further need for bulletins.

DR. GOLDBERGER

REPORTS CONDITIONS AT THE DENTENTION CAMP.

SHREVESPORT, La., Aug. 8.—Dr. Goldberger of the United States marine hospital service last night gave out the following statement on conditions as he finds them at the detention camp outside of the city:

Barney Tracey, convalescing from yellow fever.

All the cases were of men who tried to enter the city from other points, but were stopped on the outskirts by the quarantine inspectors and conveyed under proper precautions to a detention camp and there carefully screened. There appears to be no danger to spread and no cases are known to be present in the city.

SECRETARY TAFT

May Go on Supreme Court Bench

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Talk is renewed since the appearance of Elihu Root at the head of the cabinet of the possibility of Secretary Taft going on the supreme bench when the first vacancy occurs and yielding the administration's favor ungrudgingly to Mr. Root as the presidential nominee for 1908.

A civil officer recently returned from the Philippines relates an incident that occurred during Judge Taft's occupancy of the post of civil governor there to illustrate the trend of his personal ambitions.

"One day Judge Taft summoned me to his office," said he, "and read me a number of cablegrams from President Roosevelt offering him an appointment as associate justice of the supreme court, to fill a vacancy then existing. The last cablegram received amounted to a demand that Judge Taft accept. He seemed in a quandary and asked me what I thought he ought to do. 'If I ever had a political ambition in my life,' said Judge Taft to me, 'it has been to serve on the United States supreme bench. Now the opportunity is before me.' I promptly advised him to accept. After hesitating he replied: 'No, my duey for the present is to complete the work begun here and trust to the future for the rest.'"

This conversation occurred under circumstances different from those which now surround the war secretary. His name was not before the country for the chief magistracy, nor was he so much in the public eye. "Sitting on the lid" was then an uncoined expression. Family influences are quietly at work to prevail upon him to go after the presidency. Personal friends who stand close to him say the buzzing of the presidential bee almost drowns the sound of the small voice calling him to a future vacancy on the supreme bench.

112 DESCENDANTS

WILKESBARRE WOMAN MAY MEET THE PRESIDENT.

WILKESBARRE, Aug. 8.—Among the many visitors to this city when President Roosevelt comes here next Thursday, may be Mrs. Lydia Rantz of Danville and some of her 112 descendants. As an exponent of the president's anti-race suicide ideas Mrs. Rantz is entitled to a prize. She has six children, 35 grandchildren, 64 great-grandchildren and seven great-great-grandchildren. She is only 87 years old, and is in such good health that she expects she will live to welcome several more great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Rantz's son John is a great-grandfather at the age of 60. His daughter, Mrs. Lloyd of Milton, is a grandmother at the age of 40. She has two daughters, who were each married when they were 20 years old and each has children.

James Wertman, one of Mrs. Rantz's grandchildren, has 18 children, including three pairs of twins and one set of triplets.

The twin and triplet history of the family is in itself interesting. Mrs. Rantz is the grandmother of one pair of twins, great-grandmother of three pairs of twins and of triplets; great aunt of two pairs of twins; great-greatauntof two pairs of twins and second cousin of one pair of twins.

Mrs. Rantz is active and energetic, despite her great age and works constantly, still doing excellent needlework.

GOLD PLATE

GIFT OF 10,000 MEN TO PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER.

MANILA, Aug. 8.—Miss Alice Roosevelt was accorded here yesterday the triumph of her life. Ten thousand men, including the barbaric and picturesque members of the thrifty provincial delegations, the gorgeously uniformed marines and members of the military and sailors and industrials of the port, marched under the reviewing stand, where she sat with Secretary Taft, Governor-General Wright, Major General Corbin and Rear Admiral Train and presented her with a magnificently decorated gold plate, amid the acclamations of thousands of natives and colonials.

After the procession Miss Roosevelt assisted Secretary Taft in receiving a party of sugar planters and listened to talk about the sugar interests of the island. Later there was a magnificent reception given by Governor General Wright, at which Miss Roosevelt met Rear Admiral Enquist and staff of the interned Russian ships.

A SUICIDE

BODY OF MAN FOUND IN THE HARLEM RIVER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The body of a man supposed to be A. Ursch, an upholsterer, was found floating in the Hudson river yesterday off 177th street by Edward Clapper, a fisherman of 93 West 134th street. Clapper was out in a rowboat about 20 feet from shore when he saw the body. He towed it ashort and notified a policeman of the West 152d street station.

When the body was taken out of the water a stone weighing about twenty pounds was found tied around the waist with a long piece of wire, such as is used for hanging picture frames. When Clapper first saw the body the face and shoulders were above water, but the lower part was under the surface. The police at first thought that they might have a murder mystery on their hands, but the man's coat was found later on the short near where the body was picked up, and the police were satisfied that the man was a suicide.

TWO INJURED

MEN WERE RIDING ON TOP OF FREIGHT TRAIN.

BOSTON, Aug. 8—Edward J. Monahan and Jacob Frios were seriously injured by striking a bridge in South Boston while riding on top of a freight train today. At the Massachusetts general hospital, where the men were taken for treatment it was said that each was suffering from concussion of the brain and a fractured skull. Their recovery is considered doubtful

FAIRBANKS' BOOM

SHAW SENTIMENT IS GROWING

But Gov. Cummings Is Against Him

WASHINGTON, Aug 8 A hot summer has had the usual effect of suspending nearly all except routine public business in Washington. The official bigwigs are away, the exception being such personages as Secretary Wilson, who had to forego a western trip to watch a trap set for grafters, and Attorney General Moody, who has to devise a form of punishment for the game when once entrapped.

But the hot weather has not wilted the presidential booms. They grow without the nourishing influences of atticulture, or any of the agencies known to government science. The friends of Secretary Leslie M. Shaw are more than usually active. Word comes from Chicago that Congressman William Lorimer, a republican boss who wears many medals for smooth work in politics, is setting up the pins for Shaw in a way calculated to make Uncle Joe Cannon reach for the chunk of ice in the water pitcher as he did at Portland, Ore., a few weeks ago, when he nearly broke up the opening ceremonies of the Lewis and Clark Exposition. Mr. Lorimer, incidentally, is showing a fatal lack of regard for the neighboring Fairbanks boom

A stranger story of the ferret-like work of the Shaw men comes from the banks of the Wabash. Congressman Crumpacker is openly avowing his preference for Shaw, while Congressman Jesse Overstreet, who lives in the classic environs of North Meridian street, Indianapolis, a few doors from the vice president's home, is busier than the keeper of a bowling alley at a Hoosier Fourth of July, setting up the pins for the secretary of the treasury. Down in Virginia the republican children are carrying flags, the race question is obscured and young and old are preparing for the advent of Secretary Shaw, who is shortly to address the republican state convention.

The only discord at present is the news from Iowa that Governor Cummins is to take the field against Shaw, with tariff revision according to the "Iowa idea" as the watchword. Even this seeming defection is said by Secretary Shaw's friends here to be overestimated and to be largely the work of presidential candidates outside of Iowa.

Senator Foraker is in Cincinnati but is expected here in a few days. Some of his friends are quietly feeling the southern pulse. Within a week he has told those anxious to start his boom that it is too early, but that he will give a definite answer to the question in the early fall. If he decides that the skies are propitious he will embark with more zeal than he has shown up to this time. It is believed here that Senator Foraker will enter the race and ask for the support of his own state. The other favorite son of Ohio, "Big Bill" Taft, the secretary of war, is in the Philippines.

The Fairbanks boom is having troubles in its own household. They are not confined to the reported inroads made by Secretary Shaw. The mayoralty campaign in Indianapolis is the vice president's chief embarrassment. In the recent city primaries ex-Mayor Bookwalter, who attributes his defeat two years ago to the open hostility of the vice president's afternoon newspaper and the covert opposition of Mr. Fairbanks himself, went out again after the nomination for mayor and cleaned up the Fairbanks candidate by 2500.

On the heels of this triumph the ex-mayor and other republican leaders pointed out to Mr. Fairbanks that he must fall into line and support the republican ticket or he could not hope for a united state delegation for president in 1908. Congressman Overstreet, Acting National Chairman Harry New and other prominent republicans delivered this ultimatum to Mr. Fairbanks by word of mouth. Meanwhile Mr. Beveridge is getting control of the state organization. He is demanding the retirement of Goodrich, a Fairbanks man, from the head of the state committee and the selection of a new man.

Incidentally J. K. Gowdy, who endeared himself to the Hoosier republican heart as "Gom Jack," a state chairman with a backbone in the troublous times of 1896, is hastening back from Paris where he was consul-general for eight years, to get an axe out for Fairbanks. This is because Mr. Fairbanks refused to assist him to keep his job as consul-general.

Gowdy will bring back to the Hoosier state his radiant smile and almost everything he took away with him eight years ago except the chin whiskers. In lieu of these, much remarked at the time he went away, he acquired enough to buy about all the land in Rush, his home county. Gowdy's return to Indiana will be the occasion for an ovation by republican workers. He is expected immediately to get busy in politics. It has been said that Senator Beveridge would like to restore to him the state chairmanship.

A dozen or more Indiana republicans wearing broadbrimmed slouch hats, who happened to be in Washington last week, declare that Mr. Fairbanks "will have to thaw out," or a political dirge will supplant that Hoosier classic "On the Banks of the Wabash" in the Indiana repertoire. Gumshoe agents are traversing the country trying to make political pacts three years in advance of the national convention, but leaving no tracks behind them. That wise old political fox William Pitt Kellogg said to a friend today that in his memory, covering every national convention of the republican party since its birth, he had never seen so many candidates for president acandidating three years ahead of the convention.

MOCK DUCK HELD

Chinese Bail Was Fixed at $1000

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 For more than a week there has been talk about the criminal courts building that another killing in Chinatown was due and that members of the On Leong Tong, of which Tom Lee is the head, were to be the victims. Just about a week ago Lee Toy, a nephew of Tom Lee, said to a reporter in the court

"You had better look out. There is going to be something doing in about a week. Some ten or fifteen of our men have been picked out. It will come off in some place that has not been touched before."

The Chinatown theatre, where three Chinamen were shot to death Sunday night and one fatally injured, had hitherto been neutral ground. The On Leong Tong and the Hip Sing Tong, the rival organizations, had mingled freely at the play, but they had never carried their warfare into the theatre. When the manager of the theatre asked for a renewal of its license recently Commissioner McAdoo held the application up while he made an inspection of the place. It was only a few weeks ago that the commissioner granted the license, after he had been satisfied that the theatre was orderly.

All this time Mock Duck, head of the Hip Sing Tong and ally of the Parkhurst society, was very busy in Chinatown.

Mock Duck, who was arrested about three hours after the shooting in the Chinese theatre, Sunday night, was arraigned before Coroner Scholer yesterday and held in $1000 bail as an accessory. On Quong and Don Kim were held without bail for killing Lee Kim and Lee Yuk. Six other Chinamen who were caught in the theatre were held in $5000 bail each. The inquest will be next Friday.

Chinamen swarmed around the criminal courts building all day yesterday. The twenty-two caught by Capt. Hodgins were all released on the recommendation of the captain.

Old Tom Lee, guarded, paraded over to the building to look after the interests of his On Leong Tong. As he started out of the building the report of a pistol sounded a few blocks away. The Chinamen in the tombs court stirred uneasily. Tom's knees shook. He hurried over to his lawyer's office, trembling and white, and insisted that this shot had been meant for him.

Chinatown wore a holiday air. A score of Eggers's men marched through the district. Two uniformed cops stood in front of the Chinese theatre. The small storekeepers stood in front of their stores and gossiped about the shooting. The dreaded Mock Duck was behind bars for a few days at least. In the chop suey joints Chinamen talked in groups. Here and there were heard whispers of a mysterious $1700. What was done with the money every week? Wasn't it money that the gamblers were spending? Could there be any connection between that $1700 and a weekly raid? Wasn't it pretty well known in advance what particular gambling joint was to be raided and when? But who cared about the raids when the evidence vanished in court next day. If there ever had been any.

Sergt. Eggers says that the fight between the two tongs and the fact that the one is forever squealing on the other were responsible for the shooting.

STOLE A HORSE

MAN WITH SEVERAL ALIASES IS UNDER ARREST.

KEENE, N. H., Aug. 8.—A man who the police believe is one of a gang who are wanted in various parts of Massachusetts and Vermont, was arrested by local officers here today on the charge of stealing a horse from C. R. Holden of Bellows Falls, Vt. The man first gave the name of James Morgan, but later changed it to James Sullivan. A man of the latter name is wanted by Springfield, Mass police for horse stealing. The prisoner was taken to Bellows Falls and will probably be arraigned in court tomorrow.

INJURED GIRL

MAY NEVER RECOVER SPEECH SAY DOCTORS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—The physicians in attendance upon Miss Ethel Cram, daughter of Mrs. Henry A. Cram, of No. 5 East Thirty-eighth street, the society girl whose skull was crushed in a runaway accident at Lenox on July 13, are watching eagerly now for one spoken word to determine whether the brain centers which control the faculty of speech have been permanently injured.

In the three weeks that the young girl has been in bed at the Cram summer home, at Lenox, she has not spoken one word, although she has not been in a state of coma. Her physicians have now begun to fear that her speech has been taken from her. Her vocal organs are intact, because she frequently cries out and moans in a perfectly normal manner, but it is feared that the cells in the brain which control them, may have been injured by the pieces of bone which were removed from the brain after the accident.

Miss Cram was operated upon by Dr. Henry Colt, of Pittsfield, assisted by Dr. Charles McBurney and Dr. William M. Polk of New York, and William Armstrong and Dr. E. P. Hale, of Lenox. Dr. Colt said yesterday that Miss Cram was progressing satisfactorily, except for her silence, and that while she was not yet out of danger, there was hope for her ultimate recovery.

PASSENGERS HELD UP.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—Eight passengers and four members of the crew of the steamer Alliance from Colon was today taken to Hoffman's Island for observation. All have elevated temperatures. Out of 83 passengers on the steamer 25 were Panama canal employes, either home on a vacation or retiring from their work.

SENT TO JAIL

GIRLS PUNISHED FOR GOING TO A DANCE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—Acting under orders of Chief Wagner to arrest girls under 16 years of age who frequent Bayonne public dances unaccompanied, the police yesterday arraigned in court Virginia Lehr, Mary Taylor, Hattie Flanagan and Annie Smith. Recorder Lazarus sent the Flanagan girl to a home and the others to the county jail.

LAW OBSERVED

Lowell Has a Very Good Record

The city of Lowell is quiet and orderly and one of the most law abiding cities in the country.

This morning a Sun reporter looked over reports from over fifty cities that had been sent to the police department of Lowell by the chiefs of these cities. These reports told of breaks, of robberies, of rape, of larceny, of assault with intent to kill, of highway robbery, of assaults, even of murder and other crimes too numerous to mention, all committed during the month of July. When you compare these reports of dire conditions in these cities with the record for Lowell you indeed may marvel.

Superintendent Moffatt speaking of police affairs said: "This summer things are especially quiet, but still you take it all in all Lowell is a pretty good city, and for observance of the law it compares favorably with any city in the country and is perhaps more law abiding than half of them."

CAUGHT IN ROOM

Patrick Coleman Corners Alleged Thief

Patrick Coleman, the well known boarding house keeper at 139 Colburn street, caught a sneak thief red handed this afternoon and now the culprit languishes in the tolls.

After dinner Mr. Coleman took a short walk and upon his return he went up stairs. He heard a noise in one of the boarders' rooms. He thought it strange as the man who occupied the room was at work in the Merrimack. He opened the door and beheld a stranger going through one of the trunks. Mr. Coleman never said a word but quietly locked the door and notified the police.

He will be arraigned on the charge of larceny from a dwelling tomorrow morning.

JOSEPH SMITH

IS COMING HOME IN TWO WEEKS.

A letter was received from Clerk of the Police Board Joseph Smith, who is now spending his vacation at Vancouver, B. C., to the effect that he was in good health and would be home about the 15th of the month.

JOHN J. PINDER

ACTING AS POLICE BOARD CLERK PRO TEM.

Messenger John J. Pinder of the Lowell police department is a very busy man these days, for in addition to his other duties he is now performing the duties of Clerk Smith of the police board, who is absent on his vacation.

Mr. Pinder says that the meetings of the "Nitro Glycerine" club continue, and that he is fast becoming acquainted with the gigantic financial problems of the day.

LOCAL POLICE

NOTIFIED OF LARCENY OF TEAM OF HORSES.

The local police station was notified, by telephone from the Lawrence station this afternoon, of the larceny of a team of horses in Lawrence. The thief is supposed to have started for Lowell. As description of the man and horses was given and all the local inspectors and patrolmen were notified.

BRADEN AWAY

ALDERMAN PAYS ANOTHER VISIT TO HIS OLD HOME.

Alderman Thomas H. Braden left Lowell this morning for his old home in northern New York where he will remain for about ten days. In view of the fact that there was some doubt as to his whereabouts when he paid his last visit to New York, Sir Thomas decided to inform the good people, who took such a kindly interest in him, as to where he was going and how long he would remain. He notified the mayor, members of the city council and the reporters.

FUNERALS

PAPPAS—The funeral of George Pappas took place this morning at 8.30 o'clock from the funeral parlors of Undertakers C. H. Molloy & Sons and services were held at the Greek Orthodox church in Lewis street at 9 o'clock, Rev. Joaquin Georges officiating. The interment was in the Edson cemetery.

FOSTINE—The funeral of Gaquin Fostine took place this morning at 10.30 o'clock from the home of his parents, Manuel and Amelia, rear of 14 Queen street. The interment was in the Edson cemetery under the direction of Funeral Directors Charles H. Molloy & Sons.

THE SONYA

WON RACE OVER SHORT QUEEN'S COURSE.

COWES, Isle of Wight, Aug. 8—The regatta of the Royal Yacht squadron opened today. The chief event was the race for King Edward's cup. Almost as great interest however, centered in the race for fifty-two footers over the short Queen's course, which resulted in a victory for the Herreshoff-built boat Sonya.

The winner was followed in by the Moyana, the Britonmart, the Maymon and the Gauntlet in the order named

Fire on Merchant's Line Steamer

BOSTON, Aug. 8—Captain Bond of the steamer Kershaw of the Merchants and Miners' Transportation company which arrived today from Baltimore reported that a fire had broken out on the steamer during the trip and that it was extinguished afte rfive hours of hard work by the crew. The Kershaw carried passengers and a large cargo of freight. The extent of the damage has not yet been fixed.

The damage to the cargo, which consisted principally of cotton, tobacco, and lumber was heavy. There was no panic among the passengers, despite the fact that the ship's officers had adopted the measure of clearing away the life boats and provisioning them.

The fire was discovered about three o'clock yesterday morning while the steamer was off winter quarter shoal. Smoke was detected issuing from the shaft alley. The fire was quickly located between decks aft. Prompt measures of safety were taken and everything was done to fight the fire. Several holes were cut in the saloon deck and five two inch streams were directed into the compartment which contained the blazing cargo. At five o'clock in the morning when just off Over Falls, lightship, the steamer Dorchester of the Merchants' line, bound from Providence for Norfolk, was sighted.

Captain Bond signalled the Dorchester to stand by and escort the Kershaw to the Delaware breakwater. For this place the Kershaw was already being steered under a full pressure of steam. Three hours later, as a result of the energtic efforts of the crew the fire was extinguished. Thereupon Captain Bond, having signalled the Dorchester that her services were no longer required, sailed northerly to resume the course to Boston.

Although the damage to the cargo was believed to be considerable, that to the steamer was confined to the breaking through of the saloon deck and to the injury to saloon carpets and furniture. The steamer will be repaired here.

MAN DROWNED

WIFE AND CHILDREN WITNESSED THE ACCIDENT.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—With his wife and three children standing screaming on the beach, Fireman Kern, of Truck No. 26, Manhattan, was drowned at Rockaway beach yesterday while several bathers were hurrying to his assistance.

Kern and his family were in the water near shore when he said he was going out beyond the breakers. When some distance from the shore his strength gave out and he cried for assistance. Several bathers went to his aid. Before they reached him he sank.

Miss Goldstein, an actress, dived off the pier and brought his body to the surface after many unsuccessful attempts to recover it had been made.

WU TING FANG

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR THE CHINESE BOYCOTT.

PEKIN, Aug. 8.—The correspondent of the Associated Press is informed that there is no foundation for the statement circulated in the United States that Wu Ting Fang, former minister at Washington, is responsible for the Chinese anti-American boycott. The agitation against dealing in American goods and shipping on American steamers is spreading.

IN A TRANCE

BOY MOVES FOR FIRST TIME IN FOUR MONTHS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A remarkable change in the condition of little Charles Canepi of Yonkers, who has been in a trance-like state for months as a result of an attack of spinal meningitis, was observed yesterday, bringing home to the distressed parents of the child after they had practically given up all hope of his recovery.

Four months ago today, the boy, after being out in the fields with several small companions picking flowers, was stricken by a strange malady which for a time baffled accurate diagnosis. At length it was found by the examining physicians to be a peculiarly pernicious form of spinal meningitis, which reduced the sufferer to a state of coma, producing a blood clot on the brain.

Charlie moved yesterday for the first time since he was stricken, stretching his arms up and giving other indications that the spark of life was still strong within him. Another favorable indication is that though the boy was a few weeks ago totally blind his physician says he has now regained the use of one eye. He is also taking a little more nourishment than formerly.

WASP'S STING

CAUSED THE DEATH OF A MAN.

ENTERPRISE, Mo., Aug. 8—West Strather, 20 years old, died yesterday from the effects of a wasp's sting, which he received last Friday. He was stung on the left temple. Yesterday his suffering became intense and death soon followed.

A TOOTHPICK

FURNISHED CLUE TO WIFE WHO RUN DOWN HUSBAND.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Amanda May, of Bridgeport, took her four small children across the street to her neighbor, Mrs. Martha Simonson, to care for while she went downtown, as she says, and then she eloped with Mrs. Simonson's husband. Mrs. Simonson, acting as her own detective, and following as a clew the toothpick which her husband, Harry, always carried either in his mouth or in the band of his hat, ran down the couple in a rooming house, No. 77 South Sixth street, Brooklyn, yesterday, and haled them into the Adams street police court.

Simonson is a good looking young fellow of about twenty-eight, dark, smoothly shaven, and of a somewhat flashy fashion of dress. Mrs. May appeared to be about four years his junior. She is tall and attractive. She said that she had been married very young, and that her husband was "too slow for her," while Simonson was "just her style."

Mrs. Simonson is older. She has a girl eleven years old, a boy nine years old and a baby was born just three months after its father ran away. She said that she and Simonson had lived happily together until about the Christmas holidays of last year, when her own kindness of heart toward another woman began to lay the foundation of her present unhappiness.

She said that she had observed that her neighbor, Mrs. May, was very lonely evenings, as her husband was a night worker, and that she therefore made a practice of going over and getting Mrs. May to come to her house and spend the evening. It was not three months after that Mrs. May took her the four May youngsters one morning, asked her to look after them while she went shopping, and then went away with the kind neighbor's husband.

Simonson was committed to prison in default of bail. Mrs. May was turned loose.

GEORGE W. YOUNG

Was Too Ill to Appear in Court

HE WAS ORDERED DEFAULTED

His Son Was on His Bond

The case of George W. Young, the well-known legislative agent, who was arrested in this city Monday afternoon charged with having made a false oath in stating that certain property of his in Lowell was unencumbered, while the police say it has been heavily mortgaged, was called in the Boston municipal court first session, Judge Ely presiding, yesterday.

Mr. Young did not respond when his name was called, and the court ordered that a default be entered on the record. Mr. Young's son and counsel explained to the judge that the defendant was unable to appear, and in support of their statement presented an affidavit from his physician.

The physician's certificate was as follows:

"Aug. 8, '05. I hereby certify that I am the attending physician of George W. Young, and that he is physically unable to attend court in Boston.

(Signed) "Edward H. Packer, M. D."

The default stands for the present at least, though it doubtless will be removed when Mr. Young is able to appear in court.

CHARLES COWLEY

Sues the City for $5000 Damages

Judge Charles Cowley at Cambridge yesterday filed suit against the city of Lowell for $5000, claiming that because of pollution of the city water, which he drank July 12, 1903, he was poisoned, and that he has been ill ever since.

The case grows out of the influx of canal water into the city mains while a fire was in progress in one of the mills.

BLACKMAIL

NORTH ATTLEBORO DOCTOR MAKES THE ACCUSATION.

NORTH ATTLEBORO, Aug. 9.—George H. Davis, a lawyer, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of attempted blackmail. The complainant is Dr. Newell C. Bullard of North Attleboro.

Mr. Davis was taken before Judge Byrnm and released on his own recognizance.

Late yesterday afternoon George B. Stearns of this town was also arrested on a similar charge, and released on his own recognizance.

The arrests are the sequel of an action recently brought by Davis, for Stearns, against Dr. Bullard. The charge at that time was that Dr. Bullard was practicing without a license. The matter was heard in the district court, and resulted in a verdict of not guilty, rendered by Judge Byrnm, after the attorney for the plaintiff had filed a motion to not pros the case, which was not allowed.

The declaration in the present case against Davis and Stearns is set forth in eight counts. The first alleges that on June 25, by threats of prosecution for alleged manslaughter, the defendants endeavored to induce Dr. Bullard to leave town against his will.

Sadie Mac Captured the Big Race

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 9.—If the light harness enthusiast who is reported to have offered $30,000 for Sadie Mac, the other day, could have seen the Peter the Great mare walk off with the $10,000 Empire State purse for 2.10 trotters feature of the grand circuit card at Kenilworth Park yesterday afternoon, he would probably raise his offer.

The mare, always a $50 to $10 favorite in the pooling, was not bothered in any of the three heats, finishing the last three lengths in front, with Driver Stinson looking back with interest at the successful fight of Geers with Zephyr for second money.

Directum Miller sold $50 to $23 on the field for the 2.09 pace, but Allerton upset calculations by easily taking three straight heats.

There was no pooling before the first heat of the baby pacers, but when Mary Aldous lost a slow mile some nibbling at Madam Direct resulted. Then Snow drove Mary Aldous out in two faster heats, winning easily.

CANOBIE LAKE PARK.

A most sensational free exhibition is to be given in the immense ball ground at Canobie Lake park for the seven days beginning Monday, Aug. 14, when J. W. Gorman's world wide famous high diving horses, King and Queen, will be seen every afternoon and evening following the theatrical performance.

These remarkable animals are the sensation of the amusement world, and during the few seasons that they have been before the public they attracted wide-spread attention and the most favorable criticism.

Their performance is quite unlike anything else ever offered for the edification of the public. In the first place, King and Queen are two handsome, pure white Arabian horses. A long wooden incline is erected at the edge of a deep pool of water, dug in the center of the baseball field. The top of the runway is directly over the water and 30 feet above it. After the leap forward and downward there is a great splash and for a second the white animal is hidden in a cloud of spray. In another second she comes to the surface and swims to the shore. Out she climbs and joins King, who is waiting for his turn. After that, King repeats her performance, and the sight is a thrilling one. The beauty of the whole exhibition lies in the fact that the horses have never been forced to go through their work. He is entirely a voluntary feat.

The success of King and Queen, the famous high diving horses, has been almost phenomenal. Wherever they have appeared people have come miles to see them and describe the act as being over more than was anticipated. It is the greatest animal act in America.

CHILD BURNED

LITTLE ONE'S CLOTHING CAUGHT ON FIRE.

LAWRENCE, Aug. 9.—Elsie Kller, 6 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kller of 6 Brook street, was burned from her feet to her shoulders through her clothing catching fire about 4.30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon while playing around a bonfire which had been started in a vacant lot on Brook street, adjacent to the old Spicket shoddy mill.

The unfortunate little girl was standing close to the fire watching the blaze leap into the air when a sudden wind blew a spark on to her dress which ignited her clothes before she realized it. As soon as she discovered she was on fire, she fruitlessly attempted to put it out with her hands, yelling all the time for her playmates to bring her mother. One boy, named John Wiknall, a little older than the others, grabbed her by the hand and attempted to push her down the embankment into the shallow water of the Spicket, which flows close by. The little tot became more alarmed at this and breaking away from his grasp, started to run toward her home with her clothes now blazing in several places and being fanned by the slight breeze that was blowing.

Her aunt, Mrs. Miller, who lives close by the evacaent lot, being attracted by the screams of the child, hurried to her assistance, and, grasping her in her arms, rushed to the river and threw her in, thus thoroughly drenching the child and extinguishing the flames.

After she was satisfied that she had quenched the flames, she hurriedly bore the suffering child to her home. Hastily tearing off the child's clothing, particles of skin from the legs coming off with it, she was put to bed and Dr. Edam was hastily summoned. The physician declares that the child will recover.

May Cause League to Disband

BURLINGTON, Vt., Aug. 9.—There is an immense amount of trouble and ill feeling in the Northern baseball league, which is composed of teams representing Burlington, Vt.; Rutland, Vt.; Montpelier-Barre, Vt., and Plattsburg, N. Y., and the league may be disbanded all because a colored man is playing ball.

That colored man is no other than Matthews, the famous Harvard shortstop, and he is playing ball at such a fast rate with the Burlington aggregation that every other team is wondering what can be done to get rid of him.

Being unable to induce Manager George E. Whitney to release Matthews, the vice-presidents, who have the voting power of the league, have assailed Mr. Whitney's management and have taken games away from Burlington, so that the latter team is considering withdrawing from the league, which would end the baseball season in this section of the state.

The whole trouble with Matthews came about through the refusal of Apperlous, a southerner, who plays with Montpelier-Barre, to take part in any game in which a colored man played.

Efforts were made to induce Mr. Whitney to release Matthews, but he takes the same interest in baseball that he does in horse racing and he will not release a good player any more than he will dispose of a fast, winning horse.

Then it was that Matthews began to have trouble. He was spiked three times in games with Montpelier-Barre, and as a result he was taken from the position at short and put in the field, where the irons of his competitors could not reach him.

He has nothing to say about the treatment he is receiving, but continues to play winning ball while on the diamond, keeping in the background when not engaged in his work.

Whether Burlington will withdraw depends on circumstances, but if the team stays in the league Matthews will remain.

PHOTOGRAPHERS MEETING.

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—The reading of reports of the secretary and treasurer was the principal business at the convention of the Photographer's Association of America, which is being held in this city. These reports showed that the organization is in a healthful condition, both as to membership and finances. Later, Frank A. Bement of New York, gave a lecture upon the "Art of elimination," and E. E. Shores of Indiana entered into a discussion of the financial aspects of photography. There were remarks also from many photographers and artists.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 9—Vice President Fairbanks and Mrs. Fairbanks, who are the guests of Hon. John B. Henderson at their beautiful cottage, Glenerie, are spending the week as quietly as possible for people of their social standing. On Tuesday the vice president went on board the battleship Missouri of the North Atlantic squadron to repay a call made earlier in the day by Commander Cowles, who is a brother-in-law of President Roosevelt. Tuesday evening the Vice President and Mrs. Fairbanks were guests of General Edward Morell of Philadelphia, congressman at large from Pennsylvania. This afternoon the Hendersons will give a large reception in honor of their guests when all the prominent summer residents here will meet the vice president and Mrs. Fairbanks.

Sunday the vice president and his wife will go to Ellsworth, Maine, to be the guests of Senator Hale, for a few days.

TWO BOYS KILLED

One Was Struck by a Train

ANOTHER RUN OVER BY WAGON

Harry Freedman Probably Fatally Injured

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Roy Peters, 17 years old, who lived at 6 Drayton avenue, Roxbury, was struck by a train at the Bird street station early last evening and killed.

The boy was returning from his work on the 7.15 train on the New England division of the N. Y., N. H. & H. railroad. He was standing on the step and as the train reached the station he jumped off. At that moment an inbound express came along, and as young Peters left his train he stepped in front of the other. The cowcatcher struck him and hurled him across the tracks over a fence into a field 20 feet distant.

FELL OFF CAR

HARRY FREEDMAN, 11 YEARS OID PROBABLY FATALLY HURT.

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—While stealing a ride on an electric car in East Boston early last night, Harry Freedman, 11 years old, of 137 Paris street, fell off and was run over, receiving injuries which will probably prove fatal.

As a Chelsea bound car, Motorman James Marshall and Conductor Charles Osgood, had left the tunnel, the Freedman boy is said to have jumped on the inside front step and had ridden a short distance beyond police station 7 when he fell off. One of the forward wheels passed over him, his left arm being cut off below the elbow, his face terribly cut and his left leg bruised. He was taken to the relief station.

KILLED BY WAGON

LITTLE HOWARD KENT OF ROXBURY RUN OVER.

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Howard Kent, a 5-year-old boy who lived at 109 Longwood avenue, was run over by a heavy wagon on Longwood avenue late yesterday afternoon and so severely injured that he died shortly after the accident.

The little fellow was at play in the street only a short distance from his home. He was amusing himself making mud pies when a heavy furniture wagon owned by Berry & Tibbetts came down the street. He did not see the wagon until the horse was almost upon him and before he could get to a place of safety he was knocked down by the horse. One of the rear wheels passed over his body and the little fellow was rendered unconscious. He lay in the street while the wagon, the driver of which is unknown to the police, moved along. The driver was apparently unconscious of the accident to the child for he looked neither to the right or the left and drove on at a leisurely pace.

SAVED BY GIRLS

Passengers Escaped Injury and Death

CANAL DOVER, Ohio, Aug. 9.—Two little girls, Anna and Mary Beers, saved three score of passengers on the Marietta branch of the Pennsylvania railroad from possible death or injury, two miles east of here yesterday.

A large tree had fallen across the tracks and the little girls, knowing the afternoon passenger train was due, hastened up the road and flagged the train. The engineer brought the cars to a standstill within a short distance of the obstacle. The passengers made up a purse to reward the girls for their bravery.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Tauton has yet to win a game.

Next Saturday the Americans and the American Glee club play on the South common. The rooters on both teams have been wishing to see these two teams play all season and it is expected to be a red hot game.

The Red Men will play the T. R. & T's. at Spaulding park, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A closely contested game is expected and interest is running high among the players and rooters.

According to the terms of sale of the Lynn club to the Lynn association, that association became responsible for the back salary of Connors, Bigbie and Bushey. Yet the three have brought a suit against former Manager Mack for the same.

Pitcher Halla of the Oklahoma club has been secured for Cleveland.

Pittsburg has taken six out of the last eight from New York and has landed nine out of 10 in the series. It looks as if this club would land every series this season.

Umpire Hassett, who was recently mobbed by the Buffalo players, alleges that after he was knocked down by one of the Bisons, Manager Stallings said: "Now put the boots to him."

In all, Frank Donahue, now with Cleveland, has won at least 12 games from Rube Waddell something no other twirler can boast of, while Waddell has still to win his first game from Donahue. Donahue will have a chance to make it 13 this week at Philadelphia.

"Tip" O'Neill, who was with the Boston and Washington Americans last season and is now playing with the Milwaukees, is out of the game with fracture of a bone near the ankle in sliding to third. He will be out of the game a month at least.

"Noodles" Hahn may retire from baseball after his 10 days expire with the Cincinnati club, and practise as a veterinary surgeon. Hahn was drawing $4500 from the Reds, the figure the American league offered him during the war and which President Herrmann maintained.

President Taylor of the Boston Americans last week offered to purchase John Ganzel's release from the Highlanders and pay him $400 a month to finish the season with the Collins team. Ganzel turned down the offer, saying he would stick to his Grand Rapids team even if he never played ball again. Why Ganzel, in preference to "Buck" Freeman, would be difficult to understand, indeed.

"Aside from his work on the diamond, the Cleveland players are looking forward to having Larry with them again with anxious eyes," says Harry Bay. "It sems to stimulate them to hear Larry around, whether he plays or not, and I would venture to say that the team would have won fewer games since he had been out of harness had he not come over to the grounds to watch them play. It brings confidence to have the manager around."

WRESTLING NOTES

At Asheville, N. C., on Friday night, Prof. Ono, Japanese instructor of Jiu-Jitsu at Annapolis Naval academy, met Tom Frisbee of Madison County, N. C., in a mixed style wrestling bout, Frisbee being permitted to use catch-as-catch-can methods, while the Jap had to stick exclusively to jiu-jitsu. Two falls out of three counted, and the jiu-jitsu style won. The contest was spirited and thoroughly enjoyed by a large crowd. The American had the advantage in weight, tipping the beam at 205 pounds. Frisbee is 6 feet 5½ inches tall and is very much at home at catch-as-catch-can. Prof. Ono weighs 207 pounds and stands 5 feet 6½ inches high. He is a quick, strong man, but against Frisbee in strength he did not seem to be in it.

The contest was a better one than the match between George Bothner and Prof. Higashi at the Grand Central Palace last winter, and may be said to have been an excelent test for the Japanese style of grappling. Ono took two straight falls, but not without a struggle. He did not seem to be afraid of the American, who is very strong. The Jap tried for a strangle hold at the start but Frisbee tried for a waist hold and succeeded in bringing the Jap down. Ono did not stay on the floor very long, however, for by making an effort to catch Frisbee by the neck he got on top.

It was nip and tuck for one hour. Frisbee's weight and his ability to break some of the vicious holds that the Jap applied aided him in avoiding danger. But after the hour Frisbee began to show signs of fatigue. He fell upon his stomach at every opportunity, but guarded his neck and head by covering this part of his body with his arms. Finally, after 1 hour and 20 minutes Ono got a firm strangle on Frisbee. The latter wriggled and squirmed, but was unable to get away and was thrown.

After an intermission of ten minutes the match was resumed. The tossing and buffeting that Frisbee received in the previous bout took all of the starch out of him, and it did not take the Jap long to gain the next fall. The pair went at each other with a rush. Frisbee tried to get a body hold, but in doing so overlooked Ono's right arm. The Jap got this arm around Frisbee's neck and applying the strangle again had no trouble in capsizing the American on both shoulders. It required only 35 seconds for Ono to do the job.

THE GORHAMS

DROPPED THE FIRST GAME TO THE COLONIALS.

The first in the championship series between the Colonials and the Gorhams resulted in a victory for the Colonial team by a score of 7 to 3 after fourteen innings of hard play. The Gorhams sandwiched in a few "ringers" but the race horses could not stand the steady pace and though they made a few bursts of speed they were obliged to succumb to the great work of the vets. "Buster" Ball was a regular Criger behind the bat for the Colonials and Ready tossed them over the plate with the speed of a Cy Young. Capt. Whalen of the winning team made a star play when he landed a long drive after a run to the far center field. At second Bill McVey nailed two swift liners that were good for three bases had they got by him and Joe Dawson picked one off the bleachers beyond the third base line that made him sprint at a ten second gait. Charlie Marren played the best game for the Gorhams and scored two of their three runs.

Foody put up an elegant game behind the bat and Joe Flynn handed out decisions a la Silk O'Loughlin though he was accused of conspiracy by his old friends, the Gorhams. The next game promises to be more exciting and will be played in two weeks. It takes that much time for the players to recover from the effects of each game.

"Full many an a.d. is born to blush unseen,
And waste its sweetness on the desert air."

That's because it is printed in a paper that is not read. Like the modest flower the poet speaks of, it blushes unseen, but soon a blush is seen on the face of the deluded advertiser when he realizes that his well-worded phraseology is wasted on the desert air.

This is the case when an advertisement is placed in a paper with a small circulation.

The Sun has by far the largest circulation in Lowell and it is ever increasing. That's why it pays to advertise in its columns.

It's a fact and all our advertisers will tell you so.

RECORD DAY

MORE ALLEGED FRAUDULENT SCHEMES NIPPED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Monday was a record breaking day in the fraud order division of the postoffice department. Orders were issued against the following: United States Blue Works, 173 Greenwich street, New York city; M. A. Quintine, Waterville, Me.; Allison Information Agency and Introduction Bureau, 17 Eastman avenue and box 446, Minneapolis, Minn.; T. J. Pledger, West, Texas; Arthur B. Mitchell, Oak Park, Ill., and the Columbia Publishing company, 114 East Twenty-third street, New York city.

Most of the schemes were old ones. T. J. Pledger offered for sale "rod and plumbob combined" that would find gold, silver or other precious metals. He sold lots of rods but there is no record of any treasure being found.

M. A. Quintine offered for sale "a scheme" to borrow $500, buy an automobile and peddle the soap and other supplies of toilet soap and household knicknacks. Then to get in the automobile and peddle the soap and other articles through the country.

The Allison Bureau introduced dictitious persons of alleged wealth to clients who would advance $10.

Arthur B. Mitchell operated a bureau for placing bets on race horses, and the Columbia Publishing company sold a cheap watch for $1.39, alleging that the victim had won a "handsome gold finished watch" and that the $1.39 was to pay for packing, mailing, etc.

FATHER AND SON

Both Were Mangled by a Train

BURLINGTON, Vt., Aug. 9.—A shocking accident occurred at 4.30 yesterday afternoon, when Frank Weston, 65, a farmer of Charlotte, and his son, Wesley, 25, were struck and instantly killed by the south-bound mail train over the Rutland road, at a dangerous crossing some distance south of Charlotte railroad station, and 15 miles south of Burlington.

The train was going at a good rate of speed and the usual warning was blown at the crossing. The two men who were driving probably did not hear it, or the horse became unmanageable, and the train hit the rig squarely.

The two men were pitched high into the air and fell in front of the train, being killed instantly. The bodies were horribly mangled. The horse was also killed, being thrown 50 feet into a field, and the carriage totally demolished. The dead men were removed to a local undertaking room and relatives here were notified.

Frank Weston resided in this city for some years, going to Charlotte upon the death of his wife a year ago to conduct a farm. He was a native of Schuyler Falls, N. Y. His sons was home from New York city on a vacation. He was a musician of some note. There were no automatic signals at the crossing where the accident occurred.

IS PROPERTY

LIQUOR LICENSE IS NOT A PRIVILEGE.

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Jeremiah F. Tehan brought a writ of prohibition in the supreme court yesterday against the Justices of the municipal court with a view to restrain them from issuing an order compelling him to transfer his liquor license to Louis Isenberger, a judgment creditor.

It appeared that Isenberger obtained a judgment for $800, and Tehan was cited into the poor debtor court. He and his wife, Margaret Tehan, had a liquor license.

The court ruled that he should assign his interest in the license to the creditor, and he brought this petition so as to prevent the judges of the lower court from enforcing the order for a transfer of the interest in the license.

Tehan contended that the license was a privilege and not a property right and that the court had no authority to compel him to convey it.

Judge Barker denied the petition, holding in effect that the liquor license was property and not a privilege.

WHOLESALE RATES

Wholesale rates mean wholesale transactions. We order paper for the Stoddard Lectures twenty car-loads at a time. We print and bind on the same scale. We reduce expenses to a minimum by making a quick, yet thorough canvass of each city, thereby bunching orders, deliveries, and collections at one-half what they would cost if scattered. To this end a corps of our best salesmen are here for a short time only to explain our special offer, show the work, and give you an opportunity to secure it at wholesale rates. WHEN THEY LEAVE YOU CAN OBTAIN IT ONLY AT REGULAR RATES FOR OCCASIONAL ORDERS, or at an advance of one-half.

This advance is absolute and unavoidable. Our wholesale offer is possible only on the above basis, it being self-evident that when the cost of production or distribution of any article increases the price to the purchaser must increase also.

FOR THE GOOD OF LOWELL.

WHAT IS MOST NEEDED

In order to make our city prosperous we want a greater diversity of industries; we want industries that pay higher wages than do the cotton mills; and to induce such industries to locate here, we should offer the most liberal terms in regard to sites, buildings and railroad facilities.

Too long has the prosperity of our city been linked with that of the cotton mills. Now that we are a city of over 100,000 inhabitants with unrivalled facilities and resources for manufacturing industries of every description, we should bend our efforts to the establishment of new lines of industry so that a depression or a temporary shutdown of the cotton mills may not be regarded in the nature of a calamity.

In regard to new industries let it be remembered that enterprise and public spirit are needed on the part of our own citizens. If we cannot induce a sufficient number of new industries to come here, let us establish new industries for ourselves. Do not mind if the beginnings be small; some of the best industries in Lowell today arose from small beginnings.

The democratic party of Massachusetts is evidently not going to bother much about finding a gubernatorial candidate during the hot weather. Better wait the crystallization of sentiment. Ex-Mayor McNamee of Cambridge is the only man who has declared himself as an avowed candidate for the place but he is not likely to get the nomination without opposition.

TOO RIPE FOR MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

The general belief is that none of our municipalities is sufficiently free from grafters to assume any large measure of municipal ownership. Cities may conduct water works and even lighting plants, but when it comes to running a street railway the disinterested honesty so conspicuous in the city of Glasgow, Scotland, is lacking. It is lacking in Chicago, in New York and in the majority of our large cities, while in this respect some of the small cities vie with the larger. In this, perhaps, we should make the saving remark that "Present company is excepted."

ARE BOSTON ALDERMEN CORRUPT?

If the charges made against certain Boston aldermen by one of their number be true then the board is a pretty corrupt body. It is up to the accused men to prove their innocence by bringing a charge of criminal libel against their accuser.

The privilege of the floor as a member does not give him the right to make a criminal charge unless he can prove it. If he can offer any proof not necessarily conclusive in support of his charge he will not be held amenable to punishment. If he honestly believed that money was used he had a right to say so in the interests of the public good.

THE CASE OF ASSISTANT SECRETARY LOOMIS.

Unfortunately for President Roosevelt the American people have refused to accept or approve his finding in the Bowen-Loomis controversy. So much damaging evidence has been brought out against Loomis on account of his open and indisputable use of his office to advance certain claims by which he himself would be enriched that he is convicted before the bar of public opinion.

The news of what the president had done in the case was a serious shock to Secretary Hay and may have hastened his end. The American people regard Bowen as an honest man and Loomis as a political trickster and high class grafter. He has imposed upon the president. The people are tired of Loomis and would like to see him retired to private life. If he had his deserts he would probably be in prison.

GREAT BOOM IN NICARAGUA.

The republic of Nicaragua has undergone a sudden spasm of development through the activity and enterprise of American capitalists who have gone down there and obtained all the franchise rights possible. They have secured a monopoly it is true but a monopoly of something which nobody wanted. To this they had a right and whether they should be allowed to retain all these franchise rights depends entirely upon what use they will make of them, whether they will use them for the benefit of the people or merely as a means of extorting money from the people.

As the Panama canal advances, this boom in Nicaragua will prove very valuable and in the race for prosperity little Nicaragua will outstrip all the other states with the exception of Panama.

THE FRESH DETECTIVE.

The following from the New Bedford Standard will meet the approval of all those who are acquainted with the fresh cop or the detective that is ready to violate the law in procuring evidence for his clients:

"Whether the man who killed a detective who was trying to force an entrance into his house is convicted of a crime or not, one thing is taught by the occurrence to officers of all sorts—and that is that it is just as well to obtain entrance to a house under the processes of the law. Many persons, and some officers, seem to have an idea that a policeman or a detective can go anywhere he chooses at any time he chooses and under any circumstances that he chooses; but the truth is that his power in that direction is limited by the law, and that he has no right to go beyond the limitation. Of course, householders would better be exceedingly careful before they shoot, for shooting is not allowed under all circumstances, and they would be apt to be very sorry unless the need for shooting were well established."

In the case referred to it appears that the detectives rang the bell and as soon as the door was opened, pushed past the owner to make his way inside for what purpose the owner had no means of knowing. The intent might be robbery or murder and yet the man who shot the detective under such circumstances is held in jail awaiting the grand jury. No grand jury will indict him if the facts are as they were reported in the newspapers.

SEEN AND HEARD

One of the after dinner stories floating about the Hamptons, apropos of Cardinal Gibbons's visit, relates to a colored girl who once had a place in the Cardinal's household in Baltimore. "She came to me," said the woman who told the story, "with a most flattering letter of recommendation. I held her off until I got into communication with another member of the rectory service.

"'Malindy was a fine girl, all right,' was the response I heard, 'and we couldn't find much fault with her, but you see we had to let her go, for, do what we would, we couldn't keep her when she wanted to rig herself up in extra style, from wearing the Cardinal's red silk stockings.'"

"I beat a pawnbroker out of it the other day," said a traveling man at an uptown hotel. "I can only explain my luck by the fact that I wasn't broke and didn't need the money. I went with a friend to back his watch, a $100 affair, on which he got $30. I had bought a watch for $16 to carry on the road. It kept time and looked pretty good, so I asked 'uncle' what I could have on it. He glanced at the works and the case and said: 'Not more'n twenty.' I trucked that ticker for a yellowback then and there. No, I don't think I'll redeem it."

"I have been in many cities, but in none have I seen so many broken down public clocks as in New York," said a traveling salesman. "It seems that every other clock is out of order. The hands of a clock in front of a bank in Third avenue have pointed to 3.16 for four years. Another clock, in Forty-second street, has been out of order for three years. It seems to be the rule that when a public clock gets out of order it is never repaired."

In the office of a local hostelry there lives a parrot and he is a very talkative fellow. A woman from a charitable institution called at the hotel the other day in search of money to help the good work along. There was a practical joker in the office when she called and he said to her: "You can have that parrot if you want him. He talks so much that we are sick and tired of him." The girl said she would send a man around for the parrot in the morning. Sure enough the very next morning brought a great big strapping fellow to the hotel. He entered the office where the proprietor was sitting. "I suppose this is my parrot?" Not if I know it," said the proprietor. "I was sent after him," said the visitor. "You will have to come again," said the proprietor. "I am very fond of that bird and wouldn't sell him for love or money." "Oh, very well," said the man and then he told the story of the evening before. The proprietor laughed and told him it was a joke. "I'd like to get next to the fellow that sprung the joke," said the big fellow as he walked away.

One of the best things that I have heard for a long time was related to me by one of Lowell's most genial clerks. It is as follows, and he vouches for its veracity—"Do you wonder I am prosperous?—Well just look at the wife I have. Yes, she is pretty but that is not it. Why last Saturday she went over to the market and bought a soup bone for 3 cents. Sunday this bone fed seven of us and Monday morning she sold the bone to the soup man for a five-cent cake of soap. Do you wonder now?"

"If women knew how much it adds to their popularity all of them would learn to swim well," said the seaside hotel clerk. "The nearer a woman comes to being a mermaid the better the men like her and the more invitations she gets to go bathing and boating. The girl who clings and squeals in the surf is all very well for once, but for steady company a man wants a woman who can swim and take care of herself. Men like to see a woman let down her hair, dive into the briny head first, and disport herself with grace and freedom. Then there are men who hesitate to take a woman bathing or boating if she cannot swim, for fear she might be drowned. It isn't pleasant to have on your mind for life the fact that you failed to rescue from the sea a girl who went out as your guest."

Visitors who went aboard the battleships in the harbor recently noted the unaccustomed absence of all small arms in the seamen's quarters, where usually there are racks full of guns and swords. A sailor from the Kentucky explained this condition by saying that although there was no danger of a mutiny on any United States warship, the officers always had to consider the possibility of such a condition and prepare for it. The successful mutiny of the Russian sailors on the Kniaz Potemkin had been an eye opener to naval officers, the sailor said, and at once all small arms had been removed from reach of the sailors.

"Did you ever figure on yourself as a thing to be mapped?" asked an inquiring citizen. "I have been studying the thing up recently and there are so many maps of me that I feel all mixed up with Mercator's north poles and equators, tropics, zones and meridian lines. To begin with, there is the city map in the directory, that shows the street I live on. Then the building department has a map of me which shows that I live in a four-story brown stone with four poles in the back yard for the clothes line. The tax department has another map showing what I only wish I was worth. The department of education map records the number of my children and makes it convenient in case any of them play hookey. The health department records inexorably the mumps and scarlet fever in my household. The rector of the parish has a sketch map recording the results of his reconnaissance of me. But the most complete map of me seems to belong to the insurance agent. That hangs pretty near all the information of all the other maps with some wrinkles of its own, the distance from the nearest hydrants and the nature of the roof over my head. With all these maps I should easily be found by a trained explorer."

FIRE IN AYER

THE HAZZARD HOUSE BURNED TO THE GROUND.

Fire broke out in the house of William Hazzard near the Willows station Monday afternoon it being supposed that the fire was caused by a spark from a passing locomotive. The building was burned to the ground.

As soon as the news of the fire reached the neighbors they ran to the Hazzard house to assist in staying the flames, but the fire got such a start and owing to the fact that the only available water was in a well some distance from the house little or nothing could be done to stay the flames.

The neighbors however succeeded in saving a good portion of the furniture. The house had been the residence of the Hazzard family for over forty years.

Mrs Sarah J. Stone Fletcher died at her home in East Main street early Sunday morning after an illness of several months. She leaves one son, who resides in Melrose.

Mrs Annie Clark Cotton died in Roxbury Friday night of apoplexy and was brought to Ayer for interment, which took place Sunday afternoon in St. Mary's cemetery.

The electric road is rapidly progressing. At Flanagan's pond loads of sand are being filled in and also at the La Point side. Mr. Louis La Pointe gives his land free to the use of the road, and as his territory extends one-half a mile, it is a considerable gift, and greatly appreciated by the town. There have been settlements of the financial part of it with the farmers and confidence is established.

TO MRS WHITE IN FALLING DOWN STAIRS.

Magdalene Elder White, wife of William White, an old and highly respected resident of Graniteville, died at her home in Cross street, Monday, aged 63 years and seven months. The deceased sustained a severe injury by falling down a flight of stairs about ten weeks ago and though the injuries which she sustained were considered fatal at the time all that was possible in the line of medical skill was brought to bear but without avail.

Besides a husband she leaves five children, William White, jr., who resides in Mexico, Mrs. Chas. W. Wright of Westford, Mrs. Fred Bennett, Mrs. Frank Edwards of West Chelmsford, Henry White of Everett and several grandchildren. The funeral will be held at the house Wednesday, Aug. 9th at 2 p. m. Rev. Alfred Woods, a former pastor of the M. E. church, will officiate, assisted by Rev. W. E. Anderson the present pastor.

GIRLS MISSING

HAD BEEN ASKED TO GO CANOEING.

LAWRENCE, Aug. 9.—After meeting two young men who asked them to go canoeing, two 16-year-old girls are missing. They are Rose Fraiz of Andover and her chum, Mamie Pendergast of Methuen.

With the latter's sister and another girl, Sunday, they went to Glen Forest. At 6 o'clock the sister and the other girl started for home, leaving the two missing girls talking to the young men, one of whom is said to be Joseph Carroll of Prospect Hill. That is the last seen of them.

The Fraiz girl is 5 feet tall, has brown eyes, dark hair and dark complexion.

TWO ATTEMPTS

WOMAN WANTED TO END HER LIFE.

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Mrs. Jennie Blake attempted suicide yesterday afternoon and although she sought death by first taking muriatic acid and then jumping from a window in the rear of her flat on the fifth floor of the building at 1747 Washington street, she is still alive and except for the muriatic poisoning, suffered no greater injury than contusions to her back and side.

COGGESHALL LOT

Will be Purchased For School Purposes

The committee on education and a part of the committee on lands and buildings visited the Lyon street school yesterday, for the purpose of viewing the old Coggeshall estate in the rear of the school, the purchase of which is contemplated for an annex, a loan of $1800 for an annex having passed the city council.

On the Coggeshall land, now owned by Mrs. Gormley, is a house that might readily be converted into a temporary school.

Supt. O'Connor said that the annex might be built behind the school at a cost of $1800, but the children would be deprived of nearly all their playground. Moreover, Supt. O'Connor stated that it would be impossible to complete the annex by the coming school term for the reason that it will be impossible to get the lumber and the men to work on time.

In the evening the committees met at city hall and heard Joseph H. Gormley, representing the owners of the Coggeshall property.

Mr. Gormley when asked the price of the property said: "The building is a double house, and it is for sale for $5200. We have always figured that it was worth $7000, though it is assessed for $3750. We have been offered $5500 for the property. In my opinion the building would be suitable for a temporary school. It is heated by a new furnace. There is every convenience of a modern house."

Alderman Walker said it would be possible to obtain a loan of $3400 for the property, which, with $1800 already obtained for an annex would make up the $5200.

"There's a building that could readily be converted into a temporary school for perhaps three or four years," said Alderman Walker, "and at the end of that time, the city could build a permanent school."

Alderman Allen moved that the committee recommend the purchase of the property at $5200, and that the clerk be instructed to frame an order to that effect. The $1800 order now pending before the mayor could then be withdrawn or otherwise put out of commission. It was so voted.

A petition signed by numerous residents of the Highlands that the city buy land owned by Nancy M. Lang in Midland street at a cost of $2200 was read by Clerk Dowling. The petition stated that the residents of the Midland street district needed a school very badly. Councilman Baldwin said there were children attending the Highland school who had to carry their dinners, and he hoped that the city would buy the land in question at the assessed value. Alderman Allen was in doubt as to the wisdom of buying at the present time. Upon motion of Councilman Baldwin, the committee voted to recommend a loan order for $2200, the assessed value of the land needed.

THEFT CHARGED

Against Evans the Alleged Murderer

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Yesterday afternoon Lieutenant Carter and Inspector Damery of the Somerville police searched the home of Joseph Evans, who is now in East Cambridge awaiting trial on the charge of murdering George L. Frazer, a private detective, and took from the house at 31 Moore street, West Somerville, several articles of furniture which were alleged to have been stolen property.

The search warrant was sworn out yesterday morning by John Nolan, who claimed that he occupied a tenement in the same house in which Evans lived at 11 Cameron avenue, West Somerville, last June.

Mr. Nolan described the articles in his complaint and they were found in Evans' home when the searching officers went through it.

A week ago last night Evans was taken into custody at his home after he had shot and killed Detective Frazer, who was employed by Allan J. Barber of Woonsocket, R. I. Barber's wife for nearly a year had been acting as Evans' housekeeper.

Mr. Nolan's appearance at the station house yesterday morning considerably surprised the officers. He said that he had a suspicion that several articles of furniture which had been stored in an attic at his home, 11 Cameron avenue, and which were found to be missing when Evans moved, might be found in Evans' home on Moore street.

The warrant was granted, and Mr. Nolan accompanied the two officers on their trip.

Little Chap Killed by a Train

BENNINGTON, Vt., Aug. 9.—The killing by a train of Johnnie Sweet, the 9-year-old son of Jerry Sweet, at Shushan, N. Y., just over the state line, has brought out a painful story of the little lad's life, which has caused some even to surmise that he committed suicide. Great indignation is expressed by the residents, who pitied and liked the little fellow.

They say that his mother deserted him while he was a baby, having for months before been stupefied by intoxicants. His hair floated in curls, which were frequently used to torture him by his schoolmates, and his father often inflicted punishment so severe that the incensed neighbors were obliged to interfere to protect the boy. For a couple of years he cooked the meals, carrying the water necessary, for quite a distance.

The morning of his death he was up at 4 o'clock, got the breakfast, and at 6.30 left to go berrying, being threatened by his father with punishment if he came home with his pails unfilled. The morning was wet and cold, there were no berries, and putting down his pails, the little fellow went to the railroad to sit down and rest, it being a better place than the wet damp ground. The autopsy showed that his breakfast had been scant.

When first seen by the engineer, he lay inside the rails, sound asleep, with a tin pail by his side. The train was too close for the engineer to stop it and it passed over the boy, cutting him completely in two. An elder brother left home years ago, and it is believed that Johnnie intended to go also, as he frequently said, "Some day papa will come home and not find any little boy."

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Division 11, A. O. H., was held last night with President Kinsella in the chair. Six new members were initiated and several applications for membership were received. Great interest is manifested in the 33d anniversary of this division which is to be held on the 27th of September. A membership contest is in progress and the member bringing in the largest number of new members between now and the first of the new year will be given a fine prize.

LOWELL LODGE OF ELKS.

The regular meeting of Lowell lodge, B. P. O. Elks was held at Elks hall in Middle street, there being a large attendance of members. The committee appointed to prepare resolutions on the death of their late trustee, August Fels, presented the resolutions and they were read by Secretary Boucher and a copy was ordered to be sent to the family of the deceased.

Brother Frank Scott was elected a trustee to fill the unexpired term caused by the death of Brother Fels. Past Exalted Ruler Charles Fredericks presided at the election.

During the summer months few meetings are held and many brothers expressed their sorrow for Brother Fels' death.

An outing of the Elks will be held Thursday, Aug. 31, to take place at Crystal lake ice grounds, North Chelmsford, and the following committee was appointed: General committee, William S. Grady chairman, Michael J. Markham, secretary; Charles H. Molloy, treasurer; Thomas E. Boucher, associate secretary.

Printing committee, Dr. A. E. A. McCann, William F. Senter, T. E. Boucher.

L'ASSOCIATION CATHOLIQUE.

The regular weekly meeting of L'Association Catholique was held last night in the hall in Pawtucket street. The meeting was well attended and routine business was transacted. Two applications for membership were received during the evening.

Vice President Henri Achin presided, owing to the absence of President Pierre J. Legare, who is visiting relatives and friends in Canada with his brother, Joseph A. Legare. The members adjourned shortly before 10 o'clock.

BOY KILLED

HE PROBABLY FELL FROM THE SEVENTH FLOOR.

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Albert Crossman, 14 years old, was killed yesterday morning shortly after 10 o'clock by falling down a freight elevator well in the rear of the building 387 Washington street. No one saw the accident or heard any cry, so that it is presumed that he fell from the seventh floor to the basement.

The boy had gone to work only yesterday for the New England Stamp company which has an office on the seventh floor. The regular boy who works for the company had to go to the hospital, so he sent the Crossman lad to take his place.

JENNIE SPAULDING

EVIDENTLY REFUSED TO GO TO MAYNARD.

Charles W. Thurston of Loverett street was at the depot when Morris and the woman went there from the restaurant. Mr. Thurston tells the following story:

"I noticed the couple right after the Ayer Junction train left at 5.01. I was talking with a fellow on the train and as soon as the train pulled out I noticed the man and the woman talking very earnestly near the rotunda on the west platform of the station. They were both well dressed and seemed to be having a very hot argument. I thought the fellow was accusing her of something and that she was denying it, as she shook her head and seemed to be saying no at different intervals.

"I could hear very little, however, except the word 'you.' After a little time he seemed to be pleading with her, but she assumed what appeared to me to be an overbearing attitude.

"I heard him say, 'Why didn't you take that train?' but I didn't catch her reply. I had been watching them twelve or fifteen minutes when I heard the woman exclaim 'My God, you won't!' and with that she ran through the door into the waiting room. I did not even then divine his intention, and probably would not have thought any more of it if I hadn't heard the shots an instant later."

THE MURDERER

WOULD GIVE $1000 FOR CHANCE TO SUICIDE.

Morris wants to die. After tearing at the flesh on his hand in his cell at the police station he said he would give the thousand dollars that was found in his possession when arrested for an opportunity to commit suicide.

"I would like to end it all.

"If I had only known what I was doing when I shot Jennie I would have saved one for myself. I thought there was another cartridge in the chamber.

"There is no use of my living. I have killed her and was not in my right mind when I did it."

"Do you know George?" asked Capt. Kew.

"Yes, indeed," was the reply. "I worked with him for a long time, and always found him a good fellow. He had only one bad point—he would crook his elbow.

"I just want to say goodby," he pleaded," but he was not allowed to see the prisoner.

REAL REASON

OF SHOOTING THE WOMAN REFUSED TO GO TO MAYNARD.

When Jennie Spaulding left her home in North Chelmsford yesterday she intended to go to Maynard with Morris. She told her friends so and it was the saloon scene that changed her mind.

She knew that the girl was an old sweetheart of Morris'. She had seen them together in North Chelmsford and other places and she was jealous. While she might have feared Morris, those who knew her well say she loved him and there is little doubt but that she would have accompanied him to Maynard but for the kisses that were exchanged in the saloon.

MORRIS' THREAT

TO KILL THE SPAULDING WOMAN.

Mrs. William Davy, sister of the murdered woman, was seen by a representative of The Sun at her home in North Chelmsford last evening. She was deeply affected by the tragdy. She said:

"Morris had threatened to kill my sister before. My sister was a kind woman but she was afraid of Morris. She lived with him because she was afraid to leave him. He had told her many times that he would kill her. He is a bad man and has a frightful temper. I hope he will get his just deserts."

A man who lives in North Chelmsford and who was very well acquainted with Morris and the Spaulding woman, said:

"She was out early yesterday morning, and accompanied by Morris followed me down the street. I was out at 6.15 myself and on my way to work. I noticed the two and wondered why they were around at such an early hour.

"Mrs. Spaulding has been out of town for a long time," he continued. This man and other neighbors spoke of the dead woman as Mrs. Spaulding and failed each time to call her Mrs. Morris.

"During the last two weeks she has been moving about, and the man who murdered her was with her. I have seen them in and out of the house several times. Previously she rented the house to a family living now on the Groton road. At that time she occupied one room.

"She was a generous woman and gave money to the children in the neighborhood with a free hand. Many kind acts endeared her to the neighbors. But notwithstanding this, it was rumored about that she was inclined to be fast. I knew that she drank."

MRS. WHITE

DESCRIBES THE MURDER SCENE AT DEPOT.

Mrs. Margaret White of 18 Grand street was in the waiting room when the shooting occured. Her story of the tragedy is as follows:

"I was sitting in the waiting room shortly after five o'clock when my attention was attracted to a man and woman who were talking in an excited manner. The man did the most talking. They were talking when they came along, and continued to talk in the doorway for about five minutes. Finally the man went away, and the woman entered the depot and took a seat opposite me, about seven feet away.

"She had been sitting there about five minutes when I noticed a man come in from the street. He appeared slightly intoxicated; his face was flushed with anger. The woman opposite me didn't notice his approach. When he was about two feet away from her he sprang forward, and fired one shot. I think it struck the woman, hue she arose and running about ten feet fell.

"Help me!" she cried, and was about to sink exhausted to the floor when the man who had followed her after firing the shot ran up in back of her, grabbed her by the throat with one hand and fired three shots in quick succession, and when I saw him coming towards me with the revolver, I turned in another direction and went outside.

"I think the couple had been to supper for the man was chewing on a toothpick, and the more angry he got the fiercer he chewed on the toothpick. After he fired the first shot there were very few people in the room. Everyone, men and women ran away, and there were but few present when he fired the three other shots except my-

CHARLES SCHLOSS ON SCENE.

One of the first men on the scene was Charles Schloss, employed at the Globe hotel, and he reached the murderer as Lieutenant Webster came in and grabbed him. Mr. Schloss said: "I was standing outside the depot with Mr. John Douglas when I heard the shots and I ran inside just in time to see Morris making for the door. When caught he said: 'For — do n't choke me. Finish me if you want to but don't choke me.'"

DEAD WOMAN

SKETCH OF HER DOWNWARD CAREER.

The history of the dead woman, Mrs. Jennie A. Spaulding nee McNaughton, is one of depravity, an uncontrollable thirst for drink and attractions other than those which would fittingly become a married woman and the wife of a good man. Despite the fact that the deceased woman had a good home several years ago, was brought up in an honest, upright and Christian manner, the falling in with bad company and the gradual straying from the path of the honest and virtuous led up to her horrible ending. It is another illustration of the old adage, facilis descensus averno.

The deceased with her parents had immigrated to this country from Scotland, where she was born, arriving here a mere child. The family after arriving in this country settled in Tyngsboro and it was in that quiet little town that Jennie and her sisters were brought up. She received a common school education, but the teachings she received at home were such to make her dread the path which she afterwards trod.

After leaving school she went to work in a mill in Graniteville. It was while working in this mill that she met Fred Spaulding, her future husband. She was 22 years of age at this time and just 16 years ago, when, after a courtship that promised a happy future for both, she and Fred Spaulding were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Rowley of Westford.

Spaulding had been a hard working man and had managed to save quite a little money in anticipation of his marriage, and built a dwelling house in Canal street, North Chelmsford, which was ready for occupancy when the marriage took place.

At the outset everything was propitious. Love reigned over the household. For two short years only did these conditions continue, and then Spaulding discovered that his wife had become addicted to the use of intoxicating liquor and was becoming a frequent visitor to Westford, where she secured the drink. He talked and remonstrated with her, and although he extracted promises of better behavior from her, conditions grew worse in-

CHILDREN'S DAY AT LAKEVIEW.

Next Thursday at Lakeview park will be children's day, and plans are being made to entertain a host of little ones on that date.

Every year these children's days have proved immensely popular with the small tots as well as the mothers, who find it a good opportunity to make the day one for a picnic in which the entire family takes part.

Children will be admitted to the afternoon performance in the theatre. Special features will be introduced in the show just for the entertainment of the youngsters.

After the performance is over there will be a grand exhibition of day fireworks. This is going to be a spectacle worth witnessing. The bombs burst high in the air, displaying figures which float through the atmosphere, gradually falling to the earth. The figures are captured by those in the park, for they land all over the place.

CRUEL MURDER

stead of better as time went on. Finally Spaulding learned that his wife was associating with other men. Under these unpleasant conditions he housed and provided for her for eleven long years, and then, utterly discouraged, he left her, took up quarters at the Richardson hotel in Lowell and started divorce proceedings, retaining Fred A. Fisher, Esq., as counsel. An absolute divorce was granted to Mr. Spaulding a year ago last November, but the courts at that time decreed that Mrs. Spaulding could not marry again for a period of two years.

Soon after this Spaulding left his home in North Chelmsford and refused to provide for his wife. She then secured employment in the Shirreff worsted mill, which then occupied one of the floors of the Moore mills of North Chelmsford. Morris was employed in this place as a bonfixer, having come there from Laconia some time before the Spaulding woman started to work there.

The two became acquainted and as time went on became very intimate. Morris had been boarding at Scribner's boarding house for several months, but after becoming intimate with the Spaulding woman he removed and went to the Spaulding house, which he left to Mrs. Spaulding completely furnished at the time that her husband secured the divorce.

MAGGIE BURKE, WHO KISSED MORRIS AND AROUSED THE DEAD WOMAN'S JEALOUSY.

Prior to Morris taking up his abode at the Spaulding house the lower section of the house had been rented, while Mrs. Spaulding retained a few rooms on the second floor for herself. It was in one of the rooms on the second floor that Morris lodged for several months. Last April the Shirreff company removed its plant to Fitchburg and Mrs. Spaulding lost her employment. Morris had the opportunity of retaining his position and going to Fitchburg with the company, which he did. It was only temporarily, however, and in a few weeks he was back in North Chelmsford, living again at the Spaulding house.

So far as can be learned neither has worked since that time, but Morris always seemed to have a plentiful supply of money.

COUPLE MARRIED IN LAWRENCE.

Last June, however, the Morris man prevailed upon the woman to marry him and they went to Lawrence where a marriage license was secured at the office of the city clerk in that city and the marriage was performed by Duncan Woods, a justice of the peace.

Both claimed to have been married, and when they returned to North Chelmsford notice was given to the tenant occupying the lower part of the house to vacate as they intended to go housekeeping.

A few weeks later the tenement was vacated and the couple lived alone in the house. As neither of them was doing any work and time hung heavily on their hands, Morris started to drink and the woman joined him in his carousals. Fights were frequent between the couple and the neighbors in the vicinity became disgusted with the condition of affairs, but made no effort to have the trouble stopped. It was common report that the condition of affairs at the house was anything but harmonious.

Things went on in this manner for sometime when Morris suggested to his wife that the property be turned over to him; but the woman refused to do this, and whenever Morris broached the subject there was a fight. On one occasion when Morris attempted to have the woman sign the house over to him he beat her in such a manner that it was sometime before she appeared in public.

MORRIS ABUSED HER.

After receiving the beating she left the house and remained away for several days, but finally went back, but the relations between the two were never the same after that fight for quarrels were more numerous.

Early last week, when, it is understood, Morris was intoxicated, the transfer of the property was again suggested to Mrs. Spaulding and again she refused point blank. Morris then threatened to kill her unless she did as he ordered.

The following day the differences were cast aside, and according to the story told last night, the two went on a trip to New York, visiting Coney Island and other places, and Morris spent his money lavishly. It is not known when they returned home, but there were no indications of any trouble between them since they were noticed about the place Monday.

During the past few weeks Morris has been making efforts to secure employment at his trade, and finally on Monday last he received word from Maynard that there was employment awaiting him there in the plant of the American Woolen company. He decided to accept the position, and told the woman that she must accompany him.

The plan seemed agreeable and both packed up a few of their belongings and came to Lowell on the four o'clock car yesterday afternoon, presumably with the intention of going to Maynard. Prior to coming to town they paid a visit at the post office in North Chelmsford to see if there was any mail for them.

After leaving the car in Middlesex street they entered a saloon where several drinks were bought and in which place the trouble culminated which caused the tragedy at the depot.

TWICE MARRIED

Morris Has Wife in Laconia, N. H.

George F. Morris lived in Laconia, N. H., with his wife, who, before marriage, was Miss Ida M. Brough of Putneyville, Vt., for several years, but left there about four years ago. Since then he has endeavored a number of times to see his wife and was there on August 2, but Mrs. Morris steadfastly refused to leave her sister, with whom she had made her home since her husband left her. Mrs. Morris has her 18-year-old daughter with her.

Morris is 47 years old and a machinist by trade, but during the past few years he has roamed about New England considerably and has not remained in any place for more than a few months.

A ROYAL SALUTE

King Edward Reviews Combined Fleets

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Aug. 2.—King Edward celebrated the anniversary of his coronation today by reviewing the combined French and British fleets, aggregating some 70 ships. The event was somewhat marred by gloomy and showery weather, but the enthusiasm of the vast crowds occupying every vantage point ashore and afloat, was undiminished.

The royal yacht Victoria and Albert, followed by a few privileged yachts, slowly passed down the lines of the fleets. As King Edward approached the French and British flagships, the firing of a royal salute began and the entire combined fleets joined in a salute of 11 guns.

After the review the Victoria and Albert returned to her moorings. Later the king proceeded to the battleship Massena, the French flagship, where he was the guest of Vice Admiral Caillard at luncheon. The prince of Wales and the duke of Connaught accompanied his majesty.

The French fleet then weighed anchor and entered Portsmouth harbor.

informed she became badly frightened and informed the police that she was in no way responsible. She said that she knew Morris through knowing the Spaulding woman, but that she had only met him a few times. She admitted that they were in the South street saloon drinking yesterday and that she sat in his lap and kissed him there. She said that the other woman did not seem to mind it. When taken into court this morning she was deadly pale and trembled like a leaf, her nerves being totally unstrung as the result of drinking and her intense fear. She pleaded guilty of second offence of drunkenness and stated to Lieut. Donahhon that she was with Morris and the woman only a short time and then went out to Lakeview, where she remained until the last car. Judge Pickman asked her several questions and then sentenced her to jail for two months.

Upon hearing the sentence she threw herself into the arms of Probation Officer Slattery and wept hysterically. She threw herself into a seat and covering her face with her hands sobbed and cried: "Don't send me there." She was gently raised to her feet and asked to accompany the officer downstairs, but her limbs refused to move and she fell back half-fainting into the arms of Officer Breault who led her down stairs to the cell. When arrested this morning she cried as she was being booked and Morris who recognized her voice in his cell cried out to Officer Bigelow who was keeping guard over him. "That's the woman who caused this trouble. She was with me in the saloon." When she was led into the cell room a few moments later he got a glimpse at her as she passed and again cried out: "That's the woman who caused the trouble."

SENT FOR HIS WIFE.

Morris this morning requested Supt. Moffatt to send for his wife whom he deserted in Laconia, N. H., intimating that he wanted her to get the money which he had with him when arrested. Supt. Moffatt immediately sent word to Laconia and the woman is expected here tonight. Morris stated to Supt. Moffatt that when he married the Spaulding woman he did not know whether or not his wife was alive as he had not lived with her for six years up to that time. A dispatch from Laconia stated that he called on his wife at her home recently while he stated that he had been there within a short time which would indicate that he had entertained the intention of abandoning the Spaulding woman and returning to his legal wife if she would consent to take him back, but being unable to induce her to live with him again returned to his paramour. From statements made as to their quarrels it would also appear that the Spaulding woman suspected that he was about to return to his wife and the theory that he intended to go away somewhere suddenly is strengthened by the fact that he had been carrying over $1000 around with him for some time.

LIGHT SENTENCES

AT TODAY'S SESSION OF POLICE COURT.

Benjamin L. Jones was arrested this morning by Inspector Maher and Officer Geroux on suspicion of larceny from Louis Talbot. He will be arraigned tomorrow.

CHURCH WEDDING

Philadelphia Man Takes Lowell Bride

Mr. John Buckley, a well known electrician of Philadelphia, and Miss Elizabeth Lynch, a popular lady of St. Peter's parish, were united in marriage at St. Peter's church this morning. A nuptial high mass was celebrated by Rev. Michael Ronan, pastor of the church.

The entrance to the church was canopied and Miss Lynch entered the church on the arm of her brother, Michael E. Lynch who gave her away. Shortly after the bride entered the groom came from the vestry and met her at the sanctuary rail.

As the bridal party entered the church the organist played Lohengrin's wedding march and during the service the choir which was augmented for the occasion, sang appropriate selections.

The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Fr. Ronan, and George and John Lee were the altar boys in attendance. Thomas Gentry was master of ceremonies. The bride was becomingly attired in white crepe de chene with a white taffta under dress, trimmed with lace. The veil was caught in the diamond engagement ring which the bride wore.

The bride was attended by Miss Marietta Lee, who wore a pink Japanese silk dress, accordion plaited with a sunburst effect. The groom was attended by Mr. Michael E. Lynch.

As the happy couple were leaving the church Mendelsohn's wedding march was played.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckley left for the home of the bride, 20 Keene street, where a wedding reception was held. A dinner was served at noon there being a large attendance of relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckley will leave this evening for a wedding tour to Atlantic City and New York after which they will take up their residence at 21 Stiles street, Philadelphia.

FUNERALS

NEALON—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Nealon, took place this morning at 8.30 from her home 158 Market street and was largely attended by sorrowing friends and relatives. The cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church where at 9 o'clock a mass of requiem was celebrated, Rev. Fr. Gilday officiating. The choir under the direction of Michael J. Johnson, sang the Gregorian mass and during services appropriate selections were rendered by members of the choir. Mr. Johnson presiding at the organ. There was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes including a pillow inscribed "Mother" from the family; wreath from Kittie and Annie Barrett and Alice Slowey; pillow inscribed "At Rest" from Mary Hyer and Nellie Monahan; spray from Nellie McEvoy; spray from Lizzie Lee and spray from Stephen Lawton. The bearers were Robert Gookin, Thomas McCormick, James Farrell, Frank McMahon, James McMahon and James Barry. At the grave Rev. Fr. Gilday conducted the final obsequies, and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

LANDERS—The funeral of Thomas Landers took place yesterday morning from his late home, 27 Wamesit street. The body was sent to Wilton, N. H., on the 9.01 train and a funeral high mass was celebrated at the Sacred Heart church in that town at 10.30. Rev. Fr. Scott officiated. The choir sang Schmidt's mass and at the offertory Mrs. Lucas sang the "Pie Jesu." After the mass Mrs. Kane sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" and as the body was being borne from the church the choir sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee." There was a very large attendance of friends of the deceased and the church was well filled. There was a very beautiful floral piece, a standing cross on base from the Higelow Carpet Co. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery. Undertaker John J. Higgins & Co. had charge.

Saturday, August 12, 1905

ABSOLUTE SALE BY PUBLIC AUCTION OF A VERY PRETTY COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 3000 SQUARE FEET OF LAND, SITUATED AT NO. 54 HAMPSHIRE STREET. ALSO A LOT OF LAND CONTAINING ABOUT 9800 SQUARE FEET ON HILDRETH STREET.

Having reached an age where the care and responsibility of real estate is more than I wish to carry, I will pledge for absolute sale these two parcels to be sold on their respective premises, Saturday, Aug. 12, 1905, regardless of any condition of the weather.

At 3 O'Clock

The first parcel is a pretty and attractive little home, situated on the westerly side of Hampshire street, numbering 54 on said street. It is a modern house of seven rooms and bath, cemented cellar, best of sewerage, gas lighting, and has all the requisites for a perfect home property. To the reader of this notice, I want to say, as to the situation and beauty of this parcel, you will have to look upon it with your own eyes. The rooms are of good size and conveniently set apart; the building is in perfect repair, and sets on good, high, level land. The lot is about 3000 feet in area, with a frontage on the street of about 30 feet. I have it rented at the present time and it brings in a yearly rental of about $192. Now this is a perfect little home for someone, in a first class neighborhood, and I am determined to sell it to the highest bidder on that day set apart.

At 3.30 O'Clock

I will sell a lot of land containing about 9800 square feet situated on the easterly side of Hildreth street, about opposite the cemetery. The city at this point has grand elevation and the surroundings are very beautiful, many pretty homes having been built during the past six or seven years. The lot has a frontage of about 50 feet on Hildreth street; the extreme depth being over 300 feet.

Now one could so place buildings upon this lot, giving it a 10-foot avenue the entire length on one side and fronting the buildings on the avenue. This would allow the erection of four or five houses that would certainly rent to good advantage as there are not many idle tenements in this locality. The same conditions go with this parcel as with the first, being that I have absolutely pledged my word that I will sell to the highest bidder.

Terms of sale: $250 must be paid to the auctioneer as a deposit on the cottage on Hampshire street, as soon as it is struck off. The same must be done with $50 on the Hildreth street land.

Per Order, STEPHEN McMONAGLE.

Saturday, August 12, at 4.15 O'Clock

POSITIVE SALE BY PUBLIC AUCTION OF A TWO AND ONE-HALF STORY, TWO TENEMENT HOUSE AND ABOUT 2447 SQUARE FEET OF LAND, AT NO. 21 ROBINSON STREET.

Being a non-resident of your city, I have pledged this property to be publicly disposed of to the highest bidder. I have recently papered and painted the interior, putting it in very good shape. The house contains eight rooms, four with each tenement. They are of good size, conveniently laid out and for small families very desirable. The building is in very good repair and for the person who could look after it properly it will make a grand good investment on the purchase price. The lot contains about 2447 square feet of land and is situated at the corner of Robinson street and Robinson court. It has good elevation and a number of fruit trees, and has a frontage of about 40 feet on Robinson street and about 60 feet on Robinson court. Robinson street is a short street running westerly off Congress street, and this house numbers 21 on said street. Now I am determined to sell this property as I do not want the bother of traveling down here from Manchester in order to look after it.

Terms: $200 must be paid as a deposit to the auctioneer as soon as the property is struck off.

TRAGEDY AT DEPOT

George F. Morris Shot to Death Jennie B. Spaulding

Story of the Crime by Eye Witnesses—Career of the Dead Woman a Checkered One—Morris Tried to Commit Suicide at Police Station—He Has a Wife and Daughter at Laconia, N. H., to Whom He Will Give His Money if Made to Pay Death Penalty

BECAUSE HE ALLOWED A DRUNKEN WOMAN TO EMBRACE HIM IN A SALOON, MRS. JENNIE SPAULDING UPBRAIDED GEORGE F. MORRIS, WITH WHOM SHE HAD LIVED FOR MORE THAN A YEAR, AND MORRIS, HIS ANGER INCREASED BECAUSE OF HIS NERVOUS CONDITION DUE TO A PROTRACTED SPREE, SHOT JENNIE SPAULDING DEAD.

THE SHOOTING OCCURRED AT THE NORTHERN DEPOT AT ABOUT 5.20 O'CLOCK YESTERDAY AFTERNOON AND WHILE THE DEPOT WAS CROWDED WITH PASSENGERS. A WOMAN WHO WAS NEAR MRS. SPAULDING WHEN THE FATAL SHOTS WERE FIRED HAD A NARROW ESCAPE AND FAINTED ON A TRUCK ON THE PLATFORM AFTER LEAVING THE WAITING ROOM.

WHILE HIS VICTIM WAS BREATHING HER LAST ON THE WAITING ROOM FLOOR MORRIS TURNED THE REVOLVER UPON HIMSELF, BUT THE FIFTH CHAMBER WAS EMPTY. HE FIRED FOUR SHOTS INTO THE WOMAN'S BODY.

IN A CELL AT THE POLICE STATION LAST EVENING MORRIS, ON THE VERGE OF COLLAPSE, BIT HIMSELF SAVAGELY ON THE WRIST AND HAD ALMOST SEVERED AN ARTERY BEFORE BEING DETECTED. MORRIS' HAND WAS DRESSED AND AN OFFICER TOOK UP HIS POSITION AT THE CELL DOOR IN ORDER TO PREVENT FURTHER ATTEMPT, ON THE PART OF MORRIS, AT SELF DESTRUCTION.

MORRIS AND THE WOMAN WHOM HE MURDERED HAD LIVED TOGETHER IN NORTH CHELMSFORD AND HAD RETURNED FROM A VISIT TO CONEY ISLAND WHERE THEY HAD BEEN HAVING A GAY TIME. MORRIS HAD MORE THAN $1700 IN HIS POSSESSION WHEN THE PAIR LEFT NORTH CHELMSFORD FOR CONEY ISLAND AND WHEN SEARCHED AT THE POLICE STATION LAST EVENING $1062 WAS FOUND IN HIS POSSESSION...WHEN ASKED WHERE HE GOT SO MUCH MONEY HE SAID HE DIDN'T KNOW. A PERSONAL FRIEND OF MORRIS' STATED LAST EVENING THAT THE LATTER HAD BEEN LEFT ABOUT $2000 BY A RELATIVE WHO DIED A FEW MONTHS AGO.

THE EXCITEMENT AT THE RAILROAD STATION WHEN THE SHOOTING OCCURRED WAS SUCH AS TO BE REMEMBERED BY THOSE WHO WITNESSED IT FOR THE REST OF THEIR NATURAL LIVES. MORRIS WAS ARRESTED BY LIEUTENANT JAMES E. WEBSTER, WHO GRABBED HIM ABOUT THE NECK FROM BEHIND, AND CHOKED HIM UNTIL HE DROPPED TO HIS KNEES ON THE FLOOR, DROPPING THE REVOLVER AS HE WENT DOWN. OFFICER PETER CAWLEY WENT TO LIEUTENANT WEBSTER'S ASSISTANCE. MORRIS WAS HANDCUFFED AND TAKEN TO THE STATION. HE WAS IN A DAZED CONDITION AND DID NOT SEEM TO REALIZE WHAT HAD TAKEN PLACE.

AS THE OFFICER'S GRASP TIGHTENED ON HIS WINDPIPE, MORRIS DROPPED THE REVOLVER AND LAWYER WRIGHT OF BOSTON PICKED IT UP AS IT FELL AND BROUGHT IT TO THE SUN OFFICE.

MORRIS BEGGED THE OFFICERS TO SHOOT HIM. HE SAID HE WANTED TO DIE, BUT HE DID NOT MANIFEST ANY GREAT DEGREE OF EXCITEMENT.

THE SHOOTING

MURDER SCENE IN NORTH STATION.

Morris is 47 years old and Jennie Spaulding was in her 29th year. It was in a saloon in South street that the kissing which made Mrs. Spaulding jealous occurred. When the couple entered they were ushered into a room where parties were drinking, and one of them, a young woman partially intoxicated, threw her arms about Morris' neck and kissed him. She sat on his knee and said, several times, to Jennie Spaulding: "You're not jealous, are you?" Mrs. Spauldin did not show her jealousy there, but she took Morris to task, severely, on the way to the depot, and Morris said she exasperated him so that he lost his temper and his head as well. He said they had arranged to go to Maynard, but because of what happened in the saloon she refused to go. A woman who was in their company in the saloon said that Jennie Spaulding asked Morris why he didn't put his money in the bank instead of carrying it about in his pocket. He made an evasive answer and she said: "I suppose you are in readiness to go back to your wife and children in Laconia, N. H. Small loss, go ahead."

On the way to the railroad station from the saloon in South street, Morris and Jennie Spaulding called at Parker's lunch room in Middlesex street. The young lady who waited on them was seen by a representative of The Sun this forenoon. She said they were in the habit of taking their meals there when in Lowell and she knew them both.

REFUSED TO GO TO MAYNARD.

"They did not have any argument here," she said. "They seemed to be on friendly terms, but Jennie did say she would not go to Maynard with Morris." After they left the restaurant however, then engaged in loud words and when they arrived at the depot he went into the men's toilet room and when he returned he opened fire on his victim.

SHOT FROM BEHIND WOMAN.

She was sitting on the second settee in front of the Conway Transfer office with her back to the office and to the door through which Morris entered. He walked up behind her, leaned over, said something and fired two shots. She got up, ran across the room to within a few feet of the telephone desk where the operator, Miss McKittrick was sitting. Eugene S. Hylan was sitting on a settee near the telephone desk and Jennie Spaulding, with outstretched hands, said: "For God sake save me!" With these words she sank to the floor and Mr. Hylan, upon turning around, looked into the muzzle of Morris' revolver. Mr. Hylan went out of the depot for the purpose of summoning an officer, but Lieut. Webster was coming in one door when Mr. Hylan was going out another.

The lieutenant grabbed Morris and put him down. In the meantime Dr. C. Ebret Pool had been summoned and arrived in the depot just as the arrest was being made. The doctor examined the woman who was lying with her head near the middle entrance to Middlesex street. He left of her pulse and turning to the officer, said: "She has only a few more seconds to live," and even as he spoke the last flutter of the heart was felt and the life went out from Jennie Spaulding's body. The ambulance arrived and the body was removed to St. John's hospital where the ambulance driver was told that the woman was dead. The body was then taken to the warerooms of Undertaker Young on Prescott street.

MORRIS SORRY

SAYS "BOOZE" IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE CRIME.

George F. Morris was taken to the jail in Thorndike street by Officer Frank Goodwin shortly after the noon hour today. It seemed that some one must have sent out the alarm that Morris was about to be taken away. The crowds surged into Market street and chased after the wagon to have a look at the murderer.

When arraigned in police court this forenoon Morris said he did not want a lawyer but it is understood that, later on, he changed his mind and that he will be represented by counsel when his case is called next Wednesday.

Morris was alone with Officer Goodwin on the way to the jail and he did not have very much to say. He said he was sorry for what he had done and blamed it all on the "booze."

"I suppose you think I am a pretty miserable character?" said Morris to the officer.

"I know that your action of yesterday was a miserable one," replied Mr. Goodwin.

"Poor Jennie," said Morris, "I wish that I were dead and she were living. Booze did it all; I am not a murderer at heart; the drink did it."

Morris was married to Ida L. Brough of Ascutneyville, Vt., on March 10, 1882, at Hudson, Mass. They have one daughter, Lizzie Eva Morris, now 18 years of age, an invalid who lives with her mother. Morris has not lived with his wife for the last four years.

After they were married, they lived at Lisbon Falls, Me., Hudson, Mass., Gilbertville, Mass., Maynard, Mass., and six years ago he worked in the Riverside mills at Lebanon as loomfixer.

He was a member of the Masonic fraternity and Odd Fellows at Lisbon Falls, Me., and is also a Knight of Pythias.

Morris went to Laconia to see his wife last June and again on July 29, when he stayed there a week, stopping at the Eagle hotel. Every day he visited his wife and tried to persuade her to live with him again, but this she refused to do.

LOST JOB

MORRIS SLAPPED A GIRL IN THE FACE.

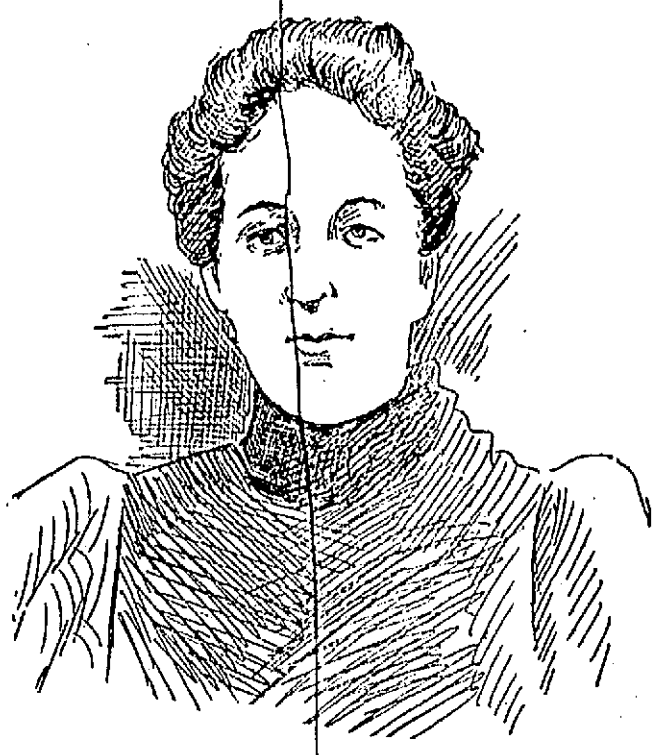
A man who worked with Morris at the mill of the American Woolen company in Maynard in conversation with a representative of The Sun today, stated that several months ago Morris, then employed as a loomfixer, was discharged from the mill on account of some difficulty with a Finn girl in one of the rooms.

It is claimed that while at work around the machines one of the girls asked him to fix her machine and he promised to do so, but he becoming too familiar, she objected and threatened to report him to the overseer, whereupon he slapped her in the face.

The matter was reported to the head of the mill with the result that Morris was discharged shortly afterwards.

BON MARCHE STUDIO.

The only picture of the victim of the tragedy at the Middlesex street depot yesterday was obtained from John F. Spaulding by a representative of The Sun last evening. The picture was a very small one. It was a snap



MRS. JENNIE SPAULDING. THE MURDERED WOMAN.

AUTOPSY PERFORMED.

Dr. Irish, assisted by Drs. Pillsbury and Smith, performed an autopsy on the body of the victim of yesterday's tragedy this forenoon. Dr. Irish has not yet made his report. To a representative of The Sun he said he would sign the death certificate, "death by pistol shot wounds."

PRIVATE BURIAL.

Jennie Spaulding's body is still in the morgue at Undertaker Young's in Prescott street. The funeral will take place about 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and the burial will be strictly private. Interment will take place in the family lot at Tyngsboro.

EXTRA

"Married" Career of Murderer and Victim

On May 6th George F. Morris obtained a license to marry Jennie Spaulding and on May 8th they were married.

Since that date up to the time of the murder they led a riotous existence, both drinking hard and with hardly a moment of happiness or comfort.

The couple were married only three weeks when the woman disappeared and Morris engaged Private Detective James E. Drury to find her and bring her back to him.

Mr. Drury was employed on the case up to this morning when he received the first information of the murder. Speaking of his connection with the case Mr. Drury said: "I believe I was closer to the man under arrest than anyone else for I did considerable business for him since the marriage to the Spaulding woman and he confided in me. I always believed him to be a square, upright man, more sinned against than sinning and the information that he had killed his wife gave me a great surprise. He had had a lot of trouble with her since their marriage, as the result of which he has been drinking hard but it never occurred to me that he would kill her for he was a timid man and was afraid of her and her friends. After they had been married three weeks he came to me one day and told me that his wife had run away from him.

"He said that he had tried to stop her drinking and she had refused and he also said that some one had told that he had a wife living which he said was not true, telling me that his wife was dead. He told me he would go to Maynard for a few days and then to Laconia and that he would write me from Laconia, so that I could send him any information regarding his wife's whereabouts. Leaving Laconia he went to Boston and I heard from him there. Finally after four weeks he came to me and said that his wife was at a farm in Westford and wanted me to go there with him and induce her to go with him. We went and the lady of the house said she was not there and invited us to search the house. We did so but did not find her. Later in the day we sent a boy there and he found her there.

The next day she sent word to the house in Westford stating that she wanted to meet him there the following Sunday and to bring her sister with him. He was afraid to go alone, stating that he was afraid they might do a job on him and take his money when they got him, and he asked me to go. I declined, but he went out with a man from North Chelmsford, and as a result his wife accompanied him back to her sister's house at North Chelmsford and then the pair went away and visited New York and Coney Island, after which they went to New Jersey, and remained away on this pleasure trip four weeks. When they returned Morris came to see me and said that he had spent $500 on the trip and that they had a good time.

Everything then went along smoothly until the 27th of July, when Morris called on me again and said that his wife had left him once more, taking with her $300 of his money. He said that she had been drinking again and that she brought up the old story of him having another wife. He asked me to try and find out who started the story of the other wife and told me that his wife was dead. He stated that she had been drinking and that her actions had caused him to be drunk a good part of the time. Last Saturday he called here again and said that he had been to Laconia and had had a good time with his brother. He said that he was going to Maynard to work and wanted me to try and find her so that he could get her to accompany him there.

I made an investigation and learned that she and her sister had been seen Friday going from the house with some clothing and I informed him that I thought his wife was in Chelmsford again. From that time I did not hear from him but I suppose that going to Chelmsford on Monday he found her and prevailed on her to go with him up to the time of the murder. He thought a great deal of her and I never imagined that he would do her any harm. He seemed willing to spend any amount of money on her and he had considerable money of his own and was an intelligent, clean-appearing and well connected man."

ARCHBISHOP CHAPPELLE DEAD

NEW ORLEANS, AUG. 9.—ARCHBISHOP CHAPPELLE, OF THE ROMAN CATHOLIC DIOCESE OF NEW ORLEANS, DIED THIS AFTERNOON OF YELLOW FEVER.

CLEAN THE CITY

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 9.—A great street cleaning campaign was inaugurated here today and will continue until nightfall. Besides the paid laborers of the city and the prisoners from the jails and houses of detention thousands of volunteers went to work to give New Orleans a thorough scrubbing.

The state board of health was in receipt of advices from several parishes today notifying it of their disposition to modify yellow fever quarantine regulations. Restrictions were taken off freight provided it is shipped in fumigated cars.

Governor Blanchard has received an appeal for assistance from Bon Aimi, La., where two cases were reported. One has died and the other is dying. There are 1200 people in the settlement and only one doctor. All foreign immigration into New Orleans is to be stopped until after the fever is stamped out.

CURTIS WON

TOOK FIRST PRIZE FOR MOTOR CYCLES.

WALTHAM, Mass., Aug. 9.—C. G. Curtis of Hammondsport, N. Y., won first prize and the time prize in the 25-mile road race for motor cycle at today's session of the convention of the Federation of the American Motor Cyclists held in this city. The race which was a handicap event over a five lap course, was very exciting. Eighteen riders started, but tumbles and punctured tires put out seven men. There were six prizes offered, five for the first five men to finish and one for the rider making the best time.

SHE FEARED MURDER

Had Consulted Lawyer in Relation to It But Failed to Carry Out Intention—Morris is Held Without Bail on Charge of Murder—"Maggie Burke" Got Two Months in Jail and Made Scene in Police Court

Had Jennie Spaulding gone to her lawyer yesterday as she intended to do when last she saw him, on last Friday, she would have been alive today, while in all probability her slayer would have been before police court this morning on a charge of threatening her life and would have been placed under bonds to keep the peace.

But unfortunately the poor woman possessed the weaker mind of the two and after consulting her attorney she returned to the man of whom she had become afraid and listening to his threats or pleadings was induced to accompany him yesterday with the tragic result as is elsewhere reported.

On last Friday Mrs. Morris or Spaulding visited the office of a well known local attorney and informed him that she desired to have her marriage formally annulled and would probably swear out a warrant against him for threatening.

She stated that when she married Morris she did not know that he had a wife living. They were married in Lawrence by Duncan Woof, a justice of the peace. Afterward she found out that not only was Morris married but he made frequent references to his wife.

She stated that she owned some property in North Chelmsford over which she and Morris had had frequent disputes. At one time she said that Morris insisted that she order out the tenant who was living in the house at the time that they might go there to live and then later did not want to live there. She asked her counsel if it would be all right for her to go there and live and he promised to look up the title of the house and ascertain just how the deed read as she said that it was given to her by her former husband at the time that the divorce proceedings took place.

But she stated further that Morris had threatened to kill her and she made inquiries as to whether he could get possession of the property in the event of anything happening to her. The lawyer advised her to institute court proceedings for threatening at once and also to have her marriage formally annulled on account of its illegality. She was agreeable to the proposition to have the marriage annulled but on the matter of having Morris arrested right away for threatening she hesitated and upon leaving the office stated that she would return on Monday or Tuesday. Yesterday the lawyer recalled her first visit and expected her in all day. When at night he learned of the tragedy he made known the fact of her visit last week.

Superintendent Moffatt is satisfied upon hearing all the facts leading up to the tragedy and a few subsequent thereto, that Morris premeditated the murder but intended to shoot himself immediately after killing the woman. The revolver with which he shot her was not recently purchased but was one that he bought in Boston when he drew his money from three banks in that city where it had been on deposit. At that time he purchased the revolver and since then has been carrying both money and revolver around with him. In the lapse of time he forgot that there were only four bullets in the revolver ad hence yesterday after firing four shots at his wife turned the revolver to his own head expecting to kill himself with the final bullet. He also stated to Superintendent Moffatt that he had previously contemplated suicide.

MORRIS ARRAIGNED IN COURT.

Not since the appearance of the Vaughn brothers in police court has there been such a large attendance in police court as that which took up every available inch of room in the dreary court room this morning when it was expected that George F. Morris would be arraigned for murder and Maggie Burke, alias Feuntis, for drunkenness, the latter being the woman who was with Morris and the Spaulding woman in the South street barroom. Shortly after the prisoners filed into the court the woman was brought up and after they had been taken down Morris was led up by Officer Duncan. He walked unsteadily and appeared to be undergoing great mental suffering. Upon entering the cage he sank into a seat and buried his head in his hands, in which position he remained until called to listen to the reading of the complaint. His left wrist was bandaged as the result of his unsuccessful suicidal attempt to open the artery of his wrist in his cell last night. He was pale and his eyes rolled about, giving an indication of severe mental strain. His hands trembled as they rested on the rail. He shook his head back and forth slightly as the clerk read the lengthy complaint and as Clerk Trull pronounced the ominous words "did kill and murder," bowed his head.

When asked to plead he said "Not guilty," in almost a whisper, and the clerk, not hearing him, repeated the question. He answered again, slightly louder the second time. He was then fully committed until next Wednesday, when he will have a preliminary hearing. He was then returned to a cell to await removal to jail, where he will be confined until next Wednesday.

When asked down stairs if he cared to choose counsel, he replied that he desired no counsel, but counsel undoubtedly will be assigned by the court.

MRS. FEUNTIS SENTENCED.

The woman who figures so prominently in the case was charged with drunkenness and it was her second offence. She was arrested about 12.45 o'clock this morning by Officer Elie Breault at the corner of Middlesex street and King street. At that time she said that she lived in King street, but this morning said that her name was not Maggie Burke, as she is sometimes known, but Maggie J. Nartin Feuntis. She said she was married to a travelling salesman in Manchester, N. H., but that he was not around here now. She claimed to room in Central street but did not know the number. She stated that she had not been working for some time past and had been on a spree. She did not know of the murder until this morning, and when

Colored Woman Killed Another and Herself

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—A very dark negress, known as Mary Matthews, 25 years old, the reputed wife of James Matthews, a white man, a bartender by occupation, with whom she lived at 105 Lexington avenue, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon shot and killed Mattie Martin, 22 years old, a pretty mulatto, of whom she was fiercely jealous. She then shot and killed herself.

The Martin girl had been living on the third floor of the house with another colored woman named Mary Bain since she came from Washington, a few months ago. The Matthews couple, who occupied the second floor, had frequent quarrels over the girl.

The two women had a violent dispute on Monday and it was renewed yesterday afternoon, when the Matthews woman rushed to the third floor with a loaded five chamber revolver concealed under her skirt. In the midst of a loud wrangle between the women two shots were heard by the other occupants of the house. Almost immediately after the shooting the Matthews woman rushed down to her own rooms and locked herself in. Then followed two more shots and the sound of a heavy fall on the floor.

When policemen from the Gates avenue station arrived both women were dead, the mulatto with a bullet wound in the head and another in the left side close to the heart and her slayer with bullet wounds in the breast and head. The powder marks on the clothing of the mulatto showed that the revolver had been held close to her body. The police held the Bain woman and two colored men who were in the house at the time of the shooting as witnesses.

AN INQUEST

DEATH OF MISS MALLIOUX WILL BE INVESTIGATED.

CHELSEA, Mass., Aug. 9.—By the direction of Judge Albert Bossom of the Chelsea district court an inquest will be held next Wednesday into the circumstances attending the death of Miss Florence F. Mailloux of Woonsocket, R. I., at a private hospital here a few weeks ago. The judge received a report from Medical Examiner Harris upon the case last night and after reading it decided to order an inquest.

CRUEL MURDER

Continued.

EYE WITNESS

TELLS STORY OF THE TRAGEDY.

The story of the tragedy is told very plainly by Miss McKittrick, the telephone operator. She told the following story to a representative of The Sun today: "I did not see the woman when she entered the waiting room but I saw the man when he approached her from behind. He leaned over as if to speak to her and then two reports rang out. She came toward my desk screaming for help. Mr. Hylan was sitting on a settee near the desk and she sank on her knees in front of him. Morris pointed the revolver at Mr. Hylan and the latter went out to summon an officer.

TURNED REVOLVER ON HIMSELF.

"The woman was then stretched upon the floor and Morris, leaning over her, fired two more shots into her body. Then he stood up and turned the revolver upon himself but it didn't go off. I heard it snap four times. While Morris was endeavoring to shoot himself, Lieut. Webster stepped up behind him, grabbed him and put him down. The revolver fell from Morris' grasp as he went down beneath the superior strength of the officer.

"Officer Peter Carney went to Lieut. Webster's assistance and Morris was handcuffed. There were not more than five people in the waiting room when the arrest was made. I never saw people leave a room so quickly. I did not see any one jumping over benches to get at the man who did the shooting. I was the nearest to him, I think, when the arrest was made."

"Why didn't you leave the room?" asked the reporter.

"I don't know why I didn't leave. The thought didn't occur to me. I saw others running, but I remained in my seat. One experience of the kind, however, is enough for me."

FIRST HUSBAND

OF JENNIE McNAUGHTON TELLS OF HER CAREER.

John F. Spaulding, the divorced husband of the victim of yesterday's shooting, was seen by a representative of The Sun in Mr. Spaulding's cosy home in Howard street last night. Mr. Spaulding is a fine looking man and has the reputation of being unusually good natured. People who know him and know what he had to contend with while living at North Chelmsford, say he stood more than the great majority of men would stand.

"You heard of the tragedy at the depot, I presume?" said the reporter to Mr. Spaulding.

"Yes; poor girl; it was a sad ending or a ruined life. Hold her when I left her, after I had suffered her as long as I could, that she would come to a bad end, and I was not surprised to hear what happened.

"Poor girl, she was her own worst enemy, and while she caused me a great deal of pain she had my forgiveness. I LIVED WITH HER ELEVEN YEARS. TWO YEARS WERE BLESSED WITH HAPPINESS AND THE OTHER NINE WERE HELL ON EARTH. ONLY GOD AND MYSELF KNOW WHAT I SUFFERED.

"We were married in Westford. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Rowley. Her maiden names was Jennie McNaughton and she was twenty-two years old when I married her. She was fair to look upon and smart as a whip. She came to this country with her parents from Scotland. She was then a mere child and the family settled in Tyngsboro where she and her sisters were reared.

"Jennie was employed in Graniteville mill when I first met her. I built a home in Canal street, North Chelmsford, and for two years we were both very happy. Time and time again I took her back after she had been on a spree with low associates. I think her first escapade after she was married was in Westford. I did everything I could think of to call her back to the right way and as often did she promise to reform. Her father came to live with us and died at my house. On his dying bed he told Jennie she was not using me right and begged of her to do better. She promised him that she would, but she grew worse instead of better.

"I could see the end in view and I was almost broken-hearted. Night after night until midnight and after I had worked on our little home and when I had made it cosy I discovered a thorn in my flesh, the thorn was Jennie. After protracted sprees I nursed her back to health and she would be all right for a few weeks and then away she would go.

"There is a limit to human endurance and patience ceased to be a virtue. I could no longer live with her, and I came to Lowell. I lived at the Richardson hotel for nineteen months. She called there several times but I refused to see her. I engaged Judge Fisher to get a divorce for me and I succeeded in getting it. That was in the fall of 1903. I had married her in 1899. I did not want to turn her out of house and home when I left her and because of that fact I gave her the house that I had built in North Chelmsford.

At the National C. T. A. U. Convention

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 9.—Over 800 delegates to the national convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America assembled at St. Mary's church today to attend pontifical high mass celebrated by Bishop Hoban of the Scranton diocese. During the service the bishop made an address of welcome. Later the delegates assembled in the Ninth regiment armory, where the convention was formally opened. Bishop Canevin of Pittsburg, the national president, presided.

The convention spent the morning transacting routine business. Chancellor Turner of Philadelphia will read a brief from the pope on temperance, sent especially for the occasion at the solicitation of Archbishop Ryan, who is now in Europe and the only brief of its kind ever sent to this country by the pope.

All arrangements for the coming of President Roosevelt are completed. He will arrive tomorrow afternoon and be driven to the speaker's stand, where, after a few brief preliminary speeches, he will be introduced by President Mitchell of the Mine Workers' union, who is to act as chairman of the day. Following his speech, he will be driven about the city and then to the Wyoming monument, erected at the scene of the Wyoming massacre, which he has expressed a desire to see. At 7 o'clock he will resume his journey to Chautauqua, N. Y.

THE PRESIDENT

WILL DELIVER THREE SPEECHES DURING HIS TRIP.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 9.—President Roosevelt will leave at 8 a. m. tomorrow for Wilkesbarre, Pa., where at 4 p. m., tomorrow he will deliver an address to the United Mine Workers and members of the Catholic Total Abstinence union. At 7 p. m. he will leave Wilkesbarre for Chautauqua, N. Y., where on Friday at 10 a. m., he will address the Chautauqua assembly. He will leave Chautauqua at noon and will arrive in Oyster Bay about 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The president will be accompanied by Acting Secretary Benjamin F. Barnes, Dr. Chas. F. Stokes of the navy, M. C. Latta, his personal stenographer; representatives of the press associations; secret service officers and messengers.

The president today spent several hours in clearing up executive business in anticipation of his two days' absence.

GIRL KILLED

SHE WAS FOOLING WITH THE ELEVATOR.

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 9.—Mary Rogers, aged 16, was killed last night on the board of trade elevator. With a companion, Melissa Bryant, she was taken to the basement by the elevator boy. The Bryant girl remained on the elevator and started it upward. The Rogers girl tried to spring on it while the car was in motion. Her head caught between the door and the car and her neck was broken.

LAWYER BARRED

Sensation in Police Scandal Case

BROCKTON, Aug. 9.—The admission of Mrs. Jennie Sherman, on the witness stand yesterday, that she had been threatened by Mrs. Arthur P. Alden with being sent back to Sherborn if she did not testify and help Stella Elliott, was the climax of the second day's hearing before Mayor Keith on charges alleging immoral conduct brought against Police Inspector C. E. Harris.

A sensational incident of the hearing was a tilt between E. F. O'Neil, counsel for the Elliott girl, and City Solicitor Dowd, for the prosecution, in which Mayor Keith took the part of the city solicitor and refused to allow Mr. O'Neil to take any part in the case. The incident arose through a suggestion made by Mr. O'Neil to the city solicitor.

"I told you to keep out of this," retorted Mr. Dowd so distinctly as to be heard all over the chamber, "you are here only as a guest."

Mr. O'Neil attempted to address the mayor, but was refused recognition, and finally taking up his papers from Mr. Dowd's table, retired to a chair and watchel the proceedings.

Jennie Sherman rehearsed the times she said she saw Stella in the company of Harris. She testified to conferences at the home of Mrs. A. P. Alden, when the case was in preparation. Then Mr. Fletcher asked this question:

"Didn't Mrs. Alden tell you if you did not testify and help Stella that she would have you sent back to Sherborn?"

There was a long wait; then the witnessed answered, "Yes, sir."

"She frightened you, didn't she?"

"She did the first night she told me."

She testified further that Mrs. Alden went to her home in Whitman twice to see her, and also told witness' sister that she would have her sent back to Sherborn.

Octavia Hilbert testified as to times she saw Stella and Harris together, and that Harris at one time tried to make a "date" with her. Witness testified that Harris was in uniform when she saw him in the railroad station with Stella.

Ira McNeil, night man for the Edison Elearic Illuminating company, testified to Harris and Stella coming to the station and being let into his office there about 10.30 o'clock. He went out on his route immediately after.

Frank E. Wall, Eugene Wall and James Burke testified to Harris putting handcuffs on Stella in Hackett's restaurant in fun, in October or November, 1903, and R. O. Hatch and O. R. Andrews testified to hearing Harris make threats against D. E. Anderson, who is alleged to have followed Harris and a girl to the Charles street school house.

Charles Wah, a Chinese laundryman on Belmont street, has been summoned to testify in behalf of Inspector Harris as to the character of Stella Elliott.

ALMOST A PANIC

State Street in Wild Frenzy Over Copper

SUM OF $7,500,000 INVOLVED

Agreement Said to Have Been Violated

BOSTON, Aug. 9—A mystery which for a fortnight has enveloped transactions in Copper Range was exploded, yesterday afternoon, when the American Loan & Trust company, by refusing to transfer certain shares of Copper Range, made public the fact that a corner in that stock, based on pledges to hold 70,000 shares off the market, existed, and the claim is made that the agreement had been broken by the members of the pool holding the stock.

That pool was made up of A. C. Burrage, of the Standard Oil group, and the bitter enemy of Standard Oil, Thomas W. Lawson. Against Lawson and Burrage suits for millions may be brought.

Mr. Lawson last night admitted that those pledges had been broken. He denied, however, hat he had broken them, and, strange as it may seem to those who have read his strictures upon Standard Oil folk, he defended Mr. Burrage, too, placing the blame for the apparent breach of faith upon bankers and brokers who held Mr. Burrage's stock as collateral and as margins, those interests exercising their right "to loan the stock as every broker does every day."

There are those who differ with Mr. Lawson—as a matter of fact the "street" yesterday accused the author of Frenzied Finance of treachery, but be that as it may, the culmination of the Copper Range deal found State street very much excited with the prospect of a panic, because of certain houses having sold many thousand more shares than they could deliver without the Lawson-Burrage stock. Failures were imminent if the Lawson-Burrage stock could not be legally transferred. Hurridly the governing committee of the stock exchange was called together to summon and hear both sides of the case and decide. Its decision was that the sellers of the stock were within their rights and the corner and the chances of panic were past.

The scenes that succeeded this decision on the stock exchange and in the corridors where speculators are wont to gather have seldom been equalled, and among the large number of bankers who assembled was Mr. Lawson, whom the "street" held responsible for the entanglement.

To remove the condition thus abruptly brought on by the alleged violation of the agreement between Burrage and Lawson and those in control of Copper Range, Paine, Webber & Co., the governing board went into executive session, and after examining several interested financiers, declared that the stock might be delivered.

In the mean time, on the exchange, fluctuations upon the stock had played a merry jig, and even after the session had closed there was an active cash market for Copper Range.

BOARD OF POLICE.

BARNEY OLDFIELD

Nearly Killed in an Auto Race

DETROIT, Aug. 9.—Barney Oldfield had an almost miraculous escape from death yesterday at the automobile races at Grosse Pointe track, when Dan Wurgis' machine came into collision with Oldfield's car in the three-quarter stretch, during the first mile of the five-mile event.

Oldfield and his car went through the fence into the infield and Oldfield received a badly lacerated scalp and a severely bruised right arm.

Wurgis' car also went off the track on the outside but did not upset.

Oldfield, Webb Jay, Charles Burman and Dan Wurgis were the entries in the five-mile open, and Jay jumped into the lead at the start, with Oldfield second.

At the three-quarter stretch Wurgis was following Oldfield close to the pole, and Burman was in the middle of the track.

Oldfield's engine suddenly began working badly. When Wurgis discovered that Oldfield's car was slowing down, he was so close that he could not turn out sharply without running into Burman. He shot between Oldfield and Burnham, but did not clear the rear of Barney's car.

There was a crash, and a cloud of dust. Oldfield's machine swerved, and then tore through the fence. The car went 60 feet into the field, and Oldfield was thrown out and rendered unconscious.

Wurgis' car backed almost completely around, and backed off the outside of the track, down into the stable inclosure, where Wurgis stopped it without injury to either the car or himself.

Oldfield lay unconscious in the infield when a dozen horrified spectators reached his side. He was carried to an ambulance, which had been provided in case of accident, and taken to Harper hospital, where it was said last night that, barring unforeseen developments, he will be out in a few days.

TOO MUCH DUST

VARNUM AVENUE FOLK WANT THE STREET WATERED.

The superintendent of streets is not very popular with residents in Varnum avenue because of the fact that the dust is mountains high and a watering cart is a stranger in the place. The Varnum avenue sewer is the cause of it all. Before work was started on the sewer the street car sprinkler used to do the trick, but the sewer blocked the tracks and now, excepting when it rains, there is nothing to lay the dust.

The taxpayers who are kicking say that there is room enough for a watering cart to pass the sewer and they think Mr. Morse ought to send one up at least once a day. They expect that they will be taxed for street watering and they threaten to kick good and hard when the bills come in. They claim that a watering cart goes back and forth through Riverside street every day and they wonder why they are being discriminated against. There is some talk of appointing a committee to wait on Mr. Morse.

ROYAL ARCANAM

NEW YORK GRAND COUNCIL OBJECTED TO NEW RATES.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 9.—The New York state grand council of the Royal Arcanum, at a special session here today, passed a resolution instructing its 15 delegates to the coming meeting of the supreme council at Put-in-Bay, Ohio, on Aug. 30, to cast their ballots to rescind the action of the supreme council, which in session at Atlantic City, in May, ordered the rates increased on October 1.

The resolution is practically the same as that passed by the councils of Massachusetts and other states.

TURNED TURTLE

NEW MOTOR BOAT "DEN" MET WITH ACCIDENT.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 9.—While tearing through the water at the rate of 40 miles an hour, the new motor boat "Den," owned and built by young Charles Herreshoff, met with an accident which almost cost the life of Herreshoff's machinist, Frederick Bates. One of the rudder chains parted and the frail craft shot to starboard and turned turtle. Herreshoff and Bates were rescued by men in the launch Alice, which was following the "Den," but Bates was almost exhausted in his efforts to keep afloat. He could not swim and if the Alice had been a moment or two later in reaching the scene of the accident he doubtless would have been drowned. Young Herreshoff was picked up little the worse for the ducking. The boat was on another speed trial and showed tremendous speed and it is believed she would have beaten her former record. The "Den" righted herself and was towed ashore only slightly damaged.

CONDITION SERIOUS

JAMES MITCHELL MAY NOT RECOVER.

GRAFTON, Vt., Aug. 9—James Mitchell who shot and killed Mrs. Minnie B. Rankin yesterday and who attempted to commit sucide by shooting himself, was reported today as still in a serious condition at the jail, where he was taken after the murder.

State Attorney Rhidder, questioned the prisoner today and received from him a statement in connection with the shooting, but refused to disclose its nature. Mitchell will not be arraigned in court until his condition is improved.

AN EPIDEMIC

TYPHOID FEVER IS PREVALENT AT THE CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Washington is suffering from the annual typhoid fever epidemic. It begins every about the first week in August. Health office reports of the eddidemic today show an average increase of nine cases a day. Twenty-two new cases were reported yesterday. Up to noon today 193 cases had been reported, and it is estimated that there are at least 200 under treatment, as compared wih 143 for the corresponding day last year. Since July 1 there have been 21 deaths from typhoid, compared with 18 in the corresponding period last year.

KILLED A WOMAN

Because She Had Jilted Him

Was Murdered by James Mitchell

GRAFTON, Vt., Aug. 9.—Illicit love of a man for a woman led to a murder in this peaceful little village yesterday afternoon, and the assassin sought escape by hiding, only to fire a bullet into his own head when he realized that a horde of angry townspeople were determined to take him dead or alive and might even lynch him. Lennie May Rankin, 24 years old, was the victim, and the murderer is James Mitchell, 28 years of age. Both belong in Waterbury, Ct., where the murdered woman has a husband living, from whom she was seeking a divorce.

The woman died instantly, but Mitchell is expected to live, as the bullet he fired at himself did not reach the brain, but tore its way across the frontal bone, probably destroying the sight of both eyes. The affair happened about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the woman's brother on Townsend street, where she lived and where Mitchell has been stopping since his arrival in Grafton a week ago. He is a veteran of the Cuban war, a machinist, and his brother is married to a sister of the murdered woman.

At the upper end of the village is a hotel known as the Grafton Inn. This spring when the hotel opened for summer business Mrs. Lennie May Rankin went there to work. Her brother, Dana Murgatroy, lives here with his wife and stepdaughter, a comely young woman named Annie Cope, who worked at the Grafton Inn with Lennie Rankin, both being table girls.

Yesterday morning Lennie declared she would not work any longer at the Inn and went to Mr. Rickett for her pay. He urged her not to give up her place, but she persisted. It is surmised she intended to get away from the village to avoid Mitchell. After leaving her work at the hotel Mrs. Rankin spent her time in the parlor of the Murgatroy home, and Mitchell clung to her like a dog to its master.

After dinner Mrs. Murgatory sat in the dining room sewing, while Mitchell and Mrs. Rankin were in the front room, not 10 feet away, the door partly open. Suddenly Lennie cried out, "Don't, don't," and the sound of a pistol shot rang through the house. Mrs. Murgatory rushed toward the front door, when she heard another shot. She ran across the street to the house of M. C. Redfield, crying out, "Lennie is shot, Lennie is shot." Then she fell in a faint on the steps.

Mr. Redfield had been sitting on his piazza and also had heard the shots. He ran to the scene of the murder. Mitchell was not visible, but in her chair, with crimson stains running down her face, was the murdered woman. Mr. Redfield hurried for Constable Rickett at the hotel and the two men shouted for some people on the street to join them and went to the house.

Leaving one of the party to watch the body, Constable Rickett hastened to the hotel for his revolver, and told one of his men to go down the street and ask every man who owned a pistol to come at once to the Murgatory house. A party of 20 to 30 gathered, and, after a thorough search of the house, went to the barn, where the crack of a revolver was heard in the loft, and, as the men rushed in, a thin stream of blood was seen trickling down through the floor. Hidden deep in the hay was the murderer, a jagged wound extending across his forehead and a smoking pistol, which threatened every minute to set fire to the hay, in his hand.

He was taken to the office of the town clerk, and Dr. F. L. Gilbert, the only physician in the village, summoned. He gave the opinion that Mitchell had chance for recovery, although a slim one.

FAINT AT ALTAR

GROOM AND BRIDESMAID CAUSED SCENE IN CHURCH.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 9.—At a wedding ceremony in St. Ann's church, yesterday morning, both groom and bridesmaid fell in a dead faint at the altar just as the priest was pronouncing the bridal couple husband and wife. They quickly recovered and the bridal ceremonies and festivities were carried out as if nothing had happened.

Michael Murphy and Miss Mary Casey were the couple, and Kate Casey was the bridesmaid. Intense excitement prevailed when the couple fainted, the spectators thinking that death had invaded the church at the happiest of moments.

DEAD WOMAM

WAS THE WIDOW OF HARRY E. SKINNER.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 9.—It was learned here today that the woman found dead in the East river in New York yesterday, on whose person was found a marriage certificate bearing the name of Ida L. S. Blake, was the widow of Harry E. Skinner, a former letter carrier of this city. Since her husband's death about a year ago, she had been living in Rumford, East Providence. Among her surviving relatives is a brother in the local fire department.

RIOT CALL

MORE TROUBLE CAUSED BY THE UNION TEAMSTERS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Rioting by union teamsters was resumed last night when several union men who had been unable to regain their positions as teamsters, attacked five of Montgomery Ward & Co.'s non-union drivers. A riot call brought out 20 policemen but the crowd dispersed before their arrival. The non-unionists were badly hurt and several others severely beaten.

Thirteen Taken From Ruins of Collapsed Building

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Fully 200 men this morning were still toiling over the wreckage of the John G. Myers company department store, where 24 hours ago occurred the saddest catastrophe in the history of Albany. Eleven dead bodies, many of them mangled almost beyond recognition, have been taken from the ruins thus far and one woman died after being carried to the hospital. The known death list, which last night numbered only five, has been more than doubled by the addition of the following, all employes:

MARY McVOY, died at hospital,
ANNA CUSHMAN,
THERESA SPANNBAUER,
ETTA SPRINKS,
GRACE B. EBNER,
HELEN MALONE,
JOHN E. POWERS, cash boy.

In addition to these it is almost certain that 15 or 20 bodies still remain in the twisted mass of beams, wires, plaster, brick and laths that was once the main portion of one of the city's largest stores.

Shortly after daybreak, the searchers found the twelfth body. It was that of Miss Helen Malone, a young girl, who shared the cashier's gallery on the main floor with Anna Whitbeck, Minnie Bullman and Alice Sharp, and was crushed beneath the same iron girders that killed her three companions. Others in the above list were carried out of the ruins between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock this morning.

The injured in the hospitals are doing well with two exceptions. Miss Ella J. Donahue, who was one of the first survivors to be taken out of the wreck, has several of her vertebrae fractured, and it is said, cannot live. Mrs. William Borst of Windam, Minn., who was one of the few shoppers injured, is also reported to be in a critical condition.

Mrs. Richard W. Brass, who was in the wreckage for several hours, was removed without serious injuries. The only addition to the list of injured is Thomas Rogers, a fireman, who was painfully, though not seriously briused and cut while at the work of rescue.

It is thought scarcely possible that any of those now imprisoned in the debris can be alive. Since midnight only disfigured corpses have been taken out. Fifty women employes are still unaccounted for and as the firm has a complete list of these grave fears are expressed for the safety of the majority. A large percentage of those in the central portion of the building which collapsed were women.

The number of men unaccounted for is about the same but the loss of the firm's books makes a complete record of the male employes inaccessible. It is thought that nine tenths of the bodies remaining in the ruins are those of women.

Mayor Gause, Chief Higgins of the fire department and Commissioner Cantine of the department of public safety believe that the accident was caused by the workmen excavating beneath the basement floor, who undermined one of the key brick piers in the center of the building and their belief is generally shared.

An investigation will be made as soon as the work of rescue is over. This investigation will probably be preceded by the coroner's inquest as soon as the last body is recovered.

The work under way when the building collapsed was in charge of Contractor John Dyer, Jr.

Of the 31 men employed by him on the building, every one escaped. As nearly all of them were in or under the basement in the very center of the structure, their escape is almost miraculous. Stories of the survivors, however, show that those on the basement floor, where the under-pinning of the building first gave way received warning, which enabled all but one or two of them to reach a place of safety before the four upper floors came crashing down.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the thirteenth body was found and identified as that of Miss Winifred Kelly.

All day yesterday Contractor John Dyer, Jr., refused to see reporters and would not talk about the accident. Today he made the following statement: "I had the contract for the work that was being done at the Myers store. We were enlarging the basement. I had about thirty men at work. There was excavation done, but none that I know of that would weaken the walls. I could not say off-hand what the thickness of the walls was. None of our work gave way and I cannot account for the accident. We were shoring up part of the walls and strengthening them. The building is a succesion of old buildings that have been remodeled from time to time and have been built on it. I. T. Daggett, one of the most competent men in the state, was supervising the work for me. I am now interested mainly in clearing out the wrecked building and getting the people out and am not prepared to make a specific statement as to the calamity. I feel sure, however, that it will be shown later on that it was through no fault of mine that the accident occurred."

"The calamity at Myers is just what might have been expected," said Marcus T. Reynolds, an architect who has designed several of the city's largest buildings. "North Pearl street for the most part is lined with old ramshackle buildings that have been remodeled, altered and their walls made to bear weights they were never intended to support."

MORE PRISONERS

Have Been Taken by the Japanese

TOKIO, Aug. 9.—5.30 p. m.—An official report from the Sakhalin army says:

"General Liapinov and five staff officers who surrender at Hamdsu, July 31, were escorted to Rykoff where they were met by our commander-in-chief in a church building. General Liapnohy states that a detachment consisting of two officers and 100 men, who had been sent toward Nioro, had been ordered by telegraph to come at once and surrender.

"The number of prisoners is increasing.

"The convicts seem to have been released before our occupation and it is apprehended they will disturb the peace."

PROBER McCABE

WILL INVESTIGATE THE BUREAU OF INDUSTRY.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—George H. McCabe, solicitor of the department of agriculture has been placed at the head of the investigation of the bureau of industry by Secretary Wilson with full authority to probe matters there to the bottom. The inquiry into the affairs of that bureau not only involves the charges concerning the tags attached to the meat inspected by the government, but also, it is said, charges that meat inspection as now administered redounds to the benefit of the so-called beef trust.

An additional inspector of meats is now a matter desired by Secretary Wilson and he will ask congress at the next session for an appropriation of 176,000 for the purpose. In Chicago, Omaha and Kansas City, it is impossible, it is alleged for the independent packers, supplying the local markets, to obtain inspection of their output.

"It is not right," said the secretary, "for the big packers to have a monopoly through government inspection. That is a matter which municipal authorities could regulate without difficulty. It should not be necessary to have government inspection for the domestic trade. At present our hands are tied."

NO ARMISTICE

Until Success of Peace Negotiations is Assured

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 9—Delightful weather prevails here for the first day of the Washington conference. The members of both the Russian and Japanese missions were early about the hotel and with the exception of Mr. Witte and Baron Rosen breakfasted in the main dining room. As several of the Russians were coming out of the dining room this morning they met two of the Japanese entering. They exchanged profound bows but did not shake hands.

It is expected the start will be made for the navy yard about half past nine o'clock and that the plenipotentiaries will make their trip in two large automobiles which have been sent here for their use. They will be accompanied on their trip by several secret service men. Since early this morning, there have been many people waiting on the veranda of the hotel to witness the departure of the envoys for the navy yard.

Upon their arrival at the yard, the Marine Guard will meet them at the gate and escort them to the navy general store. Several marines will stand on watch just outside the building throughout the time the envoys are in session.

It is becoming more and more evident that an armistice will not be agreed upon until the success of the negotiations is assured. The determined opposition of Japan to this formality and the hearty support London has given Tokio in opposition to the efforts of the president has rather operated to minimize the wish of the Russians for a signed truce. Another cause for their willingness not to press for an armistice at the first meeting, is the recent opposition which has been manifesting itself among the Russian forces at the front against peace negotiations. It is felt that to ask them to sign a truce might have an exceedingly bad effect upon their spirits and would only serve to increase their opposition to the ending of the war.

After the plenipotentiaries left the hotel for the navy yard this morning Mr. Honda, private secretary to Baron Komura, went to the apartments of the Russian mission where he was received in the reception room by Mr. Shipoff, Mr. DePalcon and Mr. Batcheff and Mr. Herg. Mr. Honda said the object of his visit was to discuss the best program for the exchange of cards by the members of the two missions. The short conversation, which followed was very cordial and it was decided that the cards should either be left at the office or that a secretary from each side should convey them direct to the respective apartments and there be formally received.

It is noticeable that with each day the members of the two missions are fraternalizing more easily and it is no longer a subject for comment when a Russian and a Japanese are seen talking together.

Whether the meeting this morning will be more than one of organization for the purpose of exchanging credenitals will probably not be known until the plenipotentiaries return to their hotel, for, by special request of Baron Komura and Mr. Witte, a request which they reiterated to Mr. Peirce shortly before leaving for the lard, every one is to be excluded from the yard throughout the time the envoys are meeting. Even the members of each mission must have passes signed by their chiefs and countersigned by the commandant of the yard.

Had it not been for the fact that automobiles were in waiting for them this morning, it is probable Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira would have gone by launch to the navy yard, as Baron Komura asked Mr. Pierce when leaving the hotel whether it would be convenient for them to go that way. Orders were then sent for the launch to be brought to the landing, when Baron Komua, as soo nas he saw his automobile waiting, insisted on going in the way that had been arranged. If the weather is good tomorrow, it is probable the trip will be made in a launch by the Japanese.

Before leaving his hotel, this morning one of the members of the Russian mission in a conversation with a correspondent for the Associated Press said:

"I wish you would reiterate on behalf of ourselves how grateful we are for the courtesies extended to us aboard the Mayflower by Captain Winslow and his officers. Our every want was supplied and the trip on the Mayflower was enjoyed except by those who are not good sailors."

The Japanese have also been profuse in their expressions of gratification for the hospitality tendered them aboard the Dolphin by Captain Gibbons.

It is expected that Captain Winslow and Captain Gibbons will call officially today on the plenipotentiaries at their hotels.

Shortly after the plenipotentiaries entered the navy general store and were assigned to the conference room, it was learned that Mr. Witte and Baron Komura exchanged compliments, the latter, however, using Mr. Honda as interpreter, as neither Baron Komura nor Mr. Takahira is very familiar with French, while Mr. Witte, although understanding English in reading, cannot speak it. Immediately after this formality, they proceeded to the exchange of their credenetials and it is not known how long this ceremony may last.

Should the envoys, however, remain in the general store for luncheon it may be assumed that they have decided to enter upon the serious work of the conference, proceeding first to the determination of the official language to be used and then taken up, the program to be followed each day. Russia prefers French and Japan English.

Another peril that must be decided is in the event the negotiations proceed beyond the initial stage, whether the military attaches shall participate with the plenipotentiaries in the conference or whether they shall meet separately, draw up their reports and refer them to the plenipo- aldeonitjenatn nuundemrvafyrelnit h tentiaries for their consideration. Should this latter plan be efollowed in the case of the military attaches the same would be the program adopted for the financiers. It is more probable, however, tha tthe attaches of the two missions will act solely in advisory capacities to their respective chiefs. It can be stated positively that up to the time of meeting this morning the instructions of the four plenipotentiaries signed by their respectivee sovereigns had not passed out of the hands of Mr. Witte and Baron Rosen and Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira.

It was agreed that the English and French languages should be used jointly and that the official minutes of the meetings should be recorded in both languages. It was also agreed that the program for each day's work should be taken up.

Extreme cordiality characterized the session this morning and so well guarded were the plenipotentiaries that they were unableto return to the hotel by a private entrance before their presence became known. A correspondent of the Associated Press was received by one of the plenipotentiaries within 10 minutes after the missions returned and in reply to questions about the conference, he said: "You can say that this morning's meeting was entirely satisfactory so far as it went; we exchanged credentials, but please do not write nonsense about the credentials. The plenipotentiaries and the president have known from the outset that the plenipotentiaries of both governments came clothed with plenipotentiary powers, and the anxiety on this subject has never been shared by the envoys on either side.

"Our next meeting will be held tomorrow morning. Provided all goes well, we will get down to business then."

"Has either side committed itself about terms?" the envoy was asked.

"No; terms were not discussed at today's meeting."

At this morning's meeting Baron Komura spoke Japanese, his secretary Mr. Honda, translating it into French while Mr. Witte spoke entirely in French. The expression used by the plenipotentiaries that "The credentials were exchanged," does not tell the whole story as Baron Komura did not bring down his credentials so that Mr. Witte only presented his own which were found entirely satisfacory while Bato nKomura explained what his credentials contained and promised to bring the copy tomorrow. Baron Komura was quite willing to send for them at once, but Mr. Witte assured him there was no reason to delay the meeting for this reason and said that the official copy could easily be brought tomorrow and that the verbal account of what the Japanese credentials contained indicated that they were entirely satisfactory. On behalf of Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira, Mr. Sato has handed the following official statement to the Associated Press regarding this morning's meeting.

"Today's meeting was informal for the purpose of settling the method of procedure and in that meeting it was decided that formal meetings will commence tomorrow morning at half past nine. Meetings will be held twice a day one from 9.30 to 12.30 and the other from 3 to 5.30 or 6 o'clock in the afternoon subject to modifications as may be agreed upon later.

"No serious business was transacted at this morning's session."

When it became known about the hotel that the Russian credentials had been presented and examined and the Japanese had not been presented there was considerable comment and uneasiness. In quarters friendly to Russia an attempt was made to make much of this incident as indicating that Japan had scored at the first meeting.

There is, however, official authority for the statement that Baron Komura was entirely sincere in his understanding that there were to be no formalities at this morning's session and hence did not think it necessary to bring his official letters. It is pointed out that the offer of Baron Komura to send for his papers and the assurance tendered by Mr. Witte that the verbal account of their contents was entirely satisfactory indicates clearly that the whole incident was due to a misunderstanding, the occurrence of which is not at all unnatural in view of the informality with which the preliminaries for this morning's meeting were arranged.

THE CHINESE

MAY BUY HANKOW AND CANTON RAILWAY.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9—Speculation concerning the future control of the Hankow and Canton railway and the concessions for further construction, now owned by the China American Development company has been set at rest by the positive statement made in well informed quarters, according to the Herald that J. P. Morgan and company are continuing their negotiations for the sale of the properties and concessions to the Chinese. It was learned further that the offers for the control of the China-American Development company, from various European syndicates are now being considered by the Morgan firm. From a financial point of view, several of these offers are understood to have been very tempting. If the attitude of the various Chinese government officials had been different, the Herald continues, and more in harmony with the spirit in which the concessions were granted, it might have been possible to sell the control to European bidders. At the present time, however, the negotiations for the sale of the property have become closely intertwined with diplomacy. While a large banking profit will likely be sacrificed by the sale of the concessions and railroad to the Chinese it is asserted that the majority interest is acting with a view to promoting better and more cordial relations between this country and China than now exist and at the same time eliminate some of the friction.

BIG MEETING

TWENTY FOUR RELIGIOUS DENOMINATIONS ARRANGE CONFERENCE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9—Twenty-four religious denominations containing eighteen million communicants have each appointed from five to fifty delegates to meet in this city on November 15 to take part in an interchurch conference on federation. The meeting will be held in Carnegie hall for a week, the object being the federation of the Protestant forces in America. President Roosevelt has expressed his sympathy with the movement and it is expected one or more members of his cabinet will be able to take part in the discussions of the conference. The sixty speakers on the program and the presiding officers include five bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church, six bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, a bishop of the Reformed Episcopal church, a bishop of the Moravian body, representatives of the Presbyterian, Congregational, Baptist and other denominations, two U. S. Supreme court justices, two judges of state courts, a U. S. senator, a congressman, a governor, a mayor and several college presidents and professors, editors and ministers.

Among the issues to be brought before the church and nation by the conference are religious education, the social order, evangelization, home and foreign missions, the fellowship of faith, the national life and Christian progress.

THE BOSTON MARKET.

BOSTON, Aug. 9—The Boston stock market was much less broad today; activity centered in very few specialties, but the tone was firm throughout. Great interest was manifested as to the opening quotation of Copper Range. In view of the fact that it had been quoted as high as 74 on the curb yesterday afternoon. With an opening at 71, off 1¾, the stock declined to 70½, but her good buying was met and the price steadily advanced to 72¼, and at noon, held its gain well.

Shoe machinery was active, with a range between 35½ and 87½.

The market as a whole was quiet; even arbitrage brokers were not busy.

20,000 ON STRIKE

Serious Trouble Breaks Out at Riga

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 9, 6.40 p. m.—The rumors of serious trouble at Riga were today officially confirmed.

Twenty thousand men are on strike there. Many of the strikers are desirous of working, but the socialists deter them with threats of murder. No cases of murder have yet been reported.

Two million dolars' worth of perishable merchindise is awaiting loading or reloading and the merchants have applied for soldiers t oact as stevedores in order to save this property.

JACKSON FOUND

MIDSHIPMAN CANNOT ACCOUNT FOR HIS ACTIONS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Midshipman Robert Jackson, who was reported missing since a week ago last Friday, when he left his ship, the Missouri, then lying in the North river, has been located by his father in Quebec. He is said to bave been working for money, making his way back to the battleship. He is now being taken to Bar Harbor, Me., by his father.

Jackson is understood to have told his father that he could not account for his actions since leaving the ship. As if he were in a trance, he says, he wandered away from New York. When he recovered his senses and realized the seriousness of his situation, his first thought was to secret himself until he had made enough money to return to his ship.

LIQUOR STORE

Was Blown Up With Dynamite

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 9.—Opposition to the sale of liquor in Pike county culminated early yesterday morning in the almost complete destruction of the wholesale liquor store of Curtis & Agee at Hosmer. For several months the people of the place have been engaged in a war of extermination against the saloons, but liquor has been sold in spite of the efforts to suppress it. Curtis & Agee professed not to sell except at wholesale, but the people seem to have attributed the nullification of their efforts to close saloons to the firm.

Early this morning the villagers were awakened by a loud explosion, and when they reached the streets they found the wholesale house rent almost in two by dynamite. The liquor was running from numerous barrels and kegs which had been burst by the explosion, and the building was almost a complete wreck. No investigation has been made and none of consequence is likely to follow, as the people are in sympathy with the dynamiters.

TRIED SUICIDE

POLICEMAN GORDON MADE TWO ATTEMPTS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Policeman John L. Gordon of the Old Slip station was found suffering from a dose of laudanum on Monday afternoon in the basement of his home, 559 East 162d street. He had attempted suicide. He was taken to Lebanon hospital and there, early yesterday morning, again attempted suicide.

The second attempt was discovered by a hospital attendant. Gordon had left his bed in the emergency ward and gone to the rear of the hospital. He had stabbed himself in the left chest and cut open an artery in the left wrist. The hospital authorities think that he may have taken the knife from one of the operating tables. It was not an operating instrument, however, but a small penknife.

Gordon's wife says that he had planned to take her and their infant son to the Adirondacks yesterday. After he had taken the laudanum she asked why he desired to end his life and he told her it was some trouble she couldn't understand. She thought he meant some trouble at the station house, but it was said there that Gordon had a good record and always appeared satisfied with his work.

GEORGE W. YOUNG

Was Too Ill to Appear in Court

HE WAS ORDERED DEFAULTED

His Son Was on His Bond

The care of George W. Young, the well-known legislative agent, who was arrested in this city Monday afternoon charged with having made a false oath in stating that certain property of his in Lowell was unencumbered, while the police say it has been heavily mortgaged, was called in the Boston municipal court first session, Judge Ely presiding, yesterday.

Mr. Young did not respond when his name was called, and the court ordered that a default be entered on the record. Mr. Young's son and counsel explained to the judge that the defendant was unable to appear, and in support of their statement presented an affidavit from his physician.

The physician's certificate was as follows:

"Aug. 8, '05. I hereby certify that I am the attending physician of George W. Young, and that he is physically unable to attend court in Boston.

Sues the City for $5000 Damages

Judge Charles Cowley at Cambridge yesterday filed suit against the city of Lowell for $5000, claiming that because of pollution of the city water, which he drank July 19, 1903, he was poisoned, and that he has been ill ever since.

The case grows out of the influx of canal water into the city mains while a fire was in progress in one of the mills.

BLACKMAIL

NORTH ATTLEBORO DOCTOR MAKES THE ACCUSATION.

NORTH ATTLEBORO, Aug. 9.—George H. Davis, a lawyer, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of attempted blackmail. The complainant is Dr. Newell C. Bullard of North Attleboro.

Late yesterday afternoon George B. Stearns of this town was also arrested on a similar charge, and released on his own recognizance.

The arrests are the sequel of an action recently brought by Davis, for Stearns, against Dr. Bullard. The charge at that time was that Dr. Bullard was practicing without a license. The matter was heard in the district court, and resulted in a verdict of not guilty, rendered by Judge Byram, after the attorney for the plaintiff had filed a motion to nol pros the case, which was not allowed.

The declaration in the present case against Davis and Stearns is set forth in eight counts. The first alleges that on June 28, by threats of prosecution for alleged manslaughter, the defendants endeavored to induce Dr. Bullard to leave town against his will.

Sadie Mac Captured the Big Raco

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 9.—If the light harness enthusiast who is reported to have offered $30,000 for Sadie Mac, the other day, could have seen the Peter the Great mare walk off with the $10,000 Empire State purse for 2.10 trotters feature of the grand circuit card at Kenilworth Park yesterday afternoon, he would probably raise his offer.

The mare, always a $50 to $10 favorite in the pooling, was not bothered in any of the three heats, finishing the last three lengths in front, with Driver Stinson looking back with interest at the successful fight of Geers with Zephyr for second money.

Directum Miller sold $50 to $25 on the field for the 2.09 pace, but Allerton upset calculations by easily taking three straight heats.

There was no pooling before the first heat of the baby pacers, but when Mary Aldous lost a slow mile some nibbling at Madam Direct resulted. Then Snow drove Mary Aldous out in two faster heats, winning easily.

CANOBIE LAKE PARK.

A most sensational free exhibition is to be given in the immense ball ground at Canobie Lake park for the seven days beginning Monday, Aug. 14, when J. W. Gorman's world wide famous high diving horses, King and Queen, will be seen every afternoon and evening following the theatrical performance.

These remarkable animals are the sensation of the amusement world, and during the few seasons that they have been before the public they attracted wide-spread attention and the most favorable criticism.

Their performance is quite unlike anything else ever offered for the edification of the public. In the first place, King and Queen are two handsome, pure white Arabian horses. A long wooden incline is erected at the edge of a deep pool of water, dug in the center of the baseball field. The top of the runway is directly over the water and 30 feet above it. After the leap forward and downward there is a great splash and for a second the white animal is hidden in a cloud of spray. In another second she comes to the surface and swims to the shore. Out she climbs and joins King, who is waiting for his turn. After that, King repeats her performance, and the sight is a thrilling one. The beauty of the whole exhibition lies in the fact that the horses have never been forced to go through their work. He is entirely a voluntary feat.

The success of King and Queen, the famous high diving horses, has been almost phenomenal. Whenever they have appeared people have come miles to see them and describe the act as being ever more than was anticipated. It is the greatest animal act in America.

LITTLE ONE'S CLOTHING CAUGHT ON FIRE.

LAWRENCE, Aug. 9.—Elsie Kller, 6 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kller of 6 Brook street, was burned from her feet to her shoulders through her clothing catching fire about 4.30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon while playing around a bonfire which had been started in a vacant lot on Brook street, adjacent to the old Spicket shoddy mill.

The unfortunate little girl was standing close to the fire watching the blaze leap into the air when a sudden wind blew a spark on to her dress which ignited her clothes before she realized it. As soon as she discovered she was on fire, she fruitlessly attempted to put it out with her hands, yelling all the time for her playmates to bring her mother. One boy, named John Wikzall, a little older than the others, grabbed her by the hand and attempted to push her down the embankment into the shallow water of the Spicket, which flows close by. The little tot became more alarmed at this and breaking away from his grasp, started to run toward her home with her clothes now blazing in several places and being fanned by the slight breeze that was blowing.

Her aunt, Mrs. Miller, who lives close by the evacuent lot, being attracted by the screams of the child, hurried to her assistance, and, grasping her in her arms, rushed to the river and threw her in, thus thoroughly drenching the child and extinguishing the flames.

After she was satisfied that she had quenched the flames, she hurriedly bore the suffering child to her home. Hastily tearing off the child's clothing, particles of skin from the legs coming off with it, she was put to bed and Dr. Edam was hastily summoned. The physician declares that the child will recover.

May Cause League to Disband

BURLINGTON, Vt., Aug. 9—There is an immense amount of trouble and ill feeling in the Northern baseball league, which is composed of teams representing Burlington, Vt.; Rutland, Vt.; Montpelier-Barre, Vt., and Plattsburg, N. Y., and the league may be disbanded all because a colored man is playing ball.

That colored man is no other than Matthews, the famous Harvard shortstop, and he is playing ball at such a fast rate with the Burlington aggregation that every other team is wondering what can be done to get rid of him.

Being unable to induce Manager George E. Whitney to release Matthews, the vice-presidents, who have the voting power of the league, have assailed Mr. Whitney's management and have taken games away from Burlington, so that the latter team is considering withdrawing from the league, which would end the baseball season in this section of the state.

The whole trouble with Matthews came about through the refusal of Apperious, a southerner, who plays with Montpelier-Barre, to take part in any game in which a colored man played.

Efforts were made to induce Mr. Whitney to release Matthews, but he takes the same interest in baseball that he does in horse racing and he will not release a good player any more than he will dispose of a fast, winning horse.

Then it was that Matthews began to have trouble. He was spiked three times in games with Montpelier-Barre, and as a result he was taken from the position at short and put in the field, where the irons of his competitors could not reach him.

He has nothing to say about the treatment he is receiving, but continues to play winning ball while on the diamond, keeping in the background when not engaged in his work.

Whether Burlington will withdraw depends on circumstances, but if the team stays in the league Matthews will remain.

PHOTOGRAPHERS MEETING.

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—The reading of reports of the secretary and treasurer was the principal business at the convention of the Photographer's Association of America, which is being held in this city. These reports showed that the organization is in a healthful condition, both as to membership and finances. Later, Frank A. Bement of New York, gave a lecture upon the "Art of elimination," and E. E. Shores of Indiana entered into a discussion of the financial aspects of photography. There were remarks also from many photographers and artists.

BAR HARBOR

LARGE RECEPTION IN HONOR OF VICE PRESIDENT.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 9—Vice President Fairbanks and Mrs. Fairbanks, who are the guests of Hon. John B. Henderson at their beautiful cottage, Glenerie, are spending the week as quietly as possible for people of their social standing. On Tuesday the vice president went on board the battleship Missouri of the North Atlantic squadron to repay a call made earlier in the day by Commander Cowles, who is a brother-in-law of President Roosevelt. Tuesday evening the Vice President and Mrs. Fairbanks were guests of General Edward Morell of Philadelphia, congressman at large from Pennsylvania. This afternoon the Hendersons will give a large reception in honor of their guests when all the prominent summer residents here will meet the vice president and Mrs. Fairbanks.

Sunday the vice president and his wife will go to Ellsworth, Maine, to be the guests of Senator Hale, for a few days.

TWO BOYS KILLED

ANOTHER RUN OVER BY WAGON

Harry Freedman Probably Fatally Injured

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Roy Peters, 17 years old, who lived at 6 Drayton avenue, Roxbury, was struck by a train at the Bird street station early last evening and killed.

The boy was returning from his work on the 7.15 train on the New England division of the N. Y., N. H. & H. railroad. He was standing on the step and as the train reached the station he jumped off. At that moment an inbound express came along, and as young Peters left his train he stepped in front of the other. The cowcatcher struck him and hurled him across the tracks over a fence into a field 20 feet distant.

FELL OFF CAR

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—While stealing a ride on an electric car in East Boston early last night, Harry Freedman, 11 years old, of 137 Paris street, fell off and was run over, receiving injuries which will probably prove fatal.

As a Chelsea bound car, Motorman James Marshall and Conductor Charles Osgood, had left the tunnel, the Freedman boy is said to have jumped on the inside front step and had ridden a short distance beyond police station 7 when he fell off. One of the forward wheels passed over him, his left arm being cut off below the elbow, his face terribly cut and his left leg bruised. He was taken to the relief station.

KILLED BY WAGON

LITTLE HOWARD KENT OF ROXBURY RUN OVER.

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Howard Kent, a 5-year-old boy who lived at 109 Longwood avenue, was run over by a heavy wagon on Longwood avenue late yesterday afternoon and so severely injured that he died shortly after the accident.

The little fellow was at play in the street only a short distance from his home. He was amusing himself making mud pies when a heavy furniture wagon owned by Berry & Tibbetts came down the street. He did not see the wagon until the horse was almost upon him and before he could get to a place of safety he was knocked down by the horse. One of the rear wheels passed over his body and the little fellow was rendered unconscious. He lay in the street while the wagon, the driver of which is unknown to the police, moved along. The driver was apparently unconscious of the accident to the child for he looked neither to the right or the left and drove on at a leisurely pace.

$5000 DAMAGES

Lowell Storekeeper Has Entered Suit

Louis Robinowitz of Lowell yesterday at Cambridge filed a suit for $5000 against Joseph Steinberg of Lowell, claiming that as a result of the latter's having recently charged him with the larceny of 25 pairs of pants, his business has been greatly damaged.

SAVED BY GIRLS

Passengers Escaped Injury and Death

CANAL DOVER, Ohio, Aug. 9.—Two little girls, Anna and Mary Beers, saved three score of passengers on the Marietta branch of the Pennsylvania railroad from possible death or injury, two miles east of here yesterday.

A large tree had fallen across the tracks and the little girls, knowing the afternoon passenger train was due, hastened up the road and flagged the train. The engineer brought the cars to a standstill within a short distance of the obstacle. The passengers made up a purse to reward the girls for their bravery.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Tauton has yet to win a game.

Next Saturday the Americans and the American Glee club play on the South common. The rooters on both teams have been wishing to see these two teams play all season and it is expected to be a red hot game.

The Red Men will play the T. R. & T's. at Spaulding park, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A closely contested game is expected and interest is running high among the players and rooters.

According to the terms of sale of the Lynn club to the Lynn association, that association became responsible for the back salary of Connors, Bigbie and Bushoy. Yet the three have brought a suit against former Manager Mack for the same.

Pitcher Halla of the Oklahoma club has been secured for Cleveland.

Pittsburg has taken six out of the last eight from New York and has landed nine out of 16 in the series. It looks as if this club would land every series this season.

Umpire Hassett, who was recently mobbed by the Buffalo players, alleges that after he was knocked down by one of the Bisons, Manager Stallings said: "Now put the boots to him."

In all, Frank Donahue, now with Cleveland, has won at least 12 games from Rube Waddell, something no other twirler can boast of, while Waddell has still to win his first game from Donahue. Donahue will have a chance to make it 13 this week at Philadelphia.

"Tip" O'Neill, who was with the Boston and Washington Americans last season and is now playing with the Milwaukees, is out of the game with fracture of a bone near the ankle in sliding to third. He will be out of the game a month at least.

"Noodles" Hahn may retire from baseball after his 10 days expire with the Cincinnati club, and practise as a veterinary surgeon. Hahn was drawing $4500 from the Reds, the figure the American league offered him during the war and which President Herrmann maintained.

President Taylor of the Boston Americans last week offered to purchase John Ganzel's release from the Highlanders and pay him $100 a month to finish the season with the Collins team. Ganzel turned down the offer, saying he would stick to his Grand Rapids team even if he never played ball again. Why Ganzel, in preference to "Buck" Freeman, would be difficult to understand, indeed.

"Aside from his work on the diamond, the Cleveland players are looking forward to having Larry with them again with anxious eyes," says Harry Bay. "It seems to stimulate them to hear Larry around, whether he plays or not, and I would venture to say that the team would have won fewer games since he had been out of harness had he not come over to the grounds to watch them play. It brings confidence to have the manager around."

WRESTLING NOTES

At Asheville, N. C., on Friday night, Prof. Ono, Japanese instructor of jiu-jitsu at Annapolis Naval academy, met Tom Frisbee of Madison County, N. C., in a mixed style wrestling bout, Frisbee being permitted to use catch-as-catch-can methods, while the Jap had to stick exclusively to jiu-jitsu. Two falls out of three counted, and the jiu-jitsu style won. The contest was spirited and thoroughly enjoyed by a large crowd. The American had the advantage in weight, tipping the beam at 205 pounds. Frisbee is 6 feet 5½ inches tall and is very much at home at catch-as-catch-can. Prof. Ono weighs 207 pounds and stands 5 feet 6½ inches high. He is a quick, strong man, but against Frisbee in strength he did not seem to be in it.

The contest was a better one than the match between George Bothner and Prof. Higashi at the Grand Central Palace last winter, and may be said to have been an excellent test for the Japanese style of grappling. Ono took two straight falls, but not without a struggle. He did not seem to be afraid of the American, who is very strong. The Jap tried for a strangle hold at the start but Frisbee tried for a waist hold and succeeded in bringing the Jap down. Ono did not stay on the floor very long, however, for by making an effort to catch Frisbee by the neck he got on top.

It was nip and tuck for one hour. Frisbee's weight and his ability to break some of the vicious holds that the Jap applied aided him in avoiding danger. But after the hour Frisbee began to show signs of fatigue. He fell upon his stomach at every opportunity, but guarded his neck and head by covering this part of his body with his arms. Finally, after 1 hour and 20 minutes Ono got a firm strangle on Frisbee. The latter wriggled and squirmed, but was unable to get away and was thrown.

After an intermission of ten minutes the match was resumed. The tossing and buffeting that Frisbee received in the previous bout took all of the starch out of him, and it did not take the Jap long to gain the next fall. The pair went at each other with a rush. Frisbee tried to get a body hold, but in doing so overlooked Ono's right arm. The Jap got this arm around Frisbee's neck and applying the strangle again had no trouble in capsizing the American on both shoulders. It required only 35 seconds for Ono to do the job.

THE GORHAMS

DROPPED THE FIRST GAME TO THE COLONIALS.

The first in the championship series between the Colonials and the Gorhams resulted in a victory for the Colonial team by a score of 7 to 3 after fourteen innings of hard play. The Gorhams sandwiched in a few "ringers" but the race horses could not stand the steady pace and though they made a few bursts of speed they were obliged to succumb to the great work of the vets. "Buster" Ball was a regular Criger behind the bat for the Colonials and Ready tossed them over the plate with the speed of a Cy Young. Capt. Whalen of the winning team made a star play when he landed a long drive after a run to the far center field. At second Bill McVoy nailed two swift liners that were good for three bases had they got by him and Joe Dawson picked one off the bleachers beyond the third base line that made him sprint at a ten second gait. Charlie Marren played the best game for the Gorhams and scored two of their three runs.

Foody put up an elegant game behind the bat and Joe Flynn handed out decisions a la Silk O'Loughlin though he was accused of conspiracy by his old friends, the Gorhams. The next game promises to be more exciting and will be played in two weeks. It takes that much time for the players to recover from the effects of each game.

"Full many an ad. is born to blush unseen,
And waste its sweetness on the desert air."

That's because it is printed in a paper that is not read. Like the modest flower the poet speaks of, it blushes unseen, but soon a blush is seen on the face of the deluded advertiser when he realizes that his well-worded phraseology is wasted on the desert air.

The Sun has by far the largest circulation in Lowell and it is ever increasing. That's why it pays to advertise in its columns.

It's a fact and all our advertisers will tell you so.

RECORD DAY

MORE ALLEGED FRAUDULENT SCHEMES NIPPED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Monday was a record breaking day in the fraud order division of the postoffice department. Orders were issued against the following: United States Blue Works, 173 Greenwich street, New York city; M. A. Quintine, Waterville, Me.; Allison Information Agency and Introduction Bureau, 17 Eastman avenue and box 440, Minneapolis, Minn.; T. J. Pledger, West, Texas; Arthur B. Mitchell, Oak Park, Ill., and the Columbia Publishing company, 114 East Twenty-third street, New York city.

Most of the schemes were old ones. T. J. Pledger offered for sale "rod and plumbob combined" that would find gold, silver or other precious metals. He sold lots of rods but there is no record of any treasure being found.

M. A. Quintine offered for sale "a scheme" to borrow $500, buy an automobile and peddle the soap and other supplies of toilet soap and household knicknacks. Then to get in the automobile and peddle the soap and other articles through the country.

Arthur B. Mitchell operated a bureau for placing bets on race horses, and the Columbia Publishing company sold a cheap watch for $1.39, alleging that the victim had won a "handsome gold thulshed watch" and that the $1.39 was to pay for packing, mailing, etc.

Mrs. Pincence and her daughter Nanelo of New Bedford are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sinai Matte of Endicott street, Pawtucketville. They will remain in this city for the next two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Dupont and their two daughters of Fox street, are the guests of relatives and friends in Cambridge. Before returning to this city they will take in the different beaches along the New England coast.

Mrs. Mary Turcotte and her children, who have been the guests of her brother, Mr. James W. Jantzon of Olive street for the past four weeks, have returned to New York.

Miss Genevieve E. Jantzon has returned for a two weeks' stay at Pine Knoll camp on the Concord.

FATHER AND SON

Both Were Mangled by a Train

BURLINGTON, Vt., Aug. 9.—A shocking accident occurred at 4.30 yesterday afternoon, when Frank Weston, 65, a farmer of Charlotte, and his son Wesley, 25, were struck and instantly killed by the south-bound mail train over the Rutland road, at a dangerous crossing some distance south of Charlotte railroad station, and 15 miles south of Burlington.

The train was going at a good rate of speed and the usual warning was blown at the crossing. The two men who were driving probably did not hear it, or the horse became unmanageable, and the train hit the rig squarely.

The two men were pitched high into the air and fell in front of the train, being killed instantly. The bodies were horribly mangled. The horse was also killed, being thrown 50 feet into a field, and the carriage totally demolished. The dead men were removed to a local undertaking room and relatives here were notified.

Frank Weston resided in this city for some years, going to Charlotte upon the death of his wife a year ago to conduct a farm. He was a native of Schuyler Falls, N. Y. His sons was home from New York city on a vacation. He was a musician of some note. There were no automatic signals at the crossing where the accident occurred.

IS PROPERTY

LIQUOR LICENSE IS NOT A PRIVILEGE.

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Jeremiah F. Tehan brought a writ of prohibition in the supreme court yesterday against the justices of the municipal court with a view to restrain them from issuing an order compelling him to transfer his liquor license to Louis Isenberger, a judgment creditor.

It appeared that Isenberger obtained a judgment for $800, and Tehan was cited into the poor debtor court. He and his wife, Margaret Tehan, had a liquor license.

The court ruled that he should assign his interest in the license to the creditor, and he brought this petition so as to prevent the judges of the lower court from enforcing the order for a transfer of the interest in the license.

Tehan contended that the license was a privilege and not a property right and that the court had no authority to compel him to convey it.

WHOLESALE RATES

Wholesale rates mean wholesale transactions. We order paper for the Stoddard Lectures twenty car-loads at a time. We print and bind on the same scale. We reduce expenses to a minimum by making a quick, yet thorough canvass of each city, thereby bunching orders, deliveries, and collections at one-half what they would cost if scattered. To this end a corps of our best salesmen are here for a short time only to explain our special offer, show the work, and give you an opportunity to secure it at wholesale rates. WHEN THEY LEAVE YOU CAN OBTAIN IT ONLY AT REGULAR RATES FOR OCCASIONAL ORDERS, or at an advance of one-half.

This advance is absolute and unavoidable. Our wholesale offer is possible only on the above basis, it being self-evident that when the cost of production or distribution of any article increases the price to the purchaser must increase also.

FOR THE GOOD OF LOWELL

WHAT IS MOST NEEDED

In order to make our city prosperous we want a greater diversity of industries; we want industries that pay higher wages than do the cotton mills; and to induce such industries to locate here, we should offer the most liberal terms in regard to sites, buildings and railroad facilities.

Too long has the prosperity of our city been linked with that of the cotton mills. Now that we are a city of over 100,000 inhabitants with unrivalled facilities and resources for manufacturing industries of every description, we should bend our efforts to the establishment of new lines of industry so that a depression or a temporary shutdown of the cotton mills may not be regarded in the nature of a calamity.

In regard to new industries let it be remembered that enterprise and public spirit are needed on the part of our own citizens. If we cannot induce a sufficient number of new industries to come here, let us establish new industries for ourselves. Do not mind if the beginnings be small; some of the best industries in Lowell today arose from small beginnings.

The democratic party of Massachusetts is evidently not going to bother much about finding a gubernatorial candidate during the hot weather. Better wait the crystallization of sentiment. Ex-Mayor McNamee of Cambridge is the only man who has declared himself as an avowed candidate for the place but he is not likely to get the nomination without opposition.

TOO RIPE FOR MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

The general belief is that none of our municipalities is sufficiently free from grafters to assume any large measure of municipal ownership. Cities may conduct water works and even lighting plants, but when it comes to running a street railway the disinterested honesty so conspicuous in the city of Glasgow, Scotland, is lacking. It is lacking in Chicago, in New York and in the majority of our large cities, while in this respect some of the small cities vie with the larger. In this, perhaps, we should make the saving remark that "Present company is excepted."

ARE BOSTON ALDERMEN CORRUPT?

If the charges made against certain Boston aldermen by one of their number be true then the board is a pretty corrupt body. It is up to the accused men to prove their innocence by bringing a charge of criminal libel against their accuser.

The privilege of the floor as a member does not give him the right to make a criminal charge unless he can prove it. If he can offer any proof not necessarily conclusive in support of his charge he will not be held amenable to punishment. If he honestly believed that money was used he had a right to say so in the interests of the public good.

THE CASE OF ASSISTANT SECRETARY LOOMIS.

Unfortunately for President Roosevelt the American people have refused to accept or approve his finding in the Bowen-Loomis controversy. So much damaging evidence has been brought out against Loomis on account of his open and indisputable use of his office to advance certain claims by which he himself would be enriched that he is convicted before the bar of public opinion.

The news of what the president had done in the case was a serious shock to Secretary Hay and may have hastened his end. The American people regard Bowen as an honest man and Loomis as a political trickster and high class grafter. He has imposed upon the president. The people are tired of Loomis and would like to see him retired to private life. If he had his deserts he would probably be in prison.

GREAT BOOM IN NICARAGUA.

The republic of Nicaragua has undergone a sudden spasm of development through the activity and enterprise of American capitalists who have gone down there and obtained all the franchise rights possible. They have secured a monopoly it is true but a monopoly of something which nobody wanted. To this they had a right and whether they should be allowed to retain all these franchise rights depends entirely upon what use they will make of them, whether they will use them for the benefit of the people or merely as a means of extorting money from the people.

As the Panama canal advances, this boom in Nicaragua will prove very valuable and in the race for prosperity little Nicaragua will outstrip all the other states with the exception of Panama.

THE FRESH DETECTIVE.

The following from the New Bedford Standard will meet the approval of all those who are acquainted with the fresh cop or the detective that is ready to violate the law in procuring evidence for his clients:

"Whether the man who killed a detective who was trying to force an entrance into his house is convicted of a crime or not, one thing is taught by the occurrence to officers of all sorts—and that is that it is just as well to obtain entrance to a house under the processes of the law. Many persons, and some officers, seem to have an idea that a policeman or a detective can go anywhere he chooses at any time he chooses and under any circumstances that he chooses; but the truth is that his power in that direction is limited by the law, and that he has no right to go beyond the limitation. Of course, householders would better be exceedingly careful before they shoot, for shooting is not allowed under all circumstances, and they would be apt to be very sorry unless the need for shooting were well established."

In the case referred to it appears that the detectives rang the bell and as soon as the door was opened, pushed past the owner to make his way inside for what purpose the owner had no means of knowing. The intent might be robbery or murder and yet the man who shot the detective under such circumstances is held in jail awaiting the grand jury. No grand jury will indict him if the facts are as they were reported in the newspapers.

SEEN AND HEARD

One of the after dinner stories floating about the Hamptons, apropos of Cardinal Gibbons's visit, relates to a colored girl who once had a place in the Cardinal's household in Baltimore. "She came to me," said the woman who told the story, "with a most flattering letter of recommendation. I held her off until I got into communication with another member of the rectory service.

"'Malindy was a fine girl, all right,' was the response I heard, 'and we couldn't find much fault with her. But you see we had to let her go, for, do what we would, we couldn't keep her, when she wanted to rig herself up in extra style, from wearing the Cardinal's red silk stockings.'"

"I beat a pawnbroker out of $1 the other day," said a traveling man at an uptown hotel. "I can only explain my luck by the fact that I wasn't broke and didn't need the money. I went with a friend to hock his watch, a $160 affair, on which he got $10. I had bought a watch for $16 to carry on the road. It kept time and looked pretty good, so I asked 'uncle' what I could have on it. He glanced at the works and the case and said: 'Not more'n twenty.' I traded that ticker for a yellowback then and there. No, I don't think I'll redeem it."

"I have been in many cities, but in none have I seen so many broken down public clocks as in New York," said a traveling salesman. "It seems that every other clock is out of order. The hands of a clock in front of a bank in Third avenue have pointed to 3.16 for four years. Another clock, in Forty-second street, has been out of order for three years. It seems to be the rule that when a public clock gets out of order it is never repaired."

In the office of a local hostelry there lives a parrot and he is a very talkative fellow. A woman from a charitable institution called at the hotel the other day in search of money to help the good work along. There was a practical joker in the office when she called and he said to her: "You can have that parrot if you want him. He talks so much that we are sick and tired of him." The girl said she would send a man around for the parrot in the morning. Sure enough the very next morning brought a great big strapping fellow to the hotel. He entered the office where the proprietor was sitting. "I suppose this is my parrot?" Not if I know it," said the proprietor. "I was sent after him," said the visitor. "You will have to came again," said the proprietor. "I am very fond of that bird and wouldn't sell him for love or money." "Oh, very well," said the man and then he told the story of the evening before. The proprietor laughed and told him it was a joke. "I'd like to get next to the fellow that sprung the joke," said the big fellow as he walked away.

One of the best things that I have heard for a long time was related to me by one of Lowell's most genial clerks. It is as follows, and he vouches for its veracity—"Do you wonder I am prosperous?—Well just look at the wife I have. Yes, she is pretty but that is not it. Why last Saturday she went over to the market and bought a soup bone for 3 cents. Sunday this bone fed seven of us and Monday morning she sold the bone to the soup man for a five-cent cake of soap. Do you wonder now?"

"If women knew how much it adds to their popularity all of them would learn to swim well," said the seaside hotel clerk. "The nearer a woman comes to being a mermaid the better the men like her and the more invitations she gets to go bathing and boating. The girl who clings and squeals in the surf is all very well for once, but for steady company a man wants a woman who can swim and take care of herself. Men like to see a woman let down her hair, dive into the briny head first, and disport herself with grace and freedom. Then there are men who hesitate to take a woman bathing or boating if she cannot swim, for fear she might be drowned. It isn't pleasant to have on your mind for life the fact that you failed to rescue from the sea a girl who went out as your guest."

Visitors who went aboard the battleships in the harbor recently noted the unaccustomed absence of all small arms in the seamen's quarters, where usually there are racks full of guns and swords. A sailor from the Kentucky explained this condition by saying that although there was no danger of a mutiny on any United States warship, the officers always had to consider the possibility of such a condition and prepare for it. The successful mutiny of the Russian sailors on the Kniaz Potemkin had been an eye opener to naval officers, the sailor said, and at once all small arms had been removed from reach of the sailors.

"Did you ever figure on yourself as a thing to be mapped?" asked an inquiring citizen. "I have been studying the thing up recently and there are so many maps of me that I feel all mixed up with Mercator's north poles and equators, tropics, zones and meridian lines. To begin with, there is the city map in the directory, that shows the street I live on. Then the building department has a map of me which shows that I live in a four-story brown stone with four poles in the back yard for the clothes line. The tax department has another map showing what I only wish I was worth. The department of education map records the number of my children and makes it convenient in case any of them play hookey. The health department records inexorably the mumps and scarlet fever in my household. The rector of the parish has a sketch map recording the results of his reconnaissance of me. But the most complete map of me seems to belong to the insurance agent. That keeps pretty near all the information of all the other maps with some wrinkles of its own, the distance from the nearest hydrants and the nature of the roof over my head. With all these maps I should easily be found by a trained explorer."

FIRE IN AYER

THE HAZZARD HOUSE BURNED TO THE GROUND.

Fire broke out in the house of William Hazzard near the Willows station Monday afternoon it being supposed that the fire was caused by a spark from a passing locomotive. The building was burned to the ground.

As soon as the news of the fire reached the neighbors they ran to the Hazzard house to assist in staying the flames, but the fire got such a start and owing to the fact that the only available water was in a well some distance from the house little or nothing could be done to stay the flames.

The neighbors however succeeded in saving a good portion of the furniture. The house had been the residence of the Hazzard family for over forty years.

Mrs. Sarah J. Stone Fletcher died at her home in East Main street early Sunday morning after an illness of several months. She leaves one son, who resides in Melrose.

Mrs. Annie Clark Cotton died in Roxbury Friday night of apoplexy and was brought to Ayer for interment, which took place Sunday afternoon in St. Mary's cemetery.

The electric road is rapidly progressing. At Flanagan's pond loads of sand are being filled in and also at the La Point side. Mr. Louis La Pointe gives his land free to the use of the road, and as his territory extends one-half a mile, it is a considerable gift, and greatly appreciated by the town. There have been settlements of the financial part of it with the farmers and confidence is established.

TO MRS WHITE IN FALLING DOWN STAIRS.

Magdalene Elder White, wife of William White, an old and highly respected resident of Graniteville died at her home in Cross street, Monday, aged 69 years and seven months. The deceased sustained a severe injury by falling down a flight of stairs about ten weeks ago and though the injuries which she sustained were considered fatal at the time all that was possible in the line of medical skill was brought to bear but without avail.

Besides a husband she leaves five children, William White, jr., who resides in Mexico, Mrs. Chas. W. Wright of Westford, Mrs. Fred Bennett, Mrs. Frank Edwards of West Chelmsford, Henry White of Everett and several grandchildren. The funeral will be held at the house Wednesday, Aug. 9th at 2 p. m. Rev. Alfred Woods, a former pastor of the M. E. church, will officiate, assisted by Rev. W. E. Anderson the present pastor.

HAD BEEN ASKED TO GO CANOEING.

LAWRENCE, Aug. 9.—After meeting two young men who asked them to go canoeing, two 16-year-old girls are missing. They are Rose Fraiz of Andover and her chum, Mamie Pendergast of Methuen.

With the latter's sister and another girl, Sunday, they went to Glen Forest. At 6 o'clock the sister and the other girl started for home, leaving the two missing girls talking to the young men, one of whom is said to be Joseph Carroll of Prospect Hill. That is the last seen of them.

COGGESHALL LOT

Will be Purchased For School Purposes

The committee on education and a part of the committee on lands and buildings visited the Lyon street school yesterday, for the purpose of viewing the old Coggeshall estate in the rear of the school, the purchase of which is contemplated for an annex, a loan of $1500 for an annex having passed the city council.

On the Coggeshall land, now owned by Mrs. Gormley, is a house that might readily be converted into a temporary school.

Supt. O'Connor said that the annex might be built behind the school at a cost of $1800, but the children would be deprived of nearly all their playground. Moreover, Supt. O'Connor stated that it would be impossible to complete the annex by the coming school term for the reason that it will be impossible to get the lumber and the men to work on time.

In the evening the committees met at city hall and heard Joseph H. Gormley, representing the owners of the Coggeshall property.

Mr. Gormley when asked the price of the property said: "The building is a double house, and it is for sale for $5200. We have always figured that it was worth $7000, though it is assessed for $3750. We have been offered $5500 for the property. In my opinion the building would be suitable for a temporary school. It is heated by a new furnace. There is every convenience of a modern house."

Alderman Walker said it would be possible to obtain a loan of $3400 for the property, which, with $1800 already obtained for an annex would make up the $5200.

"There's a building that could readily be converted into a temporary school for perhaps three or four years," said Alderman Walker, "and at the end of that time, the city could build a permanent school."

Alderman Allen moved that the committee recommend the purchase of the property at $5200, and that the clerk be instructed to frame an order to that effect. The $1800 order now pending before the mayor could then be withdrawn or otherwise put out of commission. It was so voted.

A petition signed by numerous residents of the Highlands that the city buy land owned by Nancy M. Lang in Midland street at a cost of $2200 was read by Clerk Dowling. The petition stated that the residents of the Midland street district needed a school very badly. Councilman Baldwin said there were children attending the Highland school who had to carry their dinners, and he hoped that the city would buy the land in question at the assessed value. Alderman Allen was in doubt as to the wisdom of buying at the present time. Upon motion of Councilman Baldwin, the committee voted to recommend a loan order for $2200, the assessed value of the land needed.

Against Evans the Alleged Murderen

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Yesterday afternoon Lieutenant Carter and Inspector Damery of the Somerville police searched the home of Joseph Evans, who is now in East Cambridge awaiting trial on the charge of murdering George L. Frazer, a private detective, and took from the house at 31 Moore street, West Somerville, several articles of furniture which were alleged to have been stolen property.

The search warrant was sworn out yesterday morning by John Nolan, who claimed that he occupied a tenement in the same house in which Evans lived at 11 Cameron avenue, West Somerville, last June.

Mr. Nolan described the articles in his complaint and they were found in Evans' home when the searching officers went through it.

A week ago last night Evans was taken into custody at his home after he had shot and killed Detective Frazer, who was employed by Allan J. Barber of Woonsocket, R. I. Barber's wife for nearly a year had been acting as Evans' housekeeper.

Mr. Nolan's appearance at the station house yesterday morning considerably surprised the officers. He said that he had a suspicion that several articles of furniture which had been stored in an attic at his home, 11 Cameron avenue, and which were found to be missing when Evans moved, might be found in Evans' home on Moore street.

The warrant was granted, and Mr. Nolan accompanied the two officers on their trip.

Little Chap Killed by a Train

BENNINGTON, Vt., Aug. 9.—The killing by a train of Johnnie Sweet, the 9-year-old son of Jerry Sweet, at Shushan, N. Y., just over the state line, has brought out a painful story of the little lad's life, which has caused some even to surmise that he committed suicide. Great indignation is expressed by the residents, who pitied and liked the little fellow.

They say that his mother deserted him while he was a baby, having for months before been stupefied by intoxicants. His hair floated in curls, which were frequently used to torture him by his schoolmates, and his father often inflicted punishment so severe that the incensed neighbors were obliged to interfere to protect the boy. For a couple of years he cooked the meals, carrying the water necessary, for quite a distance.

The morning of his death he was up at 4 o'clock, got the breakfast, and at 6.30 left to go berrying, being threatened by his father with punishment if he came home with his pails unfilled. The morning was wet and cold, there were no berries, and putting down his pails, the little fellow went to the railroad to sit down and rest, it being a better place than the wet damp ground. The autopsy showed that his breakfast had been scant.

When first seen by the engineer, he lay inside the rails, sound asleep, with a tin pail by his side. The train was too close for the engineer to stop it and it passed over the boy, cutting him completely in two. An elder brother left home years ago, and it is believed that Johnnie intended to go also, as he frequently said, "Some day papa will come home and not find any little boy."

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Division 11, A. O. H., was held last night with President Kinsella in the chair. Six new members were initiated and several applications for membership were received. Great interest is manifested in the 33d anniversary of this division which is to be held on the 27th of September. A membership contest is in progress and the member bringing in the largest number of new members between now and the first of the new year will be given a fine prize.

LOWELL LODGE OF ELKS.

The regular meeting of Lowell lodge, B. P. O. Elks was held at Elks hall in Middle street, there being a large attendance of members. The committee appointed to prepare resolutions on the death of their late trustee, August Fels, presented the resolutions and they were read by Secretary Boucher and a copy was ordered to be sent to the family of the deceased.

Brother Frank Scott was elected a trustee to fill the unexpired term caused by the death of Brother Fels. Past Exalted Ruler Charles Fredericks presided at the election.

During the summer months few meetings are held and many brothers expressed their sorrow for Brother Fels' death.

An outing of the Elks will be held Thursday, Aug. 31, to take place at Crystal lake ice grounds, North Chelmsford, and the following committee was appointed: General committee, William S. Grady chairman, Michael J. Markham, secretary; Charles H. Molloy, treasurer; Thomas E. Boucher, associate secretary.

Printing committee, Dr. A. E. A. McCann, William F. Senter, T. E. Boucher.

L'ASSOCIATION CATHOLIQUE.

The regular weekly meeting of L'Association Catholique was held last night in the hall in Pawtucket street. The meeting was well attended and routine business was transacted. Two applications for membership were received during the evening.

Vice President Henri Achin presided, owing to the absence of President Pierre J. Legare, who is visiting relatives and friends in Canada with his brother, Joseph A. Legare. The members adjourned shortly before 10 o'clock.

BOY KILLED

HE PROBABLY FELL FROM THE SEVENTH FLOOR.

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Albert Crossman, 14 years old, was killed yesterday morning shortly after 10 o'clock by falling down a freight elevator well in the rear of the building 387 Washington street. No one saw the accident or heard any cry, so that it is presumed that he fell from the seventh floor to the basement.

The boy had gone to work only yesterday for the New England Stamp company which has an office on the seventh floor. The regular boy who works for the company had to go to the hospital, so he sent the Crossman lad to take his place.

JENNIE SPAULDING

EVIDENTLY REFUSED TO GO TO MAYNARD.

Charles W. Thurston of Leverett street was at the depot when Morris and the woman went there from the restaurant. Mr. Thurston tells the following story:

"I noticed the couple right after the Ayer Junction train left at 5.01. I was talking with a fellow on the train and as soon as the train pulled out I noticed the man and the woman talking very earnestly near the rotunda on the west platform of the station. They were both well dressed and seemed to be having a very hot argument. I thought the fellow was accusing her of something and that she was denying it, as she shook her head and seemed to be saying no at different intervals.

"I could hear very little, however, except the word 'you.' After a little time he seemed to be pleading with her, but she assumed what appeared to me to be an overbearing attitude.

"I heard him say, 'Why didn't you take that train?' but I didn't catch her reply. I had been watching them twelve or fifteen minutes when I heard the woman exclaim 'My God, you won't!' and with that she ran through the door into the waiting room. I did not even then divine his intention, and probably would not have thought any more of it if I hadn't heard the shots an instant later."

THE MURDERER

WOULD GIVE $1000 FOR CHANCE TO SUICIDE.

Morris wants to die. After tearing at the flesh on his hand in his cell at the police station he said he would give the thousand dollars that was found in his possession when arrested for an opportunity to commit suicide.

"I would like to end it all.

"If I had only known what I was doing when I shot Jennie I would have saved one for myself. I thought there was another cartridge in the chamber.

"There is no use of my living. I have killed her and was not in my right mind when I did it."

"Do you know George?" asked Capt. Kew.

"Yes, indeed," was the reply. "I worked with him for a long time, and always found him a good fellow. He had only one bad point—he would crook his elbow.

"I just want to say goodby," he pleaded," but he was not allowed to see the prisoner.

REAL REASON

OF SHOOTING THE WOMAN REFUSED TO GO TO MAYNARD.

When Jennie Spaulding left her home in North Chelmsford yesterday she intended to go to Maynard with Morris. She told her friends so and it was the saloon scene that changed her mind.

She knew that the girl was an old sweetheart of Morris'. She had seen them together in North Chelmsford and other places and she was jealous. While she might have feared Morris, those who knew her well say she loved him and there is little doubt but that she would have accompanied him to Maynard but for the kisses that were exchanged in the saloon.

MORRIS' THREAT

TO KILL THE SPAULDING WOMAN.

Mrs. William Davy, sister of the murdered woman, was seen by a representative of The Sun at her home in North Chelmsford last evening. She was deeply affected by the tragdy. She said:

"Morris had threatened to kill my sister before. My sister was a kind woman but she was afraid of Morris. She lived with him because she was afraid to leave him. He had told her many times that he would kill her. He is a bad man and has a frightful temper. I hope he will get his just deserts."

A man who lives in North Chelmsford and who was very well acquainted with Morris and the Spaulding woman, said:

"She was out early yesterday morning, and accompanied by Morris followed me down the street. I was out at 6.15 myself and on my way to work. I noticed the two and wondered why they were around at such an early hour.

"Mrs. Spaulding has been out of town for a long time," he continued. This man and other neighbors spoke of the dead woman as Mrs. Spaulding and failed each time to call her Mrs. Morris.

"During the last two weeks she has been moving about, and the man who murdered her was with her. I have seen them in and out of the house several times. Previously she rented the house to a family living now on the Groton road. At that time she occupied one room.

"She was a generous woman and gave money to the children in the neighborhood with a free hand. Many kind acts endeared her to the neighbors. But notwithstanding this, it was rumored about that she was inclined to be fast. I knew that she drank."

MRS. WHITE

DESCRIBES THE MURDER SCENE AT DEPOT.

Mrs. Margaret White of 18 Grand street was in the waiting room when the shooting occured. Her story of the tragedy is as follows:

GEORGE F. MORRIS, THE MURDERER, AS HE APPEARED IN POLICE COURT THIS MORNING.

"I was sitting in the waiting room shortly after five o'clock when my attention was attracted to a man and woman who were talking in an excited manner. The man did the most talking. They were talking when they came along, and continued to talk in the doorway for about five minutes. Finally the man went away, and the woman entered the depot and took a seat opposite me, about seven feet away.

"She had been sitting there about five minutes when I noticed a man come in from the street. He appeared slightly intoxicated; his face was flushed with anger. The woman opposite me didn't notice his approach. When he was about two feet away from her he sprang forward, and fired one shot. I think it struck the woman, but she arose and running about ten feet fell.

"Help me!" she cried, and was about to sink exhausted to the floor when the man who had followed her after firing the shot ran up in back of her, grabbed her by the throat with one hand and fired three shots in quick succession, and when I saw him coming towards me with the revolver, I turned in another direction and went outside.

"I think the couple had been to supper for the man was chewing on a toothpick, and the more angry he got the fiercer he chewed on the toothpick. After he fired the first shot there were very few people in the room. Everyone, men and women ran away, and there were but few present when he fired the three other shots except myself and the young lady at the telephone desk."

CHARLES SCHLOSS ON SCENE.

One of the first men on the scene was Charles Schloss, employed at the Globe hotel, and he reached the murderer as Lieutenant Webster came in and grabbed him. Mr. Schloss said: "I was standing outside the depot with Mr. John Douglas when I heard the shots and I ran inside just in time to see Morris making for the door. When caught he said: "For ——— do n't choke me. Finish me if you want to but don't choke me."

DEAD WOMAN

SKETCH OF HER DOWNWARD CAREER.

The history of the dead woman, Mrs. Jennie A. Spaulding nee McNaughton, is one of depravity, an uncontrollable thirst for drink and attractions other than those which would fittingly become a married woman and the wife of a good man. Despite the fact that the deceased woman had a good home several years ago, was brought up in an honest, upright and Christian manner, the falling in with bad company and the gradual straying from the path of the honest and virtuous led up to her horrible ending. It is another illustration of the old adage, facilis descensus averno.

The deceased with her parents had immigrated to this country from Scotland, where she was born, arriving here a mere child. The family after arriving in this country settled in Tyngsboro and it was in that quiet little town that Jennie and her sisters were brought up. She received a common school education, but the teachings she received at home were such to make her dread the path which she afterwards trod.

After leaving school she went to work in a mill in Graniteville. It was while working in this mill that she met Fred Spaulding, her future husband. She was 22 years of age at this time and just 14 years ago, when, after a courtship that promised a happy future for both, she and Fred Spaulding were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Rowley of Westford.

Spaulding had been a hard working man and had managed to save quite a little money in anticipation of his marriage, and built a dwelling house in Canal street, North Chelmsford, which was ready for occupancy when the marriage took place.

At the outset everything was propitious. Love reigned over the household. For two short years only did these conditions continue, and then Spaulding discovered that his wife had become addicted to the use of intoxicating liquor and was becoming a frequent visitor to Westford, where she secured the drink. He talked and reasoned with her, and although he extracted promises of better behavior from her, conditions grew worse in-

CHILDREN'S DAY AT LAKEVIEW.

Next Thursday at Lakeview park will be children's day, and plans are being made to entertain a host of little ones on that date.

Every year these children's days have proved immensely popular with the small tots as well as the mothers, who find it a good opportunity to make the day one for a picnic in which the entire family takes part.

Children will be admitted to the afternoon performance in the theatre. Special features will be introduced in the show just for the entertainment of the youngsters.

After the performance is over there will be a grand exhibition of day fireworks. This is going to be a spectacle worth witnessing. The bombs burst high in the air, displaying figures which float through the atmosphere, gradually falling to the earth. The figures are captured by those in the park, for they land all over the place.

CRUEL MURDER

stead of better as time went on. Finally Spaulding learned that his wife was associating with other men. Under these unpleasant conditions he housed and provided for her for seven long years, and then, utterly discouraged, he left her, took up quarters at the Richardson hotel in Lowell and started divorce proceedings, retaining Fred A. Fisher, Esq., as counsel. An absolute divorce was granted to Mr. Spaulding a year ago last November, but the courts at that time decreed that Mrs. Spaulding could not marry again for a period of two years.

Soon after this Spaulding left his home in North Chelmsford and refused to provide for his wife. She then secured employment in the Shirreff worsted mill, which then occupied one of the floors of the Moore mills of North Chelmsford. Morris was employed in this place as a loomfixer, having come there from Laconia some time before the Spaulding woman started to work there.

The two became acquainted and as time went on became very intimate. Morris had been boarding at Scribner's boarding house for several months, but after becoming intimate with the Spaulding woman he removed and went to the Spaulding house, which was left to Mrs. Spaulding completely furnished at the time that her husband secured the divorce.

MAGGIE BURKE, WHO KISSED MORRIS AND AROUSED THE DEAD WOMAN'S JEALOUSY.

Prior to Morris taking up his abode at the Spaulding house the lower section of the house had been rented, while Mrs. Spaulding retained a few rooms on the second floor for herself. It was in one of the rooms on the second floor that Morris lodged for several months. Last April the Shirreff company removed its plant to Fitchburg and Mrs. Spaulding lost her employment. Morris had the opportunity of retaining his position and going to Fitchburg with the company, which he did. It was only temporarily, however, and in a few weeks he was back in North Chelmsford, living again at the Spaulding house.

So far as can be learned neither has worked since that time, but Morris always seemed to have a plentiful supply of money.

COUPLE MARRIED IN LAWRENCE.

Last June, however, the Morris man prevailed upon the woman to marry him and they went to Lawrence where a marriage license was secured at the office of the city clerk in that city and the marriage was performed by Duncan Woods, a justice of the peace.

Both claimed to have been married, and when they returned to North Chelmsford notice was given to the tenant occupying the lower part of the house to vacate as they intended to go housekeeping.

A few weeks later the tenement was vacated and the couple lived alone in the house. As neither of them was doing any work and time hung heavily on their hands, Morris started to drink and the woman joined him in his carousals. Fights were frequent between the couple and the neighbors in the vicinity became disgusted with the condition of affairs, but made no effort to have the trouble stopped. It was common report that the condition of affairs at the house was anything but harmonious.

Things went on in this manner for sometime when Morris suggested to his wife that the property be turned over to him; but the woman refused to do this, and whenever Morris broached the subject there was a fight. On one occasion when Morris attempted to have the woman sign the house over to him he beat her in such a manner that it was sometime before she appeared in public.

MORRIS ABUSED HER.

After receiving the beating she left the house and remained away for several days, but finally went back, but the relations between the two were never the same after that fight for quarrels were more numerous.

Early last week, when, it is understood, Morris was intoxicated, the transfer of the property was again suggested to Mrs. Spaulding and again she refused point blank. Morris then threatened to kill her unless she did as he ordered.

The following day the differences were cast aside, and according to the story told last night, the two went on a trip to New York, visiting Coney Island and other places, and Morris spent his money lavishly. It is not known when they returned home, but there were no indications of any trouble between them since they were notified about the place Monday.

During the past few weeks Morris has been making efforts to secure employment at his trade, and finally on Monday last he received word from Maynard that there was employment awaiting him there in the plant of the American Woolen company. He decided to accept the position, and told the woman that she must accompany him.

The plan seemed agreeable and both packed up a few of their belongings and came to Lowell on the four o'clock car yesterday afternoon, presumably with the intention of going to Maynard. Prior to coming to town they paid a visit at the post office in North Chelmsford to see if there was any mail for them.

After leaving the car in Middlesex street they entered a saloon where several drinks were bought and in which place the trouble culminated which caused the tragedy at the depot.

TWICE MARRIED

Morris Has Wife in Laconia, N. H.

George F. Morris lived in Laconia, N. H., with his wife, who, before marriage, was Miss Ida M. Brough of Putneyville, Vt., for several years, but left there about four years ago. Since then he has endeavored a number of times to see his wife and was there on August 2, but Mrs. Morris steadfastly refused to leave her sister, with whom she had made her home since her husband left her. Mrs. Morris has her 18-year-old daughter with her.

Morris is 47 years old and a machinist by trade, but during the past few years he has roamed about New England considerably and has not remained in any place for more than a few months.

A ROYAL SALUTE

King Edward Reviews Combined Fleets

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Aug. 9.—King Edward celebrated the anniversary of his coronation today by reviewing the combined French and British fleets, aggregating some 70 ships. The event was somewhat marred by gloomy and showery weather, but the enthusiasm of the vast crowds occupying every vantage point ashore and afloat, was undiminished.

The royal yacht Victoria and Albert, followed by a few privileged yachts, slowly passed down the lines of the fleets. As King Edward approached the French and British flagships, the firing of a royal salute began and the entire combined fleets joined in a saluto of 11 guns.

After the review the Victoria and Albert returned to her moorings. Later the king proceeded to the battleship Massena, the French flagship, where he was the guest of Vice Admiral Caillard at luncheon. The prince of Wales and the duke of Connaught accompanied his majesty.

informed she became badly frightened and informed the police that she was in no way responsible. She said that she knew Morris through knowing the Spaulding woman, but that she had only met him a few times. She admitted that they were in the South street saloon drinking yesterday and that she sat in his lap and kissed him there. She said that the other woman did not seem to mind it. When taken into court this morning she was deadly pale and trembled like a leaf, her nerves being totally unstrung as the result of drinking and her intense fear. She pleaded guilty of second offence of drunkenness and stated to Lieut. Donaldson that she was with Morris and the woman only a short time and then went out to Lakeview, where she remained until the last car. Judge Pickman asked her several questions and then sentenced her to jail for two months.

Upon hearing the sentence she threw herself into the arms of Probation Officer Slattery and wept hysterically. She threw herself into a seat and covering her face with her hands sobbed and cried: "Don't send me there." She was gently raised to her feet and asked to accompany the officer downstairs, but her limbs refused to move and she fell back half-fainting into the arms of Officer Breault who led her down stairs to the cell. When arrested this morning she cried as she was being booked and Morris who recognized her voice in his cell cried out to Officer Bigelow who was keeping guard over him, "That's the woman who caused this trouble. She was with me in the saloon." When she was led into the cell room a few moments later he got a glimpse at her as she passed and again cried out: "That's the woman who caused the trouble."

SENT FOR HIS WIFE.

Morris this morning requested Supt. Moffatt to send for his wife whom he deserted in Laconia, N. H., intimating that he wanted her to get the money which he had with him when arrested. Supt. Moffatt immediately sent word to Laconia and the woman is expected here tonight. Morris stated to Supt. Moffatt that when he married the Spaulding woman he did not know whether or not his wife was alive as he had not lived with her for six years up to that time. A dispatch from Laconia stated that he called on his wife at her home recently while he stated that he had been there within a short time which would indicate that he had entertained the intention of abandoning the Spaulding woman and returning to his legal wife if she would consent to take him back, but being unable to induce her to live with him again returned to his paramour. From statements made as to their quarrels it would also appear that the Spaulding woman suspected that he was about to return to his wife and the theory that he intended to go away somewhere suddenly is strengthened by the fact that he had been carrying over $1000 around with him for some time.

LIGHT SENTENCES

AT TODAY'S SESSION OF POLICE COURT.

Benjamin L. Jones was arrested this morning by Inspector Maher and Officer Geroux on suspicion of larceny from Louis Talbot. He will be arraigned tomorrow.

Inspector Maher and Officer Breault arrested Bartholomew O'Neil charged with larceny and in court today he got a month in jail.

James McFadden and Thomas Kennedy "stepped out" from Mrs. Shepard's boarding house and were arrested for illegally removing baggage. They were placed on probation for two months and in that time must settle with the landlady.

Extra chairs were necessary in police court this morning while outside all the windows in the Carpet mills that looked into the police court, were crowded with spectators at 10 o'clock, all desiring to get a glimpse at the man charged with murder.

HO! FOR THE BEACH.

Ho! for the beach, the Irish League picnic, at Revere tomorrow. Cars leave Merrimack square at 7.30 a. m.; leave beach 7 p. m. $30 worth of tickets and beach privileges for all who take the trip and get society badges on the cars.

Tickets are for sale at Miss Markham's 324 Central st., and Murphy's, 18 Appleton also at Railway office and on the cars.

DEATHS

COWHIG—John Cowhig, an old resident of this city and a much esteemed member of St. Patrick's parish, died last evening at his home, 98 School street, after a short illness, aged 71. He leaves one son, Brother Norber of the Xaverian Brothers, and one daughter, Mary, the well known bookkeeper in Gilbride's store.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon from his residence at 2.30 o'clock. There will be a high mass of requiem for the repose of the soul of the deceased at St. Patrick's church Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

GHURCH WEDDING

Philadelphia Man Takes Lowell Bride

Mr. John Buckley, a well known electrician of Philadelphia, and Miss Elizabeth Lynch, a popular lady of St. Peter's parish, were united in marriage at St. Peter's church this morning. A nuptial high mass was celebrated by Rev. Michael Ronan, pastor of the church.

The entrance to the church was accompanied and Miss Lynch entered the church on the arm of her brother, Michael E. Lynch who gave her away. Shortly after the bride entered the groom came from the vestry and met her at the sanctuary rail.

As the bridal party entered the church the organist played Lohengrin's wedding march and during the service the choir which was augmented for the occasion, sang appropriate selections.

The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Fr. Ronan, and George and John Lee were the altar boys in attendance. Thomas Gentry was master of ceremonies. The bride was becomingly attired in white crepe de chene with a white taffta under dress, trimmed with lace. The veil was caught in the diamond engagement ring which the bride wore.

The bride was attended by Miss Marietta Lee, who wore a pink Japanese silk dress, accordion plaited with a sunburst effect. The groom was attended by Mr. Michael E. Lynch.

As the happy couple were leaving the church Mendelsohn's wedding march was played.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckley left for the home of the bride, 20 Keene street, where a wedding reception was held. A dinner was served at noon there being a large attendance of relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckley will leave this evening for a wedding tour to Atlantic City and New York after which they will take up their residence at 21 Stiles street, Philadelphia.

FUNERALS

NEALON—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Nealon, took place this morning at 8.30 from her home 158 Market street and was largely attended by sorrowing friends and relatives. The cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church where at 9 o'clock a mass of requiem was celebrated, Rev. Fr. Gilday officiating. The choir under the direction of Michael J. Johnson, sang the Gregorian mass and during services appropriate selections were rendered by members of the choir. Mr. Johnson presiding at the organ. There was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes including a pillow inscribed "Mother" from the family; wreath from Kittie and Annie Barrett and Alice Slowey; pillow inscribed "At Rest" from Mary Hyer and Nellie Monahan; spray from Nellie McEvoy; spray from Lizzie Lee and spray from Stephen Lawton. The bearers were Robert Gookin, Thomas McCormick, James Farrell, Frank McMahon, James McMahon and James Barry. At the grave Rev. Fr. Gilday conducted the final obsequies, and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

LANDERS—The funeral of Thomas Landers took place yesterday morning from his late home, 27 Wamesit street. The body was sent to Wilton, N. H., on the 9.01 train and a funeral high mass was celebrated at the Sacred Heart church in that town at 10.30. Rev. Fr. Scott officiated. The choir sang Schmidt's mass and at the offertory Mrs. Lucas sang the "Pie Jesu." After the mass Mrs. Kane sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" and as the body was being borne from the church the choir sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee." There was a very large attendance of friends of the deceased and the church was well filled. There was a very beautiful floral piece, a standing cross on base from the Bigelow Carpet Co. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery. Undertaker John J. Higgins & Co. had charge.

SMALL POX

ANOTHER CASE FOUND ON LAKEVIEW AVENUE.

Blanche Soumes, aged 3, was taken from 32 Lakeview avenue today, to the small pox hospital. The child's mother accompanied her, as there is a large family other cases are likely to develop. The house has been quarantined by the board of health.

Saturday, August 12, 1905

ABSOLUTE SALE BY PUBLIC AUCTION OF A VERY PRETTY COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 3000 SQUARE FEET OF LAND, SITUATED AT NO. 54 HAMPSHIRE STREET. ALSO A LOT OF LAND CONTAINING ABOUT 9800 SQUARE FEET ON HILDRETH STREET.

Having reached an age where the care and responsibility of real estate is more than I wish to carry, I will pledge for absolute sale these two parcels to be sold on their respective premises, Saturday, Aug. 12, 1905, regardless of any condition of the weather.

At 3 O'Clock

The first parcel is a pretty and attractive little home, situated on the westerly side of Hampshire street, numbering 54 on said street. It is a modern house of seven rooms and bath, cemented cellar, best of sewerage, gas lighting, and has all the requisites for a perfect home property. To the reader of this notice, I want to say, as to the situation and beauty of this parcel, you will have to look upon it with your own eyes. The rooms are of good size and conveniently set apart; the building is in perfect repair, and sets on good, high, level land. The lot is about 3000 feet in area, with a frontage on the street of about 30 feet. I have it rented at the present time and it brings in a yearly rental of about $192. Now this is a perfect little home for someone, in a first class neighborhood, and I am determined to sell it to the highest bidder on that day set apart.

At 3.30 O'Clock

I will sell a lot of land containing about 9800 square feet situated on the easterly side of Hildreth street, about opposite the cemetery. The city at this point has grand elevation and the surroundings are very beautiful, many pretty homes having been built during the past six or seven years. The lot has a frontage of about 50 feet on Hildreth street; the extreme depth being over 300 feet.

Now one could so place buildings upon this lot, giving it a 10-foot avenue the entire length on one side and fronting the buildings on the avenue. This would allow the erection of four or five houses that would certainly rent to good advantage as there are not many idle tenements in this locality. The same conditions go with this parcel as with the first, being that I have absolutely pledged my word that I will sell to the highest bidder.

Terms of sale: $250 must be paid to the auctioneer as a deposit on the cottage on Hampshire street, as soon as it is struck off. The same must be done with $50 on the Hildreth street land.

Per Order, STEPHEN McMONAGLE.

Saturday, August 12, at 4.15 O'Clock

POSITIVE SALE BY PUBLIC AUCTION OF A TWO AND ONE-HALF STORY, TWO TENEMENT HOUSE AND ABOUT 2447 SQUARE FEET OF LAND, AT NO. 21 ROBINSON STREET.

Being a non-resident of your city, I have pledged this property to be publicly disposed of to the highest bidder. I have recently papered and painted the interior, putting it in very good shape. The house contains eight rooms, four with each tenement. They are of good size, conveniently laid out and for small families very desirable. The building is in very good repair and for the person who could look after it properly it will make a grand good investment on the purchase price. The lot contains about 2447 square feet of land and is situated at the corner of Robinson street and Robinson court. It has good elevation and a number of fruit trees, and has a frontage of about 40 feet on Robinson street and about 60 feet on Robinson court. Robinson street is a short street running westerly off Congress street, and this house numbers 21 on said street. Now I am determined to sell this propert, as I do not want the bother of travelling down here from Manchester in order to look after it.

Terms: $200 must be paid as a deposit to the auctioneer as soon as the property is struck off.

By Order of ELIZABETH M. DRISCOLL, Manchester, N. H.
